The word "Miegan" entitles a student to become a part of a unique society inside of our community. This year the theme of this society was involvement. Every student was encouraged to become a part of activities. This year in fact more opportunities were offered than ever before for students. The enlarged drama department, Student Congress, clubs, the Service Committee, and the retreat of all became the handiwork of Miegians. The athletic teams and the debate teams represented our uniqueness and displayed it to the community.

The Student Congress officers must be credited for their fantastic job this year. Everything attempted was achieved, not in a mediocre manner but in a superior manner. Faculty-student relations developed also this year. The modular scheduling enabled the faculty to give more individual attention to students.

Through the efforts of all students the goal of the year was achieved. Every member of our unique society left knowing he was an "Involved Miegan."

Principal Signifies Unity Within School

Father Sullivan smiles with satisfaction as successful year ends.

Encouraging free time activity, Father Sullivan mingles with students.

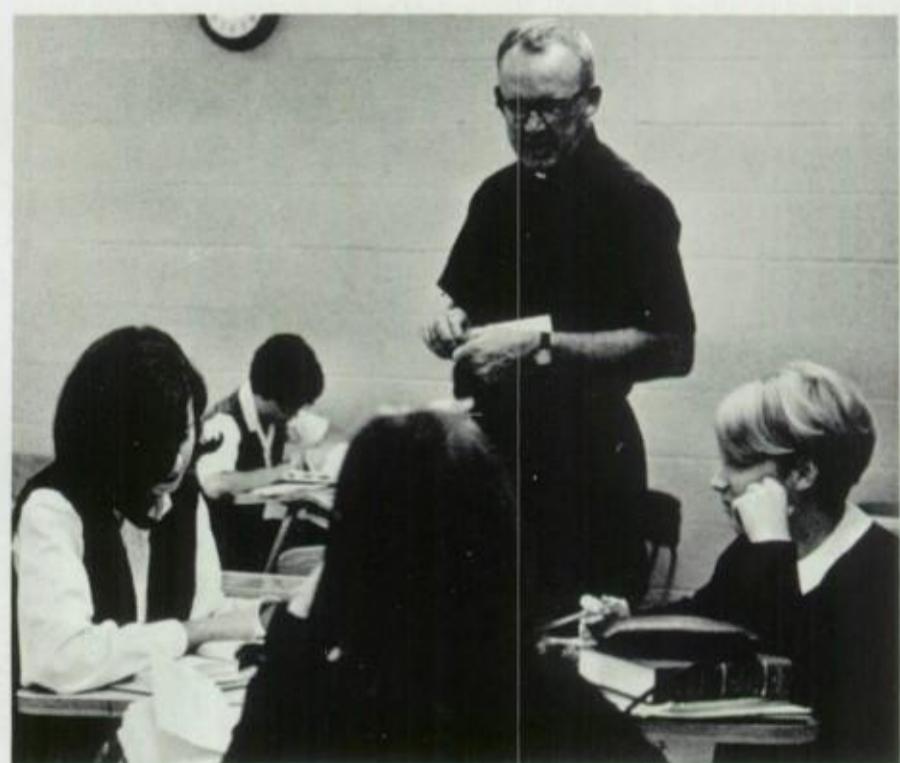

"The movement in the world of education is in the direction of discovering ways and means of liberating the student from meaningless structures, outmoded methods and irrelevant content," emphasized Father Sullivan.

This year we have undertaken a program that would give the faculty and students limited exposure to some new concepts in learning. Our main objective has been to develop in the faculty and the students those new skills and insights that are required to make effective use of the new concepts in education. Independent Study, Program Learning, Team Teaching, Flexible Scheduling, and Optional Class Attendance are just a few of the vocabulary of this new movement.

This year's schedule has been more flexible, allowing us to vary time schedule of classes-longer class periods, to make it possible to undertake and complete major projects.

This year distinguished more clearly the role of the teacher and the role of the learner in the pursuit of knowledge, by encouraging the student to accept a greater share of the responsibility for his own learning.

"What we have done this year is rather insignificant when compared with the changes that lie ahead, but if we have succeeded in building the foundation. . . we have begun."

Offering a Mass, Father's sermon supports the theme of "involvement."

Mr. Dalton extracts flaws from flexible curriculum.

The reaction of our Vice-Principals towards the success of 1967-1968 school year was overwhelmingly favorable. They felt that the successfulness was due to the enthusiasm of the student body. They added that this enthusiasm aided in the efficiency of the modular scheduling.

Mr. Patrick Dalton's duties consisted of the organization of all faculty records, inservice training of the teachers, curriculum consultant, and the supervisor of the audio-visual equipment. Mr. Robert Frazier's time was expended on the responsibilities of disciplinarian and surveillance director of the campus.

With the assistance of our two Vice-Principals, we conclude a successful year, with a more efficient school organization, student cooperation and the air of accomplishments.

Vice-Principals Instill Harmony

Counselors Motivate Student Achievements

Through the assistance of Sister Georgetta and Mr. Messina, the students of Bishop Miege experienced a less complicated year. Together they managed to keep information on careers, precise and up to date. Their aid proved helpful in solving unsettled problems of students.

When a student required information on tests, a record from their accumulative folder, or even an arbitrator, Sister Georgetta was available. Mr. Messina provided seniors with information concerning colleges, vocational training and scholarships.

The Guidance Department entered Miege in the Metropolitan Talent Search this year. This program was concerned with the student vocational and educational plans. It encouraged students to continue their education with help from certain financial aids.

Sister Faith Irene and Mrs. Meis were new members of the guidance staff and gave part of their time in counseling students.

Office Staff Proves To Be Indispensable

Mrs. Scofield is a valuable asset to Father Sullivan, as head of the office staff.

By handling all records and transcripts, Mrs. Koob proves to be of tremendous help to the guidance department.

Mrs. Gannon's time is occupied with the task of recording attendance records.

Students Search For The Living God

Fr. Spencer - Sophomores

Fr. Albertson - Seniors, Sophomores

Fr. Zawacki - Juniors

Fr. Burger - Seniors

To understand the human situation in which students live was the aim of the religion department this year. They assisted in the realization of an active God in everyday life.

Following the Catechetical Instructions given throughout the United States, religion grades were discontinued. This past year the upperclassmen searched for God. With the use of conscience formation they discovered the call of a here and now God. The sophomores and freshmen concentrated mainly on friendship and ecumenicism, learning how to apply these attributes to their daily lives.

Mrs. Wareham - English I, Composition

Miss Bichelmeyer - English I, English Literature

Mrs. Meis - English I, Composition, English II

The semester plan, which enabled the student to take his desired course in English from many offered, was continued this year in the English department. Although still in the experimental stage, it has proved a success and may have a permanent place in future scheduling.

New, more productive methods of teaching became available through the extensive use of machines. The oral approach to composition entitled the student to put more detail in their writing by listening to cartridge tape recorders, then expressing their thoughts on paper. The visual approach, using opaque projectors, allowed the student to criticize and evaluate his work by seeing it flashed on the screen.

Journalism, a course offered mainly to juniors, enabled students to take an English class designed to give a background for paper and yearbook staff.

A film program, produced by Encyclopedia Britannica, was added to help everyone learn with greater efficiency through the aid of audio-visual equipment.

Through the use of the various new methods in teaching English at Miege, the department succeeded in attaining desired goals for the year 1967-1968.

Mr. Murphy - English I, Composition

Mr. O'Connell - Contemporary Novels, Psychology, Logic.

Mr. Perry - Algebra I, Physics

Mr. Wingert - Math IV, Algebra, Calculus

Mr. Gannon - Geometry, Algebra II

Math Induces Inquisitive Mind

The math department this year was programmed with college students in mind. Comparatively, the program was the same as last year, with the added advantage of five full time teachers.

The use of machines was continued enabling students to better comprehend all material. Visiting lecturers also aided the students in a better understanding of math.

The math club consisted of fifteen members, with Mr. Wingert as the acting moderator. They participated in a contest at Creighton and various other events.

This year there was a thirteen state regional meeting in Kansas City Municipal Auditorium. Those attending acquired new knowledge of certain variations in the math department.

History Urges Civic Participation

Mr. King - American Government

The history department this year strived to put emphasis on contemporary affairs. To correspond with this effort, weekly magazines were purchased and class discussions revolved around current events. Understanding the forces affecting us in our social environment was a revolutionary step in all the history classes.

A great assistance to the history department was the access to all educational films from Encyclopedia Britannica. These films not only added variety to the history courses but contributed to the entire curriculum.

This year the school participated in a model general assembly at Emporia, Kansas. Bishop Miege represented the two countries of Jordan and Brazil. This meeting gave realistic insights on the policies and procedures of the United Nations.

Through this revolution, we have acquired a broader understanding of life.

Sister Martina - Biology I, Biology II, Physics

Exploring Known And Unknown - Major Concept In Science

Experimenting, probing, analysis and results were all integral parts of the science program this year. Five courses which included Biology I, Biology II, Physical Science, Chemistry and Physics were offered to students qualified to take the course.

Physical Science placed its emphasis on the qualitative aspects of science. A new book was used developing the principles and processes in physics, chemistry, earth and space sciences. This course enabled the student to receive a scientific background.

In Biology I, the major emphasis was for the student to learn the basic understanding of natural sciences. Sophomores were required to take this course.

Biology II, is a course which introduces the student to biological research. Colleges sent information on their science departments and informative lectures were attended by interested students.

Physics is a study of the fundamental science of the natural world. To understand and then venture to the unknown was the aim of this department.

Chemistry is a science that uses experimentation to determine facts about chemical reactions. A new scheduling this year, enabled the chemistry labs to be open to concerned students.

Mrs. Worley - Biology I

Students Acquire Linguistic Abilities

Sister Marie Therese - French I, French II, French III

Sister Angelica - Spanish II, Spanish III, World History

To understand, speak, read and write a foreign language was the goal of every language teacher. Through the aural-oral method, which is speaking and listening, they employed frequently the use of all audio-visual equipment. The language clubs received the advantage of speakers and outside activities.

In French classes, the learning of practical phrases aided students in becoming acquainted with the native customs, culture and people.

Latin is the format, or foundation for our modern language.

Spanish classes learned culture through songs and games.

Students Attain Useful Skills

Sister Rita - Personal Typing, Typing I

The art of typing, knowledge of shorthand and other various phases of a business career were supplied to the students of Miege, through the direction of Miss Murphy and Sister Rita. The material offered was largely college preparatory and not basically a vocational course.

The main change this year was in the transformation of the general business class to a business principles course. The secretarial science section of the business department participated with Ward in a course sponsored by Hunter College, for the overall improvement of methods used in all business courses.

Pupils Gain Creativeness Through Awareness

Miss Bichelmeyer - Drama, Speech, Debate

Creativeness through awareness was the basic principle conveyed to each student taking vocational and fine arts.

Art is awareness and appreciation of the things seen around us. In first year art, the basics of art were taught. In second year art the principles learned in first year were applied.

Drafting, woodworking and general shop are included under the heading--industrial arts. The use and care of drawing instruments was learned in drafting. In woodwork and general shop, the students learned the use of hand and power tools, and built furniture.

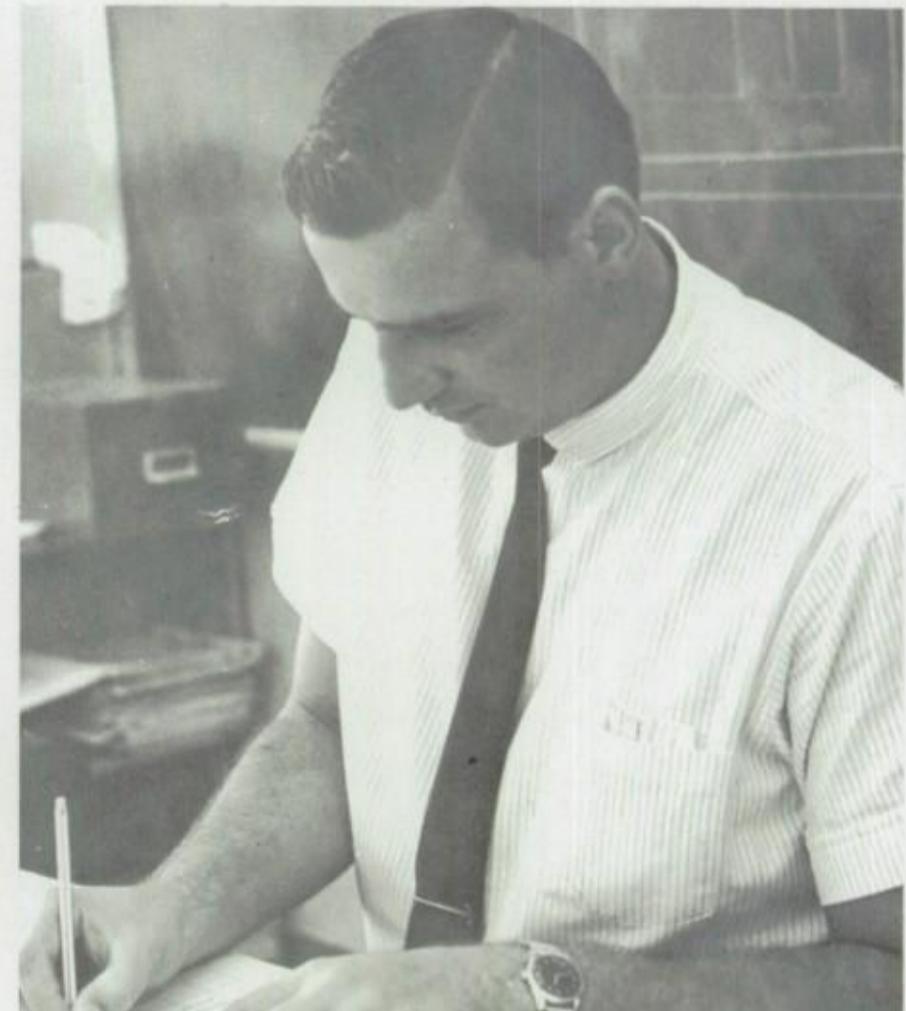

Physical Education had the extra advantage of new gymnastic equipment. Both classes, participated in many sports, plus a course in health.

Clothing placed its emphasis on style and color. Gourmet helped the students to cook creatively. Home-living was a combination of all home economics courses. Drama and speech aided students in the finding of hidden talents and learning how to speak correctly.

Under the direction of Mrs. Dennihan, the Choir, Girls Glee and other music groups had a very successful year.

Miss O'Neill - Art I, Art II, Art III, Fine Arts

Mr. Zimola - Drafting I, Shop, Woodworking, Drafting II, Drafting III, Drafting IV

Mrs. Schumacher - Physical Education

Mrs. Dennihan - Choir, Girl's Glee

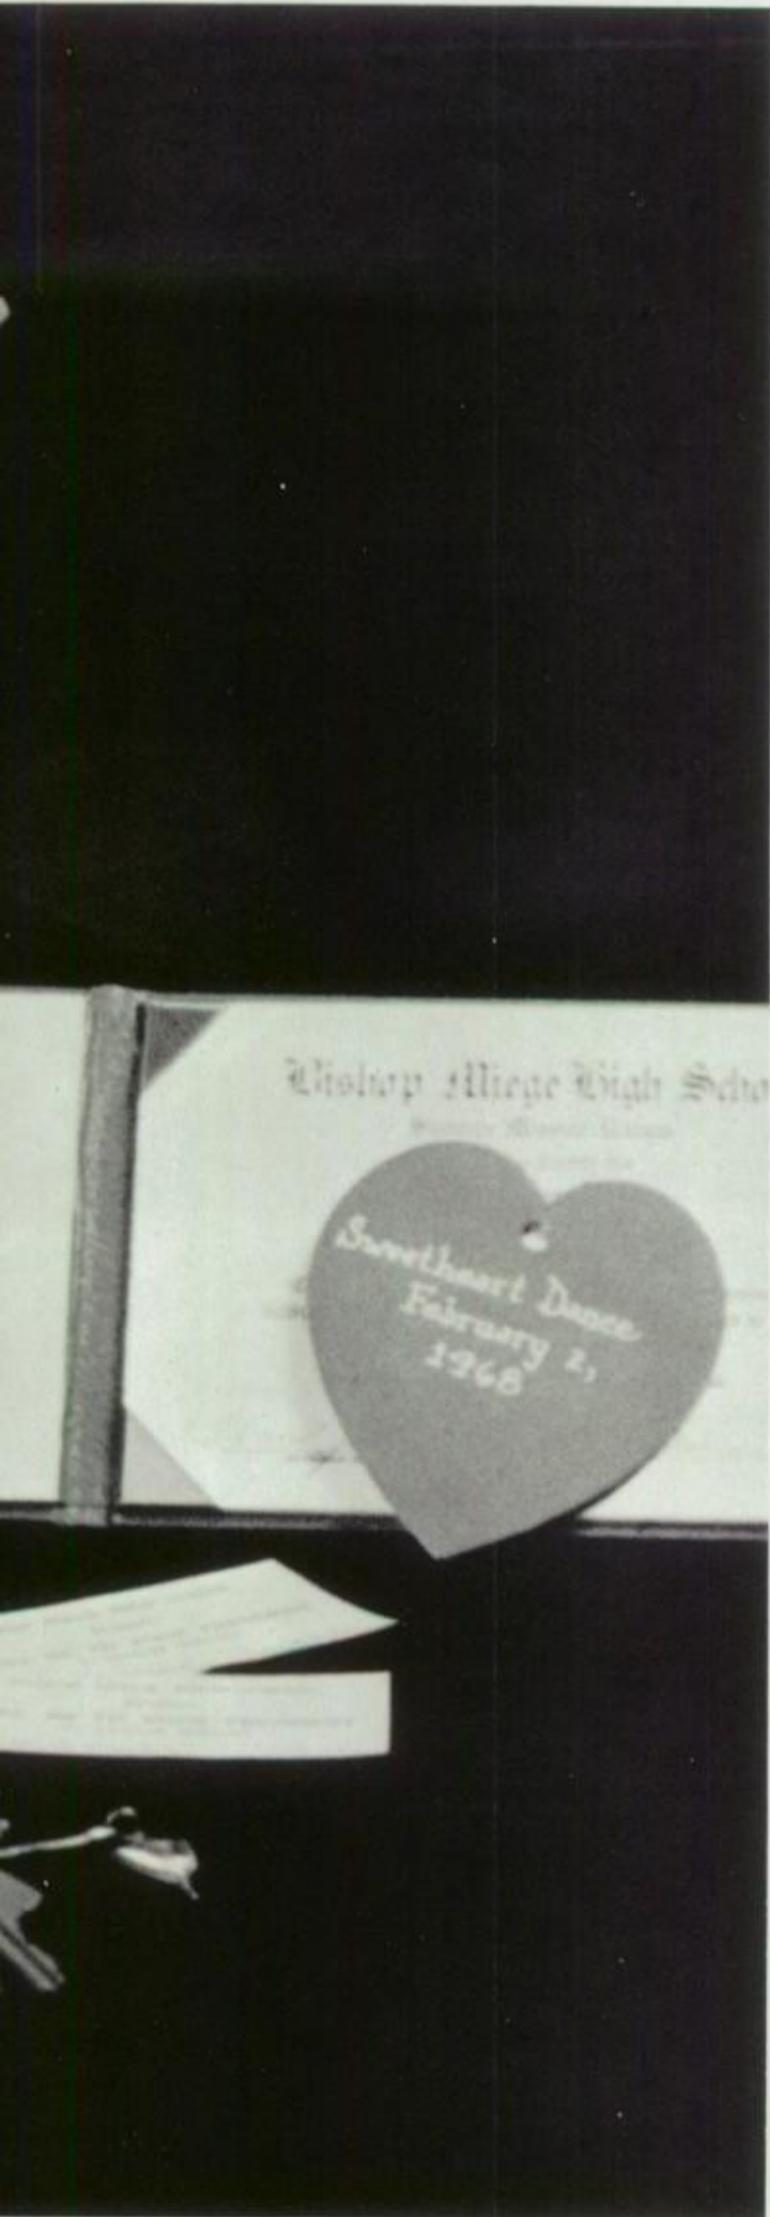

Mr. Mohlman - Physical Education

Mrs. Koch - Clothing, Gourmet, Home-Living

GRADUATES '68

Senior officers depicting originality and leadership of class are Vice-President Jane Dewees, Treasurer Dave Perkin, Secretary Renee Ring and President John Dold.

The Senior Class of '67-'68 has shown outstanding abilities in every field. Scholastically we proved to be exceptional when three of our seniors were rated as semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Test. Also, many others received letters of commendation for their prominent abilities.

Athletically, our boys were superior on the football field, the basketball court, the soccer field, and in all other sports.

Unity and organization was maintained each year. Displaying this are the Stamp project freshman year, the "Class of the year" award sophomore year, prom preparation junior year, and the famous pumpkin hunt senior year.

ACTIVITIES

1967-68 Student Congress Officers

Rick North—President

Steve McGill—Vice-President

Bob Latz—Treasurer

Barbara Shannon—Secretary

Sister Martina, Stuco advisor, checks minutes of meetings.

Over the past few years, Student Congress has grown the image of being an overactive, domineering decision maker for all student activities at Miege. During this time an unwanted and apathetic feeling of "Student Congress does everything" has sprung up. Students became unconcerned over the success of student activities because they felt Student Congress controlled them all.

To combat this feeling, this year's Congress initiated a year of "total involvement." The basic plan was to give everyone a chance to do something for himself and for his school.

To make this plan a success, many new programs were created. Homerooms were put on a daily schedule, students were continually informed of all activities at Miege. So in all, Congress strived for more unity and action within the student body.

Whether or not its efforts were successful can be answered only by the individual student. If you leave Miege with a feeling of accomplishment for yourself, and one of pride for your school then its efforts will not have been wasted.

Rick North

Spiritmakers Highlight Victorious Seasons

As time runs out and excitement builds, the tension is cooled as the Stags tie the score.

"All my life I wanna be a Stag" is declared by every member as they await the return of the Big Red from halftime.

Two more points are scored, a foul is called, Kathy Jones wears her latest creation, and the Pep Club is caught in action.

Robbie Golub—President

Barb Glennon—Vice-President

Connie Cramer—Secretary

Margee Adams—Treasurer

The Pep Club by working together promoted that intangible winner at every game—school spirit. From the opening kick-off of the football season in September to the final whistle of the basketball season in March, this player scored success.

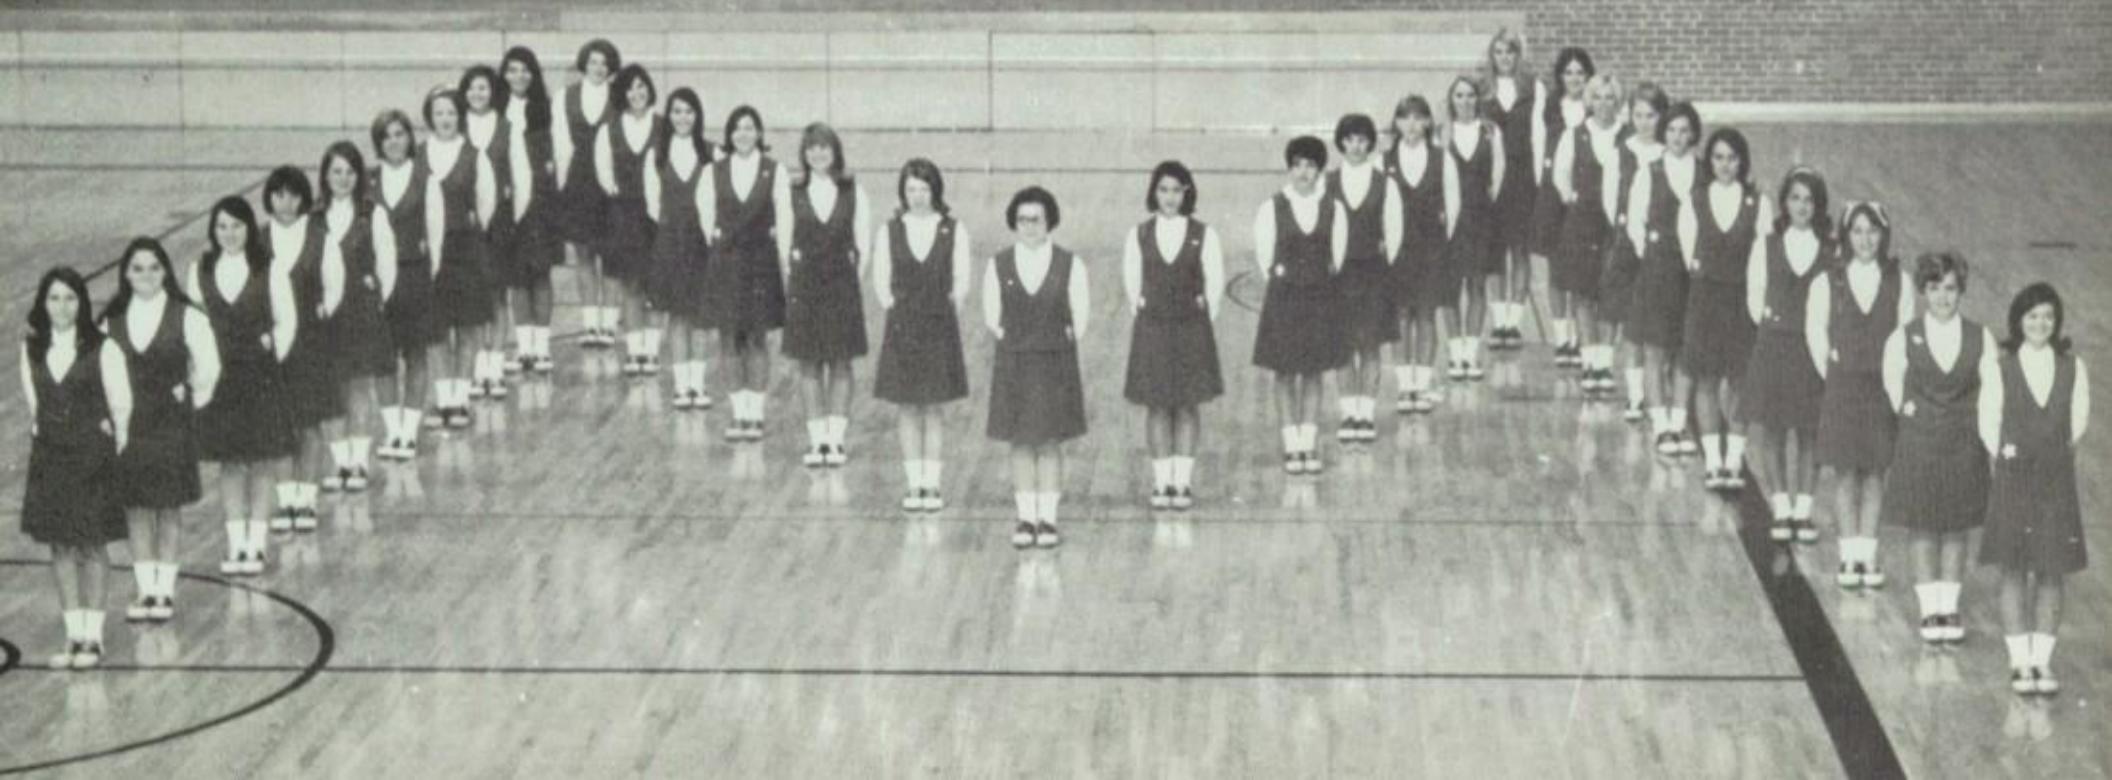

Many projects such as the Homecoming Dance depends upon the labor and effort of the Varsity Pep Club. The painting of signs which decorate the halls preceding a game, and the morale building of pep assemblies are also arranged by its faithful members.

Whether the game ends in victory or defeat the reaction and enthusiasm of the Miege Pep Club is always at its peak and every game became a challenge.

Honor M, composed of the top thirty Pep Club members, led the spirit committee throughout the school.

If we are to be good followers there must be good leaders. This fact is proven at every game by seven girls we know as our cheerleaders. With enthusiasm and ability they cheered at all games and meets. Originality and spirit became the theme of the assemblies planned by the cheerleaders and Pep Club officers. In addition they initiated Mass preceding games in the school chapel which was attended by team and Pep Club.

After the election in the spring, the cheerleaders decided to attend clinic that summer. All of them term clinic a complete success. Besides learning twelve cheers, three pom-pom routines and numerous songs and yells, they were awarded one second and three first place ribbons in competition. They also received a spirit stick, which is given to the squads showing the most spirit throughout the clinic.

Talented Musical Groups Discover New Notes

The Choir takes a break after entertaining the parents and friends of members at a Christmas program.

Under the direction of Mrs. Dennihan, the choir, chorale, and girls' glee club can be heard learning, drilling and rehearsing music during first and second hours.

The three groups made numerous appearances which included the Homecoming Mass, the Christmas program, the February retreat, the Spring Concert, and the Atchison Music Festival.

Chorale, a select group from the choir, performed throughout the year. During Christmas they sang at hospitals and old folks homes.

Because of the new schedule the girls' glee club made up of Sophomore and Junior girls practice separately and then combined their talents to sing such pieces as, "Let There Be Peace," "Impossible Dream," and "Camelot."

Besides the groups from our school, we were fortunate enough to be hosts to a Jazz Festival, Pem Day Glee Club, the Choraliers, and a Percussion Ensemble.

Choir officers: Pres. Tom Montgomery, Vice Pres. John Dold, Sec. Marilyn Thies, Treas. P. Clune.

Mrs. Dennihan, music instructor, is caught in her usual hard working manner in the beginning warm-ups for Choir.

At the Christmas assembly Chorale sings "Sleigh Bells," and "The Twelve Days Of Christmas," accompanied by Paula Libel playing the piano.

Girls' Glee Club fills the gym, and practically the entire school, with their musical tones which the whole school appreciated.

With a club to supply every interest, these Art, Spanish and Drama students find an outlet for fun and knowledge.

The Art club, a newly formed club, headed by Miss O'Neill, painted the unique mural we now have on the east wall of the Student Lounge and designed stained glass windows for use over the Christmas holidays.

Directed by Miss Bichlemeyer, the Drama club performed cuttings from various plays for different orphanages, old folks homes and hospitals.

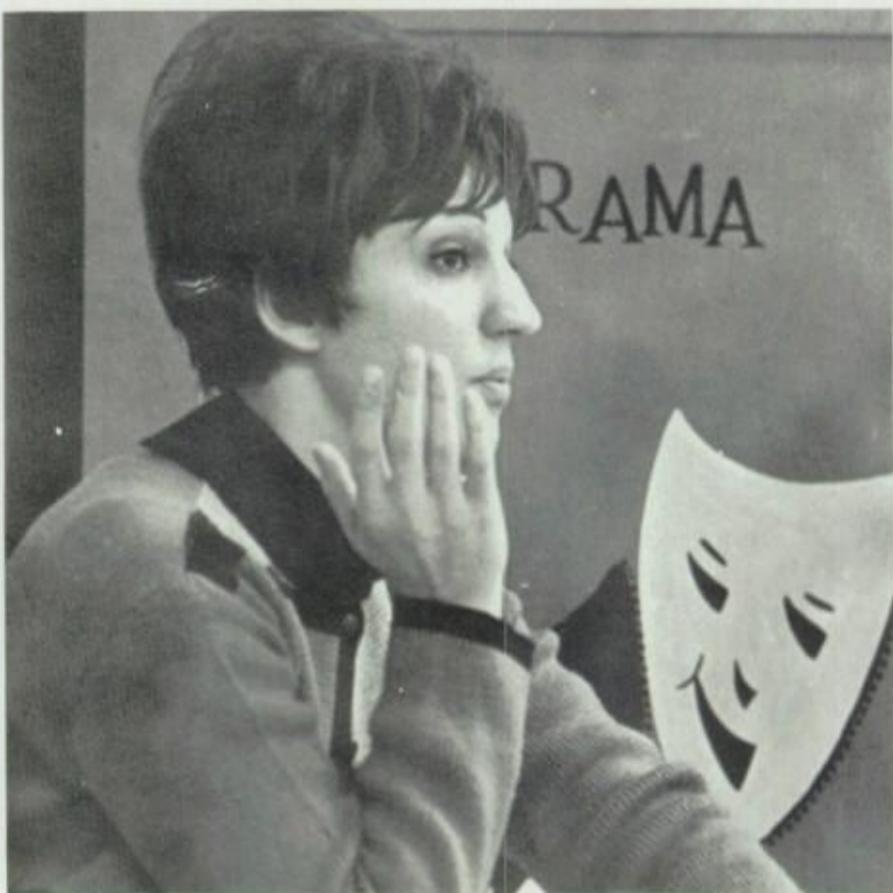

Mr. Winegart, moderator of the Math club, furthered the calculating minds at Miege by attending the sixteenth Annual Science, Mathematics, And Engineering Day at Kansas University.

Learning to speak the Spanish language and develop a foreign culture was the main objective as Sister Angelica instilled these foundations in each interested Spanish club member. The club also benefited by partly supporting a school in Mexico and by tutoring underprivileged Cubans.

The Future Teachers club attempted a new method of preparing themselves to handle the classroom situation. During free periods on Tuesdays, these students taught the children at Saint Agnes Grade School. This gave the future teachers a real insight into the life of an elementary teacher.

Community Benefits Through Service Committee

Kim Kirkland, service committee head, organizes talent show.

This year through new projects and goals more students have come to know what the Service Committee really is.

Visiting old folks homes and orphanages continued to bring pleasure to all involved. Our teachers were not neglected either—they received cookies and cokes every first Friday.

Greater interest made it possible to introduce new activities. Members of the Service Committee ushered many productions at the Music Hall. They have been involved in Kansas City's Association for Retarded Children, and have worked with Catholic Charities.

A book drive was launched for St. Mary's Hospital by an activity night, including dancing and folksinging. The Talent Show was, as always, sponsored and directed by the Service Committee, and was a success.

We can all be proud of the spirit and achievement reached.

Activities began Thursday night of Homecoming Week with a Mass celebrated by Father Sullivan. The Homecoming finalists and their parents were introduced. Choir and Girls' Glee, directed by Mrs. Dennihan, made their first performance of the year.

Preceeding the game Friday night, police escorted the car parade to Ward field. The half-time activities presented the Homecoming finalists in a motorcade of 1967 cars driven by five senior boys. The Varsity and B-Team cheerleaders and Honor M formed an honor guard around the float designed by the sophomore class. Here, two weeks of waiting came to a climax as Miss Barbara Edwards was crowned 1967 Homecoming Queen. Peggy Clune, Lisa Miller, Dona Odrowski, and Kathy Walsh were her attendants. To top off the excitement, the Stags were victorious over the Rosedale Wildcats 21-0.

The traditional Homecoming dance was held Saturday night. Creativity and imagination based the foundation for the theme, Skyway to Tomorrow. Under the direction of Cathy Svaboda, the Pep Club members spent a lot of time and work developing the theme.

Mixers Provide Recreation For Stags

This year the Miegians swang to most of the top tunes on the forty star survey, and grooved to the music of some of our own talented groups, such as the Disciples. This group opened our first dance, the Howdy mixer, to which only the Seniors and Freshmen were invited. At this event the Frosh had their first taste of high school life, and the Seniors had their first chance of showing their seniority over the underclassmen. Our next mixer, sponsored by the Juniors, was highlighted by the sounds of the Chessmen. The attendance at this activity proved to the Juniors that the hard work put into a dance results in accomplishment. A well organized and fun filled evening was arranged by the Sophomores when the Here And After furnished the music. Our next musical tunes were supplied by the Bo Street Runners at the Yearbook mixer. This is always a long awaited evening for all, but especially for the winning class of the ad campaign for their queen is announced. Held in May was the Math club mixer. This mixer holds many memories because of the few remaining school days left at the close of the dance.

"...All for Miege stand up and holler," is yelled as Moose Pack members perfect their pyramid.

School Activities Captivate Stags' Enthusiasm

Assemblies Captivate

With the cooperation of the faculty and the enthusiasm of the student body, more assemblies were presented and the quality of the assemblies was improved from previous years.

The traditional pep assemblies were scheduled as often as the schedule would permit. Such skits as Kathy Jones portraying the school spirit, Tom Montgomery as the New Years Baby and the Senior girls' pyramid combined to build the spirit and morale of the school.

A new freedom was felt when the students were allowed to ask Father Sullivan questions on matters of school life. This was a new idea this year and the outcome of the assembly verified the fact that students are interested.

Many assemblies were based on juvenile delinquency. One especially helpful was when Mr. Claude Smith, a hardened criminal, explained his life before prison and the effects that prison life has on a person. He also explained the Seven Steps Program, an aid to rehabilitate prisoners.

Johnny Unitas talked at an assembly particularly aimed at the boys on good grooming and the importance of a good education.

"It's easy to sell," explains Mr. Goodman as he describes selling techniques of Judsons Halloween Candy.

Total Student Interest

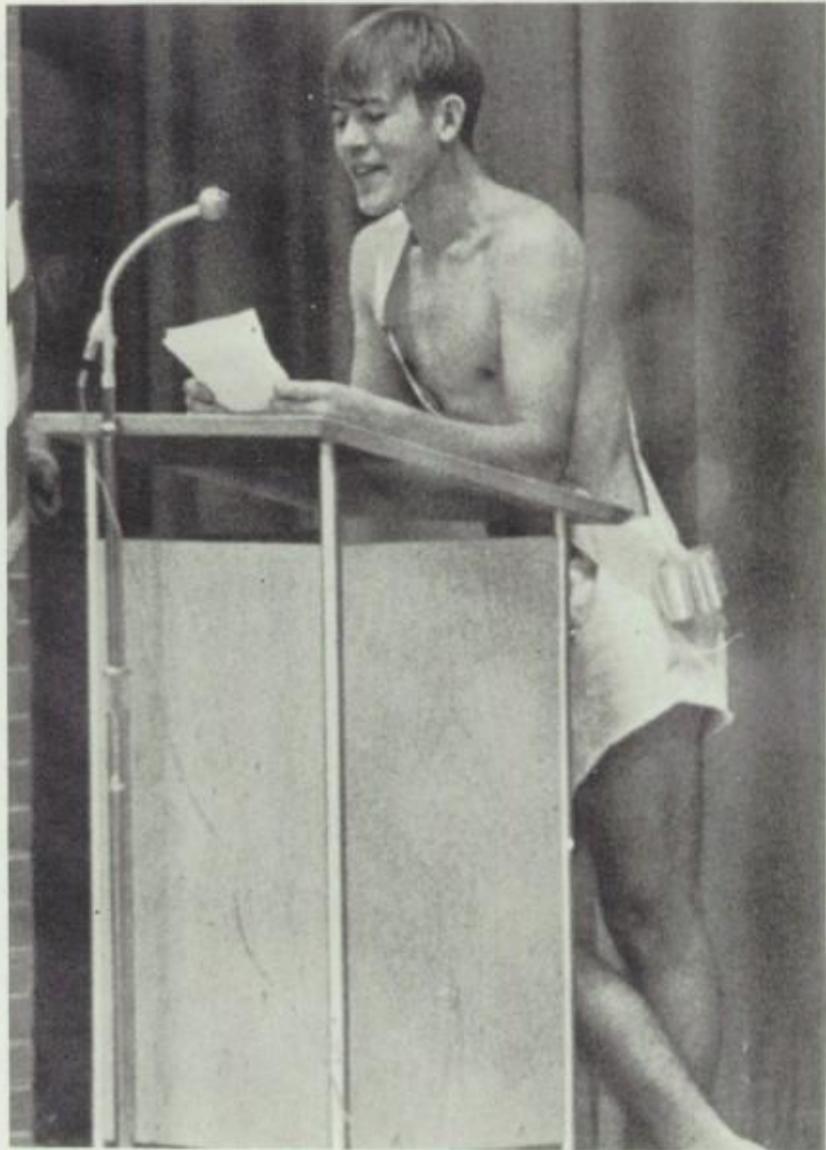

Entertaining the student body is a sophomore at Southwest High School and a member of the K.C. Junior Kicks Band.

The Pem Day Glee Club takes a break as two members sing a cutting from their upcoming play.

"I did it," yells Doc Novick after the "Hart" transplant performed on Jim Dunnowski at the yearbook assembly.

New Year's Baby Tom Montgomery predicts the coming year and arouses spirit for the next year.

Junior boys led by wild man, Jerry Sutera, sing "Ya Gotta Have Hart" to kick off ad campaign, the major means of supporting the yearbook.

Tom Montgomery, Mary Lynn Dierks, Linda Torres and Cathy Yeado, high salesmen of each class, continue to support the 1968 publications by bringing in ads and boosters.

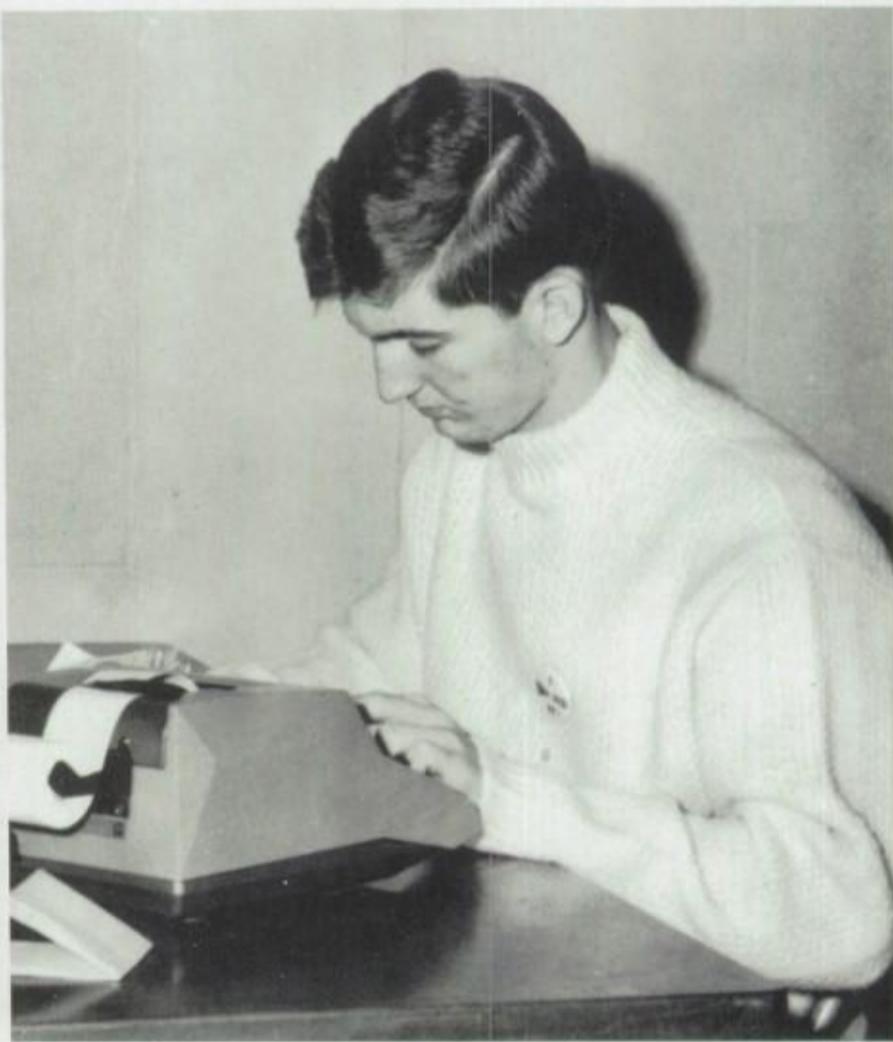

"I Did It" Signifies Success Of Ad Campaign

This year's ad campaign combined the school into the most successful money-raising project of the year and also into the most successful ad campaign in Miege's history. An assembly kicked off the campaign. The yearbook staff presented a skit with the first human "Hart" transplant. At the assembly, Business manager, John Dold introduced the "I Did It" slogan. The new familiar slogan to all Miegians was the theme of this year's "Hart" campaign.

An overall goal was set at $6,000, while the individual goal was $6.00. If the individual quota was attained, the person received a button on which the "I Did It" slogan appeared.

The Junior class, as traditionally expected, won the Ad Campaign in both money and buttons. By earning the most buttons they won a free day and for bringing in the most money, the Juniors were given the honor to select the 1968 "Hart Queen," who was Miss Margee Adams.

The total amount of money brought in was $5500. This large sum enabled the staff to produce a better yearbook for 1968.

Totaling up the daily figures, John Dold, business manager, looks dismayed as he concludes that the Juniors are ahead.

HART QUEEN
MARGE ADAMS

Initiative and inexperience marked the 1968 "Hart" staff. A staff of sixteen Juniors and Seniors worked long hours to learn the techniques of yearbook production and to put them into effect. Members attended clinics at Kansas State University in June and Kansas University in October to learn the newest trends in yearbooks. Despite the fact there were four different classes instead of one as in previous years, the staff worked as a team, met all deadlines and made the yearbook what it is.

This year's co-editors Laura Manley and Lisa Miller were assisted by section editors Barb Glennon, Lou Ann Manley, Sharon Nunnink and Nancy Tipton. These six started the groundwork for the yearbook in the preceding summer.

Meeting deadlines, writing copy, and cropping pictures demanded hours of hard work, but they remained dedicated and never gave up.

Mr. Dalton served as moderator this year. Although he had to divide his energies among his many activities, he found time to solve the problems that arose. Much credit is due also to the photographers who worked countless hours.

Besides the actual production of the yearbook, the staff sponsored the Ad Campaign, a booth at the Mardi Gras and a mixer.

Caught on the opposite side of the camera, our photographers are shy of their own profession.

A well informed student is a really good student. This means informed not only in classroom work and world problems, but in the current events of his school. The Miegan, which is published monthly, accomplishes the task of informing the student body of these events with maximum clarity and completeness as well as a touch of humor.

The total effort of the entire Miegan staff has resulted in a newspaper any student body would be proud to edit. The staff admits that putting out a paper is hard and continuous work, but if asked, no member would hesitate to enumerate the many rewards, especially the satisfaction of a job well done as they see the students' happy faces enjoying each issue of their school paper.

Barbara Diebold, editor-in-chief, and Mary Jane Apple, feature editor assistant, represented the newspaper staff at the Publications Workshop at K-State. The rest of the staff benefited from the knowledge attained by these two students. They learned through lectures and illustrations, refreshing, new methods of how to produce the informative newspaper, we know as our Miegan.

Theme For '68 Prom

Early in the year, the Juniors began preparations for Prom, choosing the theme, appointing committee heads, and voting for royalty. They sponsored many projects like bake sales, paper drives, a candy sale, and a fashion show to raise money.

For months, building and decorating committees were hard at work. As May 11 approached, the Gym was transformed into the splendor of the Seven Wonders of the World. The 1968 theme was "Around the World in Eighty Days."

Prom was highlighted by the crowning of Queen, Cindy Meyers and King, Terry English and their attendants whose throne was a huge balloon.

Through the interest and co-operation of the class of '69, and under the supervision of Harry Satariano, Sr. Maureen, Mr. Schroeder, and Mr. Rost, the Junior-Senior Prom of 1968 was a complete success and a memorable event for all who attended.

Various committee heads discuss plans for Prom with class moderator Mr. Schroeder.

National Honor Society cannot be classified as merely an honor but also a privilege. The students having attained this high standing have worked for four years to achieve this position. Each member must rate high in the fields of character, scholarship, leadership and service. Each member also must maintain a B average before and during the time they are enrolled as a member.

Those selected to the high scholastic honor of Quill and Scroll are expected to have and maintain certain qualifications: outstanding journalistic ability, scholastically rank in the upper one-third of his class, and have goals of "Truth, Learning, Leadership, Initiative and Integrity."

The National Forensic League is an honorary organization for those students who have participated in debate or other speech activities. Requirements are that a student be in the upper third of his class and debate in various tournaments.

Due to the efforts of Miss Judy Bichlemeyer, Drama and Speech instructor, the first drama productions were presented at Miege since "My Ego and I" in 1964. But the talent, creativity and originality displayed on stage made up for these four years.

The first play entitled, "The Little Dog Laughed" was presented in December with a cast of fifteen. This was a comedy in three acts by Vera and Ken Tarpley. Each member of the cast offered a fantastic part and combined they made for a very enjoyable evening for the audience. The production crew also worked many long hours to make the comedy its best.

The next production was "Take Me To Your President" presented in March by a cast of forty-one characters. With such a large cast and such few props, this play required real co-operation and organization. The set design and directions arranged by Ric North played a major role in this performance.

Director Miss Bichlemeyer had this to say about "Take Me To Your President." "The present world situation as it is can make you laugh or cry. We are offering you an opportunity to laugh about it."

Coach Frazier Unites Stags To Stun Rivals

The first draft of my summary of the past football season was to be filled with humorous anecdotes and unique insights about the season and the people who made it possible. Now as I write my thirty-first draft I have given up all hope of my first vision and will attempt to put a few of my thoughts of the 1967 season to print.

The first reflection that becomes apparent is the hard work that numerous individuals offered to make this past season the obvious success it was. The coaches began preliminary preparation last spring. In July, the players started the physical and mental preparations so necessary yet so unappealing. With the beginning of school other important forces began their diligent support. The cheerleaders, pep clubs and the sign-makers, all functioned in their roles in a fashion to be envied. Another factor of equal importance was the tremendous sense of pride everyone, from the administration to the alumni, were able to exhibit. This experience alone will enable all of us to endure more hard work and sacrifice and lead us all to further success. The last reflection that comes to view is a result of our work and pride. The self-discipline and sacrifice that was evidenced by many, but especially in a number of the players, are characteristics which exemplifies a mature growth that will effect each of them for the rest of their lives.

These are my reflections and are the reasons that the past season and all its activities have become my most unforgettable experience.

The class of 71, in its initial year of football at Miege, posted an impressive record. The newly tested team dropped their only game to the always strong Ward. But, in their final outing came back to defeat Ward 6-0. All in all the Freshmen were effective with a 5-1 season.

Although the J.V.'S record was not as impressive as the Varsity's, we must give credit where credit is due. The J.V. worked hard all season. Starting strong with two victories they showed great potential. After their victories, however, they lost momentum. From there they played hard but couldn't seem to make the team jell. Their record was 2-4.

Typical of the flawless football the Stags played that night, Ron Kellerman breaks up a Rockhurst pass.

This Hayden halfback found the going rough as John Shigouri and two other Stags combine to smother the Wildcat.

The center of the Miege defensive line, led by Pat Larkin, teams up to stop the Ward ball carrier for no gain.

Helias defenders can't stop Mike O'Rourke as he bursts through the hole created by the blocking of Hank Bauer and John Shigouri.

The Stags pound across another score in their opening triumph over St. Pius.

The Miege defensive that held Argentine to a mere seven yards rushing corals a Mustang.

Showing great agility, the Stag's quarterback, Mark Geraghty, breaks a De La Salle Titan tackle.

Rick Cain, a powerful asset to the Miege running attack, bowls over a Rosedale defender.

Team Experience Marks Successful Season

Urged on by a fellow harrier, Rick Dean pushes a little harder.

With six years of experience in coaching Cross-Country teams, Mr. Zimola was able to apply useful tactics for winning meets. Parents, cheerleaders and other active members of the student body added the spirit needed to drive the team on to victory.

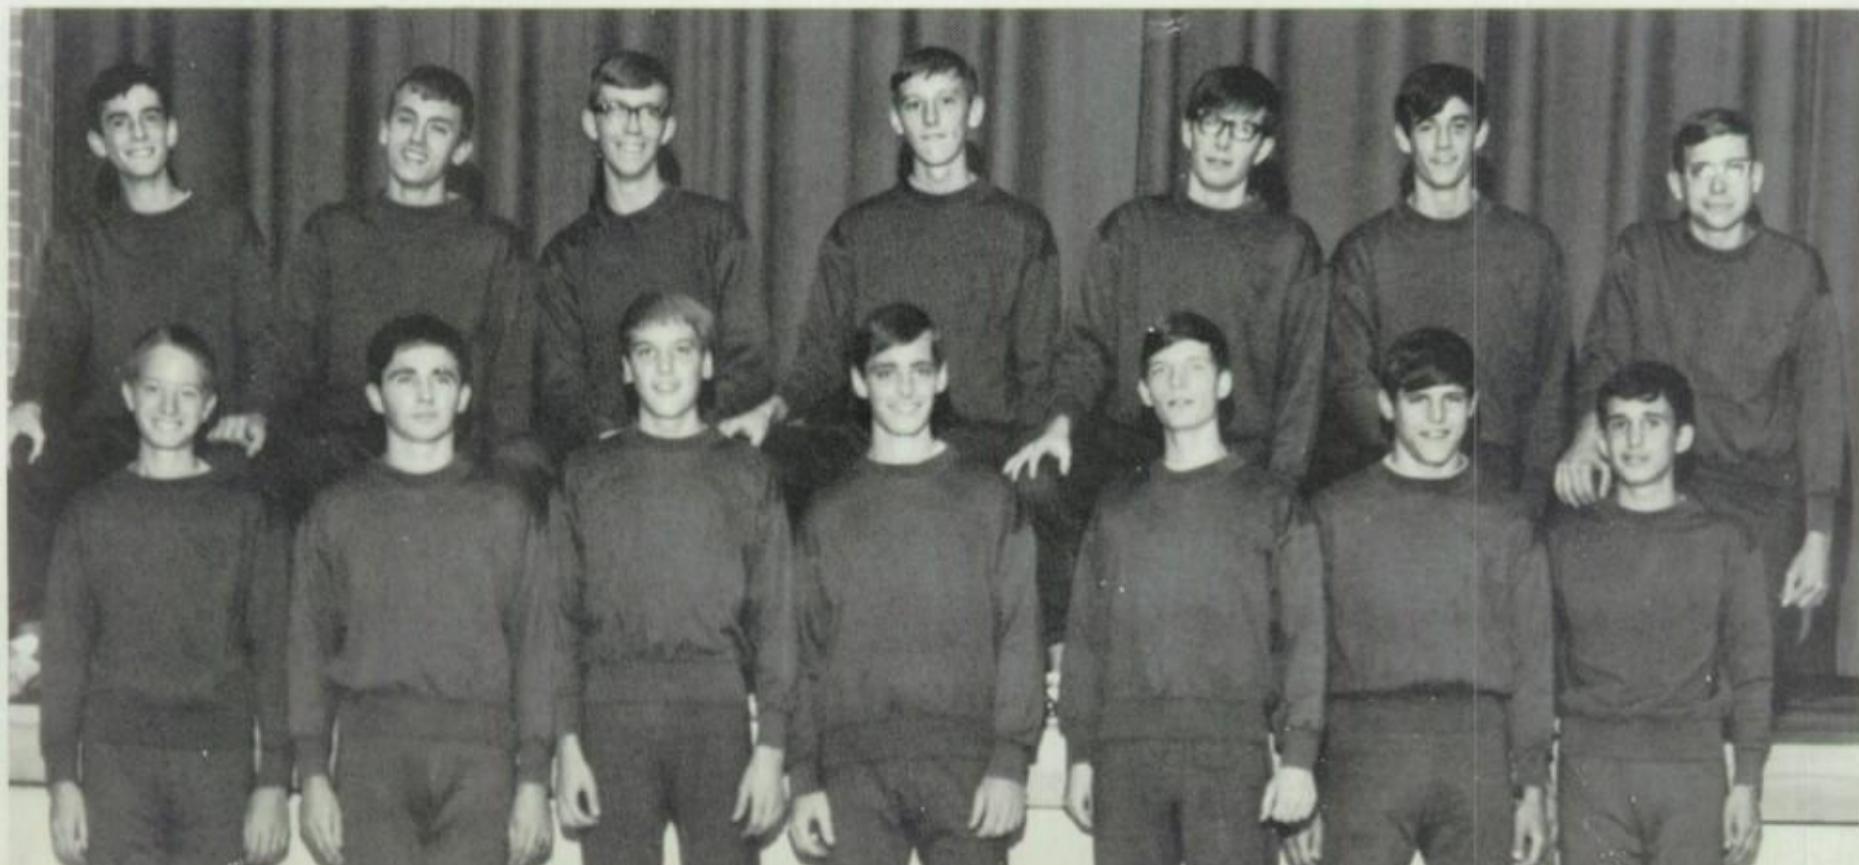

Setting the pace, Allen Floyd and Mike Bock proved to be the teams outstanding runners. Through perseverance and rigid training, this year's Cross-Country team received three first places, two second places, two third places, and they placed ninth in the regional meet.

Seniors Form Backbone Of Victorious Team

A concerned Bill Dana positions himself by the Stag goal, defending it from the De La Salle Titans.

"Experience," said Coach Mohlman, "is our biggest asset this year." The team, composed of some thirty-five participants, had sixteen returning seniors led by Bill Dana, Kevin Hardy, Mike O'Rourke, and Tom Montgomery. These seniors guided our toe-men throughout the season. Practices began in early December preparing the team for its upcoming games. This year more spectators than ever withstood the cold and watched the mighty mud-men as they played six Varsity games and three Junior Varsity games. The season can truly be considered a success.

Spirited Stags Fall To Powerful Squads

The Stags ended the 1967-68 season with as much, or more success than in my previous two years at Miege. We, the coaches and players, do not feel that the score at the end of a game determined the true win or loss. Statistics over the past few years prove this point. Many records have been broken and rebroken—not once have we taken a step backwards.

Our lack of size and depth was a definite handicap, but the spirit of playing and playing hard was evident to the very end of each game. This was especially true in the final two games of the Regionals, where the drive was clearly evident to all present.

The measure of victory is the extent to which our players grew, both individually and as a team. In this respect, the Stags may justifiably hold their heads high.

Fine height, speed and co-ordination were the main reasons that the Freshman B-Ball team had a successful year. Their record consisted of eight wins and seven losses. Coach Reardon believes the team will excel in the years to come. This year's sophomore team shows great potential for their oncoming years at Miege. Because of their superior record of six and five, Mr. Zimola has proven himself as an all around excellent coach. The J.V. suffered a year of defeat. A lack of height was their major shortcoming in their six-ten season. However, Coach O'Connell believes the team will greatly improve.

Track Team Displays Ability And Experience

Head Coach Art Zimola specializes in coaching hurdlers and the distance men.

Led by Coach Zimola, the 1968 track team showed superior effort. With twelve returning lettermen, the squad showed exceptional ability in the running events from the two mile run down to the sixty yard dash.

A small squad of seniors led the runners as they inspired the team with their attitudes and their performance. One of the highlights of this years team was an experienced core of distance runners including five record-holders. Besides seniors there were many talented juniors and sophomores who added valuable points in the meets and who were part of the Stag's strong relay teams. The sprinters were again strong this year and were always a headache for the Miege opponents.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Leading the Junior class of '67-'68 are: Renee Palermo, Secretary; Pat Fitzgerald, Vice-President; Pat Silady, President; Larry Thies, Treasurer.

From the moment we became freshmen, our class exceeded all the others in unity, spirit and involvement. During our first year at Miege, we aided twelve needy families by sponsoring a mixer over Thanksgiving weekend, placed second in Stuco's candy sale, produced four winners in the literary contest, and held the famed "Freshman Frolic."

As our second year rolled by, we produced a great homecoming float and a fabulous Sophomore Bar B-Q. It was the Sophomore class that saved the mighty Stags football team from a long hard winter by placing first in the Soap Scrimmage. We were also presented Miege's only "Apple For The Teacher Award."

Our third year, now in the past, we initiated Miege's first "Coat Hanger Drive" and sponsored an all-school mixer celebrating the start of the Christmas holiday. Our Junior class spirit really shined as we smashed the other classes in the United Fund Campaign. But everyone knows the big venture of the Junior class in Prom, and this year's was the greatest Miege had ever seen.

Soph's Show Leadership

The Sophomore Class this year showed greater unity and spirit than that of their first year at Miege. They displayed this spirit and unity from the start and continued to do so throughout the entire year. Their best project of the year was the beautiful Homecoming Float. This float couldn't have been built without their exuberent determination. A few other of their projects were the class Bar-B-Que, the all school mixer and the yearbook signing party.

Last year the class unity and effort won them the "Class of the Year" award. The carnival booth sponsored by the Sophomore Class this year brought in the most money of all the booths in the school. Also their boys participated actively in the sports program. Following along with Stuco's theme of involvement the Sophomores cooperated fully in all areas of school life. They now feel they are worthy to take their places as upperclassmen at Miege and set an example to their school and community what a Miegan truly is!

HOMECOMING PLANS

The excitement of Homecoming nears its peak as the final plans are being made. These plans include a Mass, the half-time activities, and the dance.

Friday night's game will be preceded by a motorcade which will be formed in the Miege parking lot. With a police escort, the parade will then proceed to Ward field where the Stags will meet the Rosedale Wildcats for the 7:30 game.

Half-time activities will consist of the presentation of the five candidates and their fathers. Then, the royalty will be announced, and they will be presented with a bouquet of flowers.

These flowers along with the motorcade are the responsibility of the junior class, while the sophomores handle the half-time activities.

The Pep Club contributes their share of the activities at the dance on Saturday night, Oct. 28, from 9-12. "Skyway to Tomorrow" is the theme of the dance at which the Chontels will provide the music.

Three Miegians Selected

Three students at Miege have been named Semifinalists in the 1967-68 National Merit Scholarship Program, Father Sullivan has announced.

The students are Mark Herlach, Mary Pickard, and Mike Weilert. They are among 14,000 semifinalists in the nation who have advanced to the second step in the competition for about 2,900 Merit Scholarships, valued at more than $8 million, to be awarded in 1968. Mark Herlach also ranked in the top ten students from Kansas.

Names of the Merit Scholars in the 1967-68 Merit Program will be announced by early May 1968.

Those receiving letters of commendation are: Thomas Bugler, Anita Evjy, Jacqueline Hurlbert, Ronald Kilgore, Thomas Lynch, David Martin, Thomas Montgomery, Michael Prior, Renee Ring, and Dianne Sayers.

Finalists are: Peggy, Barb, Lisa, Donna, and Kathy.

Sales Create Rivalry

The annual Student Congress Candy Sale, which began October 4, was run a little differently than the previous sales. This year the Senior and Sophomore classes alone were involved in selling Judson's Halloween candy. Later in the year, the Junior and Freshmen classes will conduct a magazine sale. The purpose of this new procedure is to create wider variety and stronger rivalry between two classes.

The class which wins each sale will receive class points and a cash prize. Cash prizes will also be awarded to the individual winners of the contests. Ric North, Student Congress President, commented, "This is one of the biggest events of the school year and we sincerely believe that the entire student body will be actively involved in these campaigns."

A FEW WORDS . . .

No matter what your relationship with Miege may be this year, you have, no doubt, noticed that this is a completely new type of Miege. If you are a freshman, you've found that you're working in an exciting and new kind of atmosphere, far different from the one you knew last year. If you are a returning upperclassman, you've probably found that this is not the same Miege you lived with in previous years. If you're new to the school, you've probably sensed the newness in the air. New schedules, new courses, new facilities, and new ideas all have given Miege the potential of making this the finest year in its history.

The real potential for a successful year lies not in the textbooks or schedules, but in you — the Miegan! This year, more than ever before, you have a chance to excel in any area you choose. Whether your interests lie in academics, athletics, debate, drama or the special interest areas served by clubs, this is your year to make good!

How do you go about doing it? The only requirement is that you care about your school. If you do, you'll take the time to get involved with it. Find an area of school life that is especially appealing to you. When you have, get involved and take advantage of the opportunities it offers. The doors of opportunity are open wide to those who wish to enter. For those who wish to excel, this year at Miege is waiting for you.

So take advantage of this year of promise. Do something meaningful for yourself and for your school. When you leave these halls this May, you'll be glad you did.

Ric North
Student Body President

Contest Vents Creativity

Once again this year the Miegan will sponsor a literary contest to test the talents of the student body. Starting October 23rd and running through November 17th, students may submit as many entries as they like under the categories of short stories, essays, poetry, cartoons and photographs.

All articles must be typewritten and double-spaced and must have a title. On an accompanying sheet of paper the contestant should type his name, the category he is entering, the title of his paper, and his year in school. Then the entry can be turned in to any member of the Miegan staff or to Sr. Baptista in Room 33.

The following basic rules should be observed in respect to each category:

1. Short Stories—A maximum of five typewritten double-spaced sheets.
2. Poetry—May be free verse or rhymed.
3. Essay—May be about any topic, treated formally or informally.
4. Cartoons—Must be done in India ink. For cartoons only, two persons may collaborate, with one person giving the idea and the other person giving the illustration.

Student Soundings

It seems that the students of Miege have all but lost their privilege of using the school library.

Students are not allowed in the building until 8:00 a.m. which means that, at the most, they have ten minutes to work in the library before school. After school, the library usually closes, at the latest, by 3:15; that is, if there isn't a faculty meeting there immediately after school.

We realize that the administration has problems, but we also realize that the school library doesn't serve much purpose if the students aren't allowed to use it.

STUCO TO CLINIC

To learn the techniques of building a more efficient Student Congress, the Student Congress officers attended week-long workshops last August.

Ric North, President, was sent by Student Congress to the National Student Congress Workshop in Estes Park, Colorado.

The state workshop, held in Lawrence, was attended by Steve McGill, Vice-President; Barbara Shannon, Secretary; and Bob Latz, Treasurer.

Both workshops dealt with solving the various problems that the officers might meet, such as cooperating with the administration and getting all students involved in school activities.

Debbie Johnston uses one of the tape recorders for comp.

Auto - English

To the delight of the English teachers and the dismay of their students, the English department has purchased an opaque projector and four cartridge tape recorders to be used in composition courses.

The opaque projector, which is available to all composition classes during the first semester, enables teachers to project the students' compositions on a screen. In this way, students can view the reactions of their fellow students and, thus, receive more than the teacher's point of view. Some teachers plan for the whole class to eventually grade each student's compositions by using the opaque projector.

The use of tape recorders in composition classes is in the experimental stage this semester. According to Miss Lucas, the purpose of the recorders is to develop style in writing:

L. to R.: Mrs. Worley, Miss Bichelmeier, Sr. Jane Frances, Sr. Mary, Sr. Faith Irene, Mr. Perry, Sr. Marie Therese.

NEW FACES ON FACULTY

As you wander around the halls between classes, you may notice a few new faces among the faculty. So that you will know who they are, we thought we would introduce you to this year's new teachers. They are:

Mr. Kenneth Perry hails from the Piper Unified School District. His main love and graduate major is mathematics. Most of his classes are Algebra I, but an undergraduate major in physical science allows him to teach the physics course here at Miege.

A graduate of Union College in Barbourville, Kentucky, Mrs. Katherine Worley is the new Biology I teacher this year. In her slightly accented voice, Mrs. Worley maintained that, "This is a new concept of teaching biology. Many parents expect their children to learn the same things they did, but it's all new and very exciting."

Sr. Marie Therese is back teaching French this year at Miege, after an absence of a year. Sister taught at Ursuline Academy in Paola last year after ill health forced her to leave Miege in 1965.

Sister Mary is a new addition to our Math department. Last summer Sister received her Master's degree in Education. Now, algebra, geometry, and general math are Sister's classes.

Mr. Fred Buerman has a busy year ahead of him as a new member of our faculty. He is Freshman class moderator, helps with the debate team, and moderates the Freshman Poster Club. Between activities he manages to squeeze in a few classes in history, religion, and English.

A new addition to the Social Studies and Guidance Departments is Sister Faith Irene. Sister teaches American History. The Sophs will have a hard time putting anything over on Sister Faith Irene; she was a psychology professor at the College of Holy Names in California last summer.

Last summer U.M.K.C. found Sister Jane Frances busily helping with the costumes for their play, King Richard, III. Sister is now teaching such dramatic subjects as geometry and physical science.

Miss Judy Bichelmeier comes to us with four years of experience in teaching English and speech. Miss Bichelmeier now busies herself with English literature, drama, speech, and debate classes.

Service Committee Looks Ahead

The Service Committee announced its plans for this year's activities at the first meeting on Thursday, September 28.

The annual Talent Show planned for April is only one of the many committee's activities planned for the coming months. This year committee members will usher at the Music Hall, hold variety shows for orphans and old folks homes, hold an all-school book drive for St. Mary's hospital, and host a speaker from the Kansas City Association for Retarded Children.

Kim Kirkland, committee chairman, has announced that anyone interested in becoming a member of the committee or in helping with the planned activities should contact her or attend a meeting. Meetings of the committee will be announced in homeroom.

Miegiants Travel

The history of European civilization came to life this summer for twelve Miegiants, as they attended "school" in seven countries on the continent. They studied for two hours each morning, then their afternoons were free for tours. They had different teachers in each country. Joan Downs commented, "seeing the different people and cultures was fascinating."

While visiting Paris, London, Switzerland, Austria, Venice, Florence, and Rome, the students were able to observe first hand the history and customs of the people and to learn for themselves how the people live.

The lucky students were: Robbie Golub, Marilyn Theis, Bob Kellman, Julie Kain, Mal Nees, Mary Sue O'Connor, Kathy Leary, Sue Federspiel, Joan Downs, Mike Milazzo, Carol Feldman, and Kathy Slatinsky. Mr. Fiorella was their chaperone.

Other Miegiants left the country this summer. Cindy Sciavo went to Spain and Portugal for three weeks with her family. While staying in Lisbon, Portugal they took tours to Estouil, Caracus Narara, and Fatima. They then went to Madrid, Spain. In Madrid they visited the Plaza of the Bulls at which they saw several bullfights. Cindy commented, "In three hours we saw six bulls killed and two toreros run over by bulls. It was bloody but strangely fascinating."

Jan Raidl, a Senior, went to Guadalajara, Mexico, for two months this summer.

Supercalifragilistic Seniors

by Mary Jane Apple

Seniors, Seniors, SENIORS! Sounds good, especially for me, because as you readers might guess—I AM A SENIOR! As I walk down the halls of good 'ol Miege, I think — "Why are Seniors looked up to in the school? What distinguishes Seniors, throughout the year, from the other classes?" Why are Seniors so "super" so to say?

Let's first consider why we are looked up to. As the upperclassmen, the underclassmen (which include Freshmen and Sophomores) are always looking to us as an example, i.e., they look to see how we express and promote school spirit through our selling of candy, ads, etc. The Juniors, who are to respect the Seniors, are always competing with us, but can't seem to find enough spirit to beat us. They do try, though, and we can't blame them for that.

No one should ever have a difficult time distinguishing the Seniors in the school. Just look for the ones who are always running down to the Student Lounge on Tuesday and Thursday, or during assemblies those who are sitting in the chairs. And did you ever notice the hands of the Seniors? They all seem to display a certain class ring which was presented to them at the end of their Junior year.

The final reason why the Seniors are looked up to, is for the two attributes unity and involvement, which are displayed most by the Seniors throughout their Senior year.

Yes, these are the reasons why we, the Seniors, are looked up to during the year!

Freaky Freshman

Feature Teacher

Of all the teachers now teaching here at Miege, few have been with us as long as Mr. Zimola. He is starting his 10th year as a teacher here and taught one year at the old St. Agnes High School. After teaching drafting, wood-work, and general shop for such a long period of time the buzz of a saw and the smell of saw dust have become almost synonymous with his name.

Mr. Zimola attended college at Kansas State at Pittsburg and there received his Bachelor of Science in Industrial Arts and his Master of Arts Degree in Industrial Education.

Besides teaching these shop courses for boys, Mr. Zimola has also been head track coach here at Miege for the last 9 years.

During the summer he is employed as a carpenter. In fact, this past summer he constructed the new trophy case in the cafeteria foyer and the study tables in Mr. O'Connell's psychology room.

Frosh Initiated

The Freshmen were officially declared Miegiants at the Senior Court held Friday, September 15. The court was the highlight of the annual Senior-Frosh Mixer.

Initiation was conducted by the Seniors who were served by Frosh slaves during the mixer. Duties of the slaves included such things as getting drinks for their owners and singing "We Love You Seniors."

Senior Court is a new addition to the annual Senior-Freshmen Mixer. Frosh brought before the court were charged with not wearing their signs, failing to follow orders of their Senior owners, and many other offences brought to the attention of the court by the Seniors.

After carrying out their sentences, the Frosh were declared Miegiants and given their freedom for the rest of the evening.

Welcome Exchange Students

This year Miegians welcome to their ranks three new foreign exchange students. Two of the three come to our school from Mexico and the third from Germany.

Pita Mendoza, who hails from a large family of ten, is eighteen years old and comes from Mexico City. Concerning the American way of life Pita feels that, "It is a little hard to get adjusted, especially to the food." Although she finds America different from her native Mexico she thinks "all the boys and girls are very nice."

Although Pita has graduated from her high school in Mexico City she is attending Miege this year to learn English and American customs. She is interested in becoming a secretary when she has finished with her schooling. Pita is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Raidl and their daughter Jan.

Socorro Renteria who also comes from Mexico is a resident of Guadalajara. Socorro is seventeen and the sister of Maria Elena Renteria who was also a foreign exchange student here at Miege last year. She finds that life in America "is not hard to adjust to but one thing that is very difficult for me to get use to is the climate which is either very hot or very cold."

Socorro wants to study music and art in college and in fact is a dance teacher in Guadalajara. She is staying at the home of Mary Kay Marx who was a graduate of Miege in 1963.

The third foreign exchange student is Sabine von Schack, 16, from Bonn, Germany. Sabine likes our school very much especially the Pep Club which they do not have in German schools.

Sabine finds that school here in America is very different from German schools. German students have eleven subjects and their school day begins at about 8:15 and ends at approximately 1:10. She is staying at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Connell.

As in previous years, various music groups will be invited to perform at Miege, according to Mrs. Dennihan, Music Director. Future plans include a percussion ensemble, a mixed chorus, a Dixieland jazz band, and the lyric opera.

Miegan's Join Christophers

Last summer Miegans Barb Shannon, Kathy Wise, Steve Gray, and Judy Asher worked and lived as part of Project Christopher. This project, which originated in Canada and is now spreading to the United States was designed to develop independence and responsibility in teenagers

The summer's activities began July 28 when all the Christophers met in Montreal. While staying at the homes of local Christophers, they visited Expo '67 and hiked twenty-five miles in a fund-raising campaign. Next they traveled seventy miles to South Bolton, where they stayed for about ten days. The purpose of their stay in South Bolton was to train for the various projects they were to undertake.

In teams of ten, with only a suitcase and a duffel bag apiece, the Christophers set out on their summer projects. Barb worked in Wa Wa, Ontario, Judy went to New Brunswick, Kathy worked in Nova Scotia, and Steve traveled across the Yukon to Teslin.

In Memoriam

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the family and friends of John Cipolla, a former Miege student who was killed in a shotgun accident on September 30.

John was a '67 graduate of Bishop Miege High School and a member of Cure of Ars Parish. Funeral services were held on October 4 at the church and burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

Frosh Pick Cheerleaders

FROSH PEP CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Freshmen Pep Club will be led this year by Gigi Larsen, president; Frankie Cox, vice-president; Debbie Baticic, Secretary; and Renee Shannon, Treasurer.

Nominations and elections were held at the first Frosh Pep Club meeting, Wednesday, September 20. Results of the elections were announced the following Friday.

Senior Cathy Svoboda will be the Freshmen Pep Club Moderator this year; she will be assisted by last year's president, Karen Zeleznak.

Students Participate In Politics

Bishop Miege was represented at Boys' State by Steve McGill, Tom Novick, and Mark Herlach during the week of June 4-10. Jane Dewees and Renee Ring attended the girls' session the following week, June 11-18. Both sessions were held at the University of Kansas in Lawrence.

This annual event, sponsored by the American Legion Organizations, consisted of instructions and actual parti-

Journalism Conferences Attended

To learn the techniques of producing interesting, informative publications, several students from Miege attended workshops at Manhattan and Lawrence.

Seven students attended the eighth Annual Publications Workshop at K. State, June 5th through 10th. Lisa Miller, Laura Manley, Barb Glennon, Sharon Nunnink, and Nancy Tipton

Tom Bugler, Senior, was one of forty-four high school students in the United States chosen to attend the Secondary Science Training Program at the University of Oklahoma last summer.

This math program was sponsored by the National Science Foundation in order to promote interest and further study in mathematics.

Debate Team Revived

After a year of idleness, the Miege Debate Team is once again in action. Coached by Miss Judy Bichelmeier, the team is composed of ten novice debaters: Charles Andreopoulos, Tim Carrigan, Kathee Condry, Mark Herlach, Debra Johnston, Paul Justus, Kevin Lyons, Dave Martin, Steve McGill, and Dave Perkins.

To prepare for the coming season, the debaters attended a debate clinic Saturday, September 16, at Wyandotte High School. Miege will be debating many schools during the first semester.

pation in the management of political parties and in the processes of state government.

Divided into counties, none of which consisted of two students from the same school, everyone was given a chance to hold some governmental position.

Governor Docking presided over the formal festivities which concluded the week-long activities.

At the State Conference at K.U. on September 23rd, Mary Pickard, Kathee Condry, and Donna Powell represented The Miegan, and Margie Adams, Kathy Fladung, and Kathy Grauberger, The Hart.

NEW CLUBS ESTABLISHED

In order to get more students involved in clubs this year, Student Congress started a campaign designed to give the clubs enough of a boost to get them going.

Since the success of the clubs depends on the students involved, Student Congress had all students name a club they would like to see at Miege and would be willing to be active in. Over thirty suggestions were made, and all of these were written on the "Involvement" poster which was in the cafeteria foyer. From these thirty, the twenty clubs which received the most backing were examined by Student Congress Officers, and the final fifteen clubs chosen were listed on a large poster which was also in the foyer.

After school Wednesday, September 27, the new clubs met in a designated room for the first time. There they filled out a form as to the purpose of their club, when their meetings would be, who their moderator would be, and their general plans for the year. The clubs were also asked to compose a charter and turn it in to one of the Student Congress Officers. So far, charters have been received from the following clubs: Art, Psychology, Drama, Industrial Arts, Photography, and Future Teachers.

A few clubs have already undertaken projects for this year. For instance, the Industrial Arts Club is making benches for the Student Lounge, and the Art Club is going to decorate certain bulletin boards throughout the school.

Homeroom Representatives Chosen

Homeroom representatives were nominated and elected during the week of September 11-15.

Elected as senior representatives were Susie Barnard, Dave Mathews, Tom Novick, Kathy Riordan, Mike Zeleznak, Ron Kellerman, and Tom Montgomery.

Mickey Barry, Bob Hensler, Mark Riscoe, Debbie Sawyer, Mark Portell, John Miller, Jim Dunn, Dennis Viene, and Bill Englander were chosen to represent the junior class.

In past years, The Miegan has accepted contributions from the student body. The only requirement is that all papers be signed. The Miegan staff wishes to continue this practice. Give any contributions to Sister Baptista or Peggy Wilkes.

Cheerleaders Show Ability

The Miege Varsity Cheerleaders attended a cheerleading clinic July 1-5 at Rock Springs Ranch outside of Manhattan and came back to Miege with a spirit stick and five ribbons.

Ribbons were awarded by judges each evening after competitions had taken place. The competitions consisted of two cheers, one that the girls were taught and one that they made up themselves. Our cheerleaders won four first place ribbons and one second place ribbon in these competitions.

Miege was one of four squads chosen as the most spirited and awarded the spirit stick at the end of the clinic. Approximately fifty squads were represented.

In the mornings, classes in cheers, tumblings, and pom pom routines were offered to the 350 girls attending the clinic. The afternoons were spent in practicing what was learned.

The girls who attended were: Sharon Nunnink, Lisa Miller, Cindy Meyer, Diane Sayers, Anita Martin, Hattie Ryan, and Judy O'Connell.

The sophomores picked Don Carney, Sue Ripper, John Caton, Phil Larkin, Theresa Garcia, Susan Rini, Dorcee Williams, and Terry Riordan as their representatives to Stu-Co.

Victory Flag Flies

To proclaim the greatness of the mighty Stags, the Victory Flag will be displayed after every football and basketball victory.

The flag is composed of a red, white, and blue M and the torch of victory.

NHS ELECTS OFFICERS

Election of officers on September 19 kicked-off this year's activities for Miege's Albertus Magnus Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Those elected officers are Tom Novick, President; Barb Albers, Vice-President; Jennifer Shea, Secretary; Kathee Condry, Treasurer.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

Frosh Officers: Peggy O'Connell, Treas.; Kathy Whitmore, Sec.; Debbie Brennar, Vice-Pres.; Mike Dana, Pres.

Sophs Hold Barbeque

The sophomore class danced to the beat of the "Disciples" at a barbecue held Sunday, September 24, in the back parking lot and student lounge. Proceeds from the barbecue will be used for homecoming.

The class of '68 was the first class to hold a barbecue when they were sophomores and since that time, it has become a fast-growing tradition at Miege.

HARRIERS OFF

With cross country in full swing, the team once again is looking toward a successful season. The returning varsity lettermen this year are Allen Floyd, Mike Bock, Paul Justus, and Kevin Harris. The only returning B-team letterman is Bob Floyd. The outlook for this season is boosted by the addition of Allen Rues, Tom Lynch, Mark Riscoe, Rick Dean, and Dave Nees.

In the first three meets of the season, the harriers have fared well. At a Quadrangular meet at Olathe, the team placed second behind Rosedale. The harriers accomplished this by occupying places sixth through ninth with Mike Bock leading the way.

Miege swept the next meet, a triangular at Swope Park, by taking six out of the first eight places. The team was again led by Mike Bock and Allen Floyd, who placed second and third.

Miege was edged again by Rosedale by one point in a seven squad meet at Rosedale. Rosedale took the first three places but Mike Bock was able to hold down fourth place.

Cain Stretches for Important First Down

Displaying a strong running attack, good blocking, and excellent defense, the Stags downed the Rockhurst Hawklets, 13-0, at Ward field on October 8th.

The game, originally scheduled for October 6th, was held up due to inclement weather, but not even the weather could stop the Stags, who went all the way the first time they got the ball.

The big play in the drive was a 26 yard draw play to Rich Cain, which put the Stags close enough for Mark Geraghty to take it over from the three.

The Stags struck again in the second quarter with Mike O'Rourke driving his way over from the six. In both of these drives it was evident that the Miege offensive line was superior.

In the second half a clipping penalty nullified a brilliant 97 yard run by Mark Geraghty, but the Stags, even though held scoreless, controlled the ball the majority of the time.

The Hawklets were never able to get their powerful offense started because of the stalwart play of the defensive team. Ron Kellerman, Wes Hickman, and Jim Schumm were standouts who helped run the defense's string to sixteen quarters without yielding a point.

STATISTICS

	Miege	Rockhurst
First Downs	15	3

STAGS TURN BEARS

The Stags, behind the bull-like running of Rich Cain, downed the Turner Bears 27-7 on the losers field, September 29.

Cain crossed the goal line three times on runs of 4, 17, and 1 yards. Mark Geraghty scored the other touchdown on an 18-yard scamper around the left end.

Turner's lone score came on a pass interception against the Miege offense, keeping the defense unscored upon in three games. The stout defense was again led by John Shigouri, Pat Larkin, Mike Peterson, and Pete Bower.

J.V. Takes Two

The Junior Varsity, under the guidance of Coach Jerry Gannon, followed in the Varsity footsteps by sweeping past St. Pius and Argentine.

Against St. Pius, the Stags ran up the score to 20-0 with Chris Mercer and Mark Scanlon leading the scoring. Again at Argentine it was Mercer crossing the goal line twice as the Stags triumphed 26-6. Greg Wild and Jim Hostes also scored for the Stags.

Stags Corral Mustangs

The Stags chalked up their second straight victory over the Argentine Mustangs, 38-0, on September 22 at the Argentine Field.

The Stags struck quickly with two touchdowns in the first quarter, one in the second, one in the third, and two more in the final period.

The scoring was led by Mike O'Rourke and Hank Bauer, Jr., with two tallies apiece. Rick Cain exploded on a 67-yard touchdown, and Dennis Kirk added the final six points.

The defense did an outstanding job, holding their opponents scoreless for the second straight week.

Service Committee On The Go

Besides the Annual Talent Show put on by the Service Committee each year, the committee has many more projects lined up for this year.

On October 31, the Service Committee members, headed by Kathee Condry, visited various orphanages and children's wards in hospitals to celebrate "Halloween." Dressed in costume, they passed out Halloween candy and put on skits for them to make their Halloween Day complete.

On November 17, the committee held an "involvement" night. A combo, the "Blue Haze" played in the student lounge, while a folksinger, Mark Hilderbrand, from the popular "Twelve Plus One Club" sang in the cafeteria to get everyone involved. The cafeteria was decorated to resemble a coffee house to set the mood for the night. Admission was fifty cents and one book in reasonably good condition. These books will be given to St. Mary's Hospital.

Teri Conry was in charge of the money raising bake sales for this event.

November 20, at 2:45 in the Audio Visual Room, Mrs. Flickers from the Kansas City Association for retarded children was a guest speaker and talked about K.C.A.R.C. and their launch project which will be around Thanksgiving.

Kim Kirkland announced that if anyone is interested in ushering at various shows at the Music Hall to please contact her or Ginny Stiles and obtain the necessary information.

If you are interested in any of the above projects or in becoming a member of the Service Committee attend the meetings.

Pennies Bring Life

The United Fund Campaign held here at Miege from October 23-27 proved to be a great success, according to Bob Latz, Student Council Treasurer.

In previous years, the students contributed to their homeroom representative or chairman, but this year the campaign was conducted differently. Jars were set up in the cafeteria for each class. The students were to put pennies in their own class jars and silver in the other class jars. Each penny in the jar counted as plus one point. Each piece of silver counted as minus the value of the coin. No quotas were set.

The class with the most points at the end of the week received four class points. The results are as follows:

Seniors	-$ 9.03
Frosh	-$ 6.00
Sophs	+$ 1.87
Juniors	+$42.41
Total	305.62

Spirit Grows

Red shoelaces, giant spirit tags, and go-Stags-beat'em determination are all new tactics of the Honor M to build spirit throughout the week of a game.

The Honor M has initiated many new activities in this its third year of existence.

During football season this year, the traditional M was formed on the field after the football team had run through the posters made by the girls.

During Homecoming halftime activities the Honor M formed a crown and an M in honor of the homecoming royalty.

Shelia Pyle, Honor M president, comments, "The purpose of the Honor M is to create spirit throughout the school."

Honor M is composed of the 21 seniors and 10 juniors who have compiled the most points in the Pep Club.

Open the Doors?

In the past few weeks here at Miege there have been quite a few complaints voiced concerning the time the doors are opened in the morning.

Students contend the doors are not opened early enough to allow them the privilege of using the library, arranging appointments, or doing some sort of business with the office before school starts. Protests against the "inhumanity of letting us stand out here and freeze to death" are also heard. Bus riders are especially vehement on this point. They also call attention to the fact that, since they do ride the bus, they cannot stay after school to use the library facilities, and that their teachers often do not let them leave the classroom, even if they do let them have a study period.

The administration has given several reasons for the opening time, the principal one being the vandalism that takes place when the students are let in without adequate personnel to supervise them. The office staff does not usually arrive before 8:00, so even if they were allowed in, students could not carry out any necessary business until that time.

Teachers say that the extra time they have in the morning before students arrive allows them to run off copies of tests, quizzes, and notes for their classes, without being disturbed by people running in and out of the office.

The lounge is always supposed to be open for students who must be here early, and, if there appear to be too many coming, the cafeteria will be opened when the weather is bad.

The library can be used by students during their study time on Tuesdays and Thursdays, if they want to use it. Maybe an arrangement could be made so that the library, in addition to the lounge and the cafeteria, could be opened to students in the morning.

The Miegan staff would like to remind the student body that Student Soundings is a regular feature of the paper. As we have done this month we will also print any replies that may be made to the students who have expressed their opinions.

This is YOUR column. Use it. This is your chance to take action and be involved.

The Other Side...

In last month's issue of the Miegan, a letter was featured criticizing the lack of library privileges to the student body.

In reality, there is no such lack. The semi-modular system this year allows the student to use the library any time he wishes during the free time on Tuesdays and Thursdays. During the rest of the week, students are welcome to come to the library during the second, or "study," half of their classes. In this area it is up to the individual teacher as to whether students will be allowed to study in the library or not.

Although there sometimes is no one in the library after 3:00, it usually remains open until 3:30 for the benefit of the one or two students who do occasionally come in after school. Sr. Juliana has stated that she "would be happy to keep the library open until 4:00 every night, if there were students who wanted to use the available facilities." Apparently, no one does, however, since the library remains empty night after night.

It is unfortunate that the administration was forced to use the library for meetings at the beginning of the year, but the new schedule presented quite a few problems that had to be solved as soon as possible. Now that the system is installed and appears to be working, meetings will not be held so often as to disrupt student use of library privileges.

The library is there. All you have to do is use it.

BOOKS IN MIEGE

October 29th to November 4th were the dates of the 49th Annual National Book Week. This year's theme "Take Off With Books," was promoted through the posters seen in the halls during Book Week, provided by Miss O'Neil's Art II class.

The purpose of Book Week, in Sister Juliana's own words, is "To acquaint the general public with good reading and new books." Sister had a display of new books on exhibit in the library, and teachers received a list of all classified new books added to our library since September 22.

Also, to aid in the success of Book Week, Library Handbooks were placed in all classrooms on Monday. The handbook was compiled early in Fall by Sister Juliana; and she hopes, through the use of these books, both student and teacher will learn to use the library to their best advantage.

Miss Bichelmeier's third hour drama class will present "The Little Dog Laughed" to the public on December 2 and 3. Plans for the play, a three-act comedy, are now being completed.

TOP TEN TUNES

1. "Come Back When You Grow Up" dedicated to all Freshmen.
2. "Higher and Higher" dedicated to Senior boys.
3. "Silence Is Golden" dedicated to the students with detention.
4. "Make Every Minute Count" dedicated to the faculty.
5. "Gimme a Little Sign" dedicated to Mr. Gannon, geometry teacher.
6. "Gettin Together" dedicated to the Moose Pack and the Pep Club.
7. "Just a Little Bit of Soul" dedicated to the religion classes.
8. "San Franciscan Night" dedicated to Miss Lucas.
9. "Apples, Peaches, Pumpkin Pie" dedicated to Mr. Frazier.
10. "My Cup Runneth Over" dedicated to Mrs. Koch.

Gym Open to Boys

Immediately after the football season Mr. Mohlman, boys' physical education instructor, is going to open the gym for an hour every day after school to any boy interested in using the equipment.

The new trampoline in the gym is only one of the many items that has been purchased this year for the physical education classes. In the opinion of Mr. Mohlman, "It is a definite improvement to the physical education program and a much needed item."

Additional equipment now available to the physical education classes are the parallel bars, the horizontal bars, peg board, ropes, and mats for both tumbling and floor exercises.

The main purpose of this new equipment is to give the boys an opportunity to improve their coordination and activity.

Homecoming a Success

The five finalists for the 1967 Bishop Miege Homecoming were presented with their fathers Thursday night, October 26th, before the Homecoming Mass.

The entire football team, the Glee Club, and the Choir participated in the Mass, which was held in the gym.

The next activity, the Homecoming ceremony, was held during the half-time of the Homecoming game Friday night. The red and white float provided a fitting throne for the queen and her attendants. Each girl was escorted to the throne by her father and crowned by Ric North. The fourth attendant's bouquet was presented to Kathy A. Walsh by her driver, Tom Gleissner. Third attendant Dona Odrowski's flowers were given to her by driver Pat North. Lisa Miller was named second attendant as John Dold gave her her bouquet, and Peggy Clune's driver, Terry English, presented her flowers to her.

Barb Edwards was named 1967 Homecoming Queen as Rick Standard presented her with the Queen's bouquet.

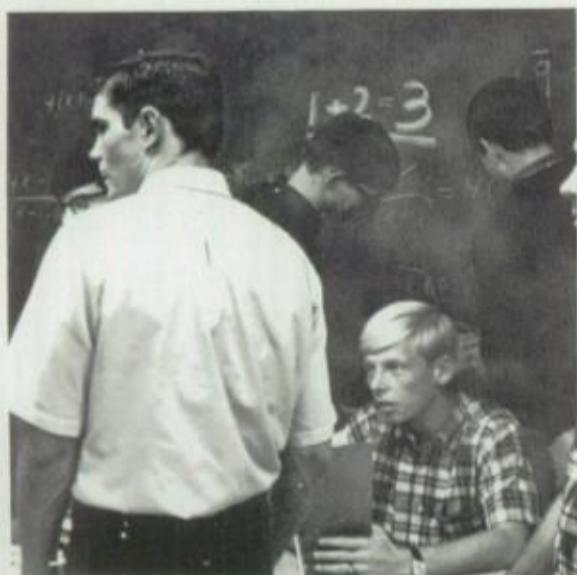

The highlight of the Homecoming activities was the dance held Saturday night in the Miege gym. The theme "A Skyway to Tomorrow" was expressed in psychedelic lights and pictures, while the Chontels provided music to dance to.

The dance floor entrance, a dark cave, provided a measure of contrast for the lights within. During breaks in the dancing, couples could study the Mickey Mouse cartoon on the wall.

The queen and her court were presented as they walked through a beautifully decorated aisle to the throne. Barb and her attendants were led to the dance floor by their escorts.

The 1967 Bishop Miege Homecoming festivities were pronounced a complete success by all who attended.

MATH CLUB ACTIVE

Math Club members discuss brain teasers.

The first meeting of The Exponent, the Miege math club, was held on Oct. 11th. This is the 10th year for the Math Club here at Miege, and the 7th year it has been a chapter of Mu Alpha Theta, the national math club organization.

Elections were held at the first meeting to determine officers for the club this year. Mark Herlach was elected president, Allen Rues, vice-president, Mary Pickard, secretary, and Mike Weilert, treasurer.

The group attended the 16th Annual Science, Mathematics, and Engineering Day at K.U. in Lawrence on Nov. 11th, which provided them with an opportunity to become acquainted with the activities and facilities of the University in those fields. Departmental exhibits included demonstrations in the various fields, lectures, films, and curricula information for interested students.

The Math Club plans to be more active this year both in school and out. Co-operative sponsorship of activities such as the Mardi Gras will be part of the schedule, which will include several trips to colleges, plants and factories where mathematics plays an important part in production problems.

Meetings, held every two weeks, are always open to students who may be interested. They are welcome to drop in any time.

New Religion

Putting into practice a topic that has long been discussed, the religion department has decided that no grades will be given in religion this year. This new technique is being used so that grades will not be used as a hammer.

Father Krische, head of the religion department, commented, "A person's relationship with God must be in a free atmosphere and we want the religion classes to create an atmosphere of freedom. We want students to concentrate on the truths of our faith instead of working only for a grade. We believe that there has been too much emphasis upon the intellectual approach to religion and we hope that the no grade system will put additional emphasis upon the voluntary." Every religion class should be a religious experience and each student has to make a decision at every class. There must be a free response or it is no good.

Last, but certainly not least, we would like to welcome the new religion faculty: Father Albertson, who comes to Miege from Hayden High School in Topeka; Father Vincent who taught in a high school in Denver, Colorado last year; and Father Spencer, who is from St. Joseph High School in Shawnee. Welcome to Miege!

Feature Teacher

Miss Lucas is the head of the English department here at Miege. Since she has been here for seven years, she knows a good deal about Miege and what is going on here.

She has a great interest in the student body, and she believes that she understands the 'younger generation' fairly well. On a trip to California last summer, she visited the Haight-Ashbury district of San Francisco. Although she does not approve of the Hippies living there, she says she was not as shocked at them as her friends were.

She had her own measure of problems as she was touring the West this summer, however. She was stranded in a small town for almost a week while her new car was being repaired from a small accident. Everything was not all bad, however; she says, "I managed to get a good tan while I was there."

INVOLVEMENT

SCHOOL SPOTLIGHT

On November 11, Wyandotte's Drama Club presented the play, "Grass Harp." Miss Carol Holiday reigned over their Homecoming on October 6 and 7.

North presented a play the 18th and 19th of November called, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois." There was a debate tournament at North on October 27 for Sophomores from twenty-one schools. North's Homecoming was October 13th and 14th. The chosen Queen was Debbie Higgins.

South will present the play, "Barefoot in the Park" on December 7 and 8. Their United Fund Campaign ended October 20 in which South and East competed to see who would raise the most money. South is giving a concert to which only the Shawnee Mission schools are invited. One of the following groups will entertain: Paul Revere and the Raiders; the Beach Boys; Peter, Paul, and Mary; Sonny and Cher; or Jefferson Airplane.

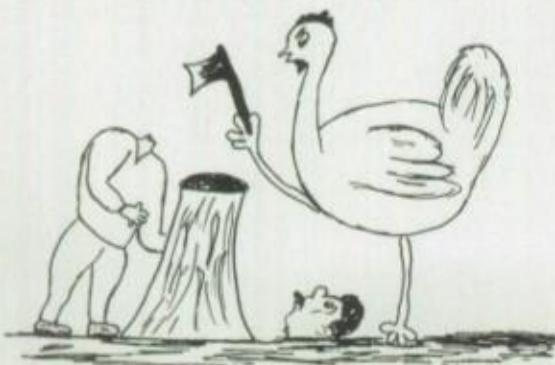

East presented on November 17th and 18th the play, "You Can't Take It With You." Queen Perry Patterson reigned over their homecoming on October 21.

Raytown South presented "Antione" on November 16th and 17th. Penny Alewel was crowned October 20th as Homecoming queen.

Rockhurst presented a talent show on October 20th and 21st. Homecoming queen Jenny Gibson reigned over the Rockhurst festivities on October 13th and 14th.

Debate Gets Underway

The newly established debate team is off to a good start. So far the debaters have participated in tournaments at Emporia, Wyandotte, and Shawnee Mission West. The members of the team have displayed exceptional ability for novices.

Miege is now well established in the field of debate, and the team feels very optimistic about future debates. The next tournament the team will participate in is November 17 and 18 in Leavenworth.

Origin Uncovered

"You're a grand old school, You're a high-minded school . . ."

When these glad refrains spur the Stags on to victory during football and basketball seasons, few Miegians realize that our own Sister Georgetta made this priceless contribution to our repertoire.

Sister entered the song in a contest sponsored by the school newspaper when she was a Sophomore at St. Agnes High School. Since she was Feature Editor of the paper that year, Sister didn't plan to enter the contest. Her friends, however, convinced her to enter, and she wrote the song on the evening before the contest closing by beating it out with one finger on the piano.

Sister Georgetta remarked, "I don't remember much about writing the song. Maybe I pressed it out of my mind because I felt so guilty about winning the contest."

MIEGIANS TO TUTOR

One of the many volunteer programs being engaged in by Miege students this year is tutoring at Niles and Brown's. Niles Home for Children, located at 23rd and Paseo, is an orphanage for Negro children.

These children usually come from broken families and have a great deal of trouble in their school subjects especially reading and math. The Miege students tutoring at Niles try to help these children catch up with the grade level they should be in. They tutor at Niles every Thursday from 3:30 to 4:45.

Those tutoring at Brown's, which is a center for underprivileged Negro children, are also helping them with school subjects in which they are having particular difficulty. Brown's is located at 12th and Highland and Miege students tutor there every Monday from 3:30 to approximately 4:45.

Those Miegians tutoring at Niles Home for children are: Kathy Mertes, Nancy Crandall, Louise Federspiel, Peggy Ryan, Betsy Ritter, Joanne Driscoll, Debbie Wills, Betsy Carter, Sharon Muehlbach, Kathy Finnerty, Karen Klein, Mary Jean Daly, Christine Long, and Ann Muehlbach.

Those students tutoring at Browns Center are Kathy Mertes, Suzy Mertes, Ann Muehlbach, Ann Dixon, and Linda Flake.

MIEGIANS CHOSEN FOR SEMINAR

Thomas Bugler, Anita Evjy, Mark Herlach, and Mike Weilert are among 109 seniors from 33 area high schools selected from 182 applicants to participate in the UMKC 'Saturday Seminar' program being held for the third consecutive year.

At each monthly session from now through May, students will hear a UMKC professor give a lecture-presentation of a stimulating topic in his aca-

DRAMA CLUB ACTIVITIES

The Drama Club this year is really becoming an active organization in school life. Miss Bichelmeier, the club's moderator, has made plans for attending several movies and plays, and for the first time in four years, we will have a school play.

The first movie to be viewed by the future "Actors" and "Actresses" will be the four hour production of "Gone With The Wind." However, to the apparent delight of the other students in the school, this movie is not just for the drama club. Altogether 110 students will attend the showing on December 8.

The club meets every other Monday to plan activities. The school play, to be held in March, will be cast by members of the Drama Club, the Drama class, and Mrs. Dennihan's music classes.

Lisa Miller has been selected by WHB's Jonny Dolan to report the news from Miege every week.

Lisa can be heard every Wednesday evening giving the news highlights of the week and the top three tunes for the week selected by Miege students.

To vote for your favorite tunes, place the ballots in the WHB box under the cafeteria foyer. Lisa urges everyone to vote every week.

demic field.

The high school seniors thus get an opportunity to participate in a meaningful dialogue with college professors and their "academically talented" peers on prevailing ideas in a variety of college subjects.

"The Seminars are a UMKC service program to enrich the student's senior year and to make his move to college more effective," says Mrs. Mary Merryman, co-director of the Seminars.

Students each year have found the Seminars worthwhile and have recommended them to other students. "This word-of-mouth enthusiasm, more than anything else, accounts for the program's growing popularity," Mrs. Merryman said. Applications to attend the Saturday Seminars are made through the high school principal or counselor.

MIEGIANS SELL MAGAZINES

The second part of the money making projects for the school has begun and is in full swing. The Freshmen and Junior classes are participating in the project by selling "Quality School Plan" magazines which include some such as Life, Seventeen, McCalls, Sports Illustrated, and various others.

The sale started Monday, November 13, and will end in two weeks.

Cash prizes will be given daily for the student who sells the most magazines.

At the end of the sale, both the candy and the magazine sales will be tallied

PAUL O'CONNELL DEFIES ODDS

Mr. Paul O'Connell, a member of the Miege faculty, took time out this month to fly with his Naval reserve unit. Mr. O'Connell, who was gone from November 6th-17th, is a lieutenant in the Navy Reserves and a navigator on a four-engine transport plane.

Mr. O'Connell and the rest of the crew left from Olathe on November 6th to pick up their cargo in Alameda

NHS MEMBERS HELP OTHERS

Again this year the National Honor Society has undertaken the project of tutoring those Miege students who need extra help with their studies.

N.H.S. members who have volunteered their services as tutors are: Kathee Condry, Mark Herlach, Debbie Johnston, Lois Ruhl, Diane Sayers, Cathy Svoboda, Marilyn Thies, and Greg Wetzel.

Any student who would like help should give his name to Sister Georgetta in the guidance office.

Lois Ruhl gives service to Miege by tutoring.

and class competition points will be given to the class who did the best in their sale.

Faculty To Evaluate

Tuesday, Oct. 24, at 11:30, 1,023 students were released from school. It seems that the faculty were having a conference with North Central Accrediting Association. It was the beginning of a self evaluation program for our school. This program will continue until the end of the year.

Naval Base in Oakland, California. After stopping off at Barber's Point, Hawaii, Wake Island, and Guam for refueling, they arrived at Subic Bay in the Philippines. From there they made two trips to Viet Nam; one to Da Nang and one to Chu Lai to deliver their cargo.

On the way back home, they stopped at Atsugi Naval Base in Japan, Midway, Hawaii, and Alameda.

Meige Tough On Road

Traveling 150 miles to pick up their fifth victory, the Stags defeated the Helias Crusaders 13-10 at Jefferson City, October 15.

Coach Frazier said, "Our execution was not up to par, but we played gutsy, hard-hitting football." He explained that it takes a good team to comeback, and comeback we did.

Helias scored first on a 27-yard touchdown pass, to excite their Homecoming crowd. This was the first time the Stag defense had been scored upon, but it wasn't the last. Minutes later, Dale Amick split the uprights with a stunning 40-yard field goal to make the score 10-0.

The Stags, although down, were not to be counted out. Mark Geraghty quickly teamed up with Tom Novick for a 12-yard scoring strike leaving the halftime score at 10-6.

The third quarter was a defensive battle as the Stag defense held the Crusaders for 4 downs inside the 3.

Midway through the final quarter, John Garner caught a Mark Geraghty aerial for an 87-yard score. Rick Cain added the P.A.T. making the final score 13-10.

This victory was sweetened by the fact that our "rival Paper," The Kansas City Star had Helias ranked number 2 in outstate Missouri.

Harriers Look Good

With cross country season nearing an end, the harriers are still going strong.

In the Ottawa invitational they placed third out of twenty teams. Mike Bock was the medalist from the Miege team, and he accomplished that by taking ninth place. The harriers came through the Miege Triangular with a perfect score of fifteen points. They did this by taking the first five places. The team also won the Paseo Dual. They again showed good form by occupying places second through sixth with Mike Bock leading the way. The harriers suffered a setback in the Lawrence Invitational by placing third behind Lawrence and Sumner.

FROSH FARE WELL

The Freshman Football squad in its first taste of high school football has fared well. After an opening game defeat at the hands of the Ward Cyclones 12-0, the Stags have come back with five successive victories.

The powerful offense, which has scored 104 points, has been led by two capable quarterbacks, Bruce Adams and Jim McGill. Adams displayed his talents against De La Salle scoring three touchdowns in a 26-7 victory, while McGill played exceptionally well against Argentine in a 19-0 victory.

The young gridders have also played fine defense limiting their opponents to 19 points.

Both Coach Reardon and Murphy feel this is one of the best freshman squads Miege has ever had.

Miege	Opp.

Stags Tame Cats

The Stags made Homecoming a success by shutting out Rosedale 21-0 at Ward field on Oct. 27.

Miege combined for two tallies in the first half to take a 14-0 lead into the locker room. The first score was the end result of a 65 yard drive with Mark Geraghty taking it in from the one. The next touchdown came when Rick Cain ran an end sweep that turned into a 75 yard gallop.

In the start of the second half, there looked to be more of the same when Pat Larkin intercepted a pass and went 30 yards for the score, but a clipping penalty nullified the touchdown. The rest of the half continued to be a scoreless dual until Hank Bauer scored from 37 yards out on the last play of the game.

Mike Bock shows running ability.

Cadets Edge Stags

The De La Salle Cadets staged a second half comeback to hand the Stags their first defeat of the season, 14-13, at Ward field on October 21st.

The Stags struck first when Rich Cain broke loose for a 38-yd. score. The P.A.T. was nullified on a holding penalty and the second attempt failed, leaving the half-time score at 6-0.

The De La Salle team came out ready to play football in the second half. They wasted no time in putting their fourteen points on the scoreboard, scoring one T.D. on a 50-yd pass play, and the other on a punt return that De La Salle fumbled, recovered, and went all the way on.

The Stags scored in the closing minutes of the game on a 35-yd. pass play to Mike O'Rourke.

The victory moved the Cadets to 3-4 for the season and left the Stags at 5-1.

For Those Who Care

Care? Care about what? A famous person as John F. Kennedy — a fatal war as Vietnam — a special place as Bishop Miege High School — or a changing idea as spirit.

Spirit — changing? Around this school in certain areas it is; however, it's not always for the betterment of the school. A few students who don't take the time to think before they destroy are the "spirit depriver's." Destruction? Yes, the destruction of school spirit displayed in the halls of Miege.

Sure, we have the spirit to yell at pep assemblies and the spirit to push our team onto a victory but what kind of spirit is ripping, tearing-down, and marking-out posters?

Proof of this situation is in the halls of school every day where the corruption of the posters takes place the day they are put up. Those few students don't seem to realize all the time, effort, and work that goes into making these posters. What kind of spirit is it?

Remember the half-time activities at the Homecoming game? Paper airplanes, candy-apples, sticks, and cups were thrown at the cheerleaders and royalty while they were circling the field. Is this an appreciation of Miege and of those who represent the school? What did Rosedale think of us? Our parents? Friends? The alumni? Most important, what did fellow Miegians think of this conduct coming from their own school?

What can be done about these few who evidently don't care about Miege? Such punishments as points or detention would not help the poster situation but instead would probably create more conflicts within the school. However, every individual could tell these poster destroyers how the school, on the whole, feels about them and how they are really down-grading the school when visitors walk down the halls only to see childish scribbles or faces marked all over the posters.

School activities and posters are for the students benefit — so why not take a little pride in them! If you don't like what you see, then go to poster parties and tell them what you don't like and make suggestions on how to improve them. Don't wait until the posters are put up then make your suggestions on them!

If you are getting sick of hearing about this situation then LOOK and THINK — What can be done about this childish play? How can it be stopped? Who can stop it? Not everyone can accomplish this, only — THOSE WHO CARE!!!

RUMORS REFUTED

Prior to the first production of the drama department, The Little Dog Laughed, rumors in the halls suggested that the drama department was in great confusion as to just what it intended to produce this year.

Actually only two productions have ever been planned for this year, one for the first semester and one for the second semester. However, several possibilities were considered before these productions were selected.

The second semester production dates are set for March 1 and 2. At this time the drama department is not certain about what will be presented on those dates. But there will be a production.

Student Soundings

Because of our complacency and procrastination in the addition of new words to our vocabularies, we are being subjected, certainly with compunction and antipathy on our parts, by etymologists, philologists, and our illustrious teacher, to the mental trauma of the publication: 30 Days to a More Powerful Vocabulary. Certainly the merits of this endeavor are not to be called inane, but even the erudite would consider this quixotic study of words both banal and pompous. Even the great endurance of a stoic would be tried if this so-called panacea and formula for epicureanism and success were inflicted on him. This vitriolic desire to satiate the students of the day, to the point of enervation and ennui with words, attempting to make them members of the intelligentia and elite is flagrant, inane, and will be an eventual fiasco. The whole idea is an abortive move. These words we have been forced to memorize will sit in our minds and vegetate, to be used intermittently or not at all, or if used, used in a perfunctory manner.

All The World's a Stage

"The Little Dog Laughed," and the audience did their share, too, at the Senior Drama Class production of this three act comedy by Vera and Ken Tarpley. Presented at Miege on Saturday and Sunday evening (December 2 and 3) under the direction of Miss Judy Bichelmeier, the play was the first dramatic presentation of the '67-'68 school year.

In short, the story involved Laurie Huntington, (played by Cathy Rapp) a college sophomore majoring in psychology, who was shocked to find instead of ". . . a normal, well-adjusted family . . . a bunch of psychological knots." Her brother (played by Tom Montgomery) summed it up better — "Nuts!" Laurie attempted to unite these "knots," but her family gained the upper hand, and put a few cracks in her "shell!" Sid, Laurie's father (played by Ric North), was a bit shocked himself at the change that had come over his daughter; his wife (Janie McEwen) was also rather upset with the surprising outcome of her afternoon tea.

Others in the cast taken by Laurie's conniving were: the maid, Sandy Roth; and family friends, Chris Hayward, Wes Hickman, Diane McCue, Sheila O'Gorman, Kathy Mertes, Mike Owens, Dave Perkins, Jan Raidl, Mary Rose, and Cathy Svoboda.

A lot of credit goes to Cathy Svoboda, stage manager; Julie La Gue, assistant; and to all the crews necessary for the success of such a production, including: Set Construction: Marilyn Theis, Terry Phelps, Chris Hayden, chairman.

Props: Meg Glander, Chris Doyle, Marjie Spaniel.

Make Up: Kathy C. Walsh, Cindy Meyer, Terry Phelps, Connie Cramer.

Lights: Ric North, Tom Montgomery, Chris Barr, Robbie Golub.

All those involved in the play are to be commended on their terrific job. The cast was excellent, and the cooperation of the crews on the whole were tremendous.

These people were engaged in a very noteworthy presentation, because "The Little Dog Laughed" was, in fact, the first play we've had at Miege since the April '63 production, "My Ego and I." The Drama department, up to the present year, has not been capable of handling a production on so large a scale.

However, our department, headed by Miss Bichelmeier, hoped to resolve this problem; and after viewing the success of "The Little Dog Laughed" it appears a very sturdy foundation is being laid for future productions.

President's Opinions

"So far the Senior Class has distinguished itself by its pep, enthusiasm, and involvement," says John Dold, Senior class president. "The Senior class has already sponsored the successful Homecoming Mass, and hopes to continue its success in such projects as a Senior sponsored mixer, a Senior trip, a class gift, and an after-graduation party."

Enthusiastic, energetic, and exceedingly ambitious best describes the class of '70, in Mike Milazzo's opinion. Sophomore participation in the Stu-Co's theme of involvement was tested by their Homecoming Float.

"This year is the most active year for the class of '69," says Pat Silady, Junior Class president. "In October the Juniors sponsored a 'coathanger' drive, organized the Homecoming motorcade, presented flowers to the Homecoming royalty, and placed first in the United Fund drive. In November we participated in the magazine sale. Prom will be the main activity for us this year."

"The Freshman class has the potential and willingness to be the best class Miege has ever had," comments Mike Dana, Freshman class president. "The freshmen are very high-spirited and are seeking many goals including class projects varying from mixers to shows, but nothing can be achieved without class unity. Therefore, the theme for the Freshmen class this year is 'Unity'."

Pep Club Honors Spirit-Makers

As in previous years, the Miege Pep Club again this year awarded Pepster Awards to the girls who best exemplified the spirit of the Pep Club during the football season. The awards were given to the three girls from each class who showed the most spirit during the football games.

WE WONDER . . .

How the Cross-Country Team can be so successful with such little backing?

Why we still haven't had Field Day?

How much we are trusted seeing as the johns are closed on Tuesdays and Thursdays?

How long Tom Novick will keep his tradition of not attending any Miege Homecomings or Proms?

If the Seniors appreciate their privileges of using the Student Lounge on Tuesdays and Thursdays?

If Ric North has really been "pegged?"

What B.D.A. stands for?

If the Freshmen like Miege so far?

BABY FACE

You'll never know this picture of bliss,
With cloddy shoes and curls that twist.
Don't let the bloomers make your mouth fall,
For she may distress and get dramatiCALL.
To some of us she's just Miss B.,
To others she's an expert in poetry.
Her eyes are bright, her smile is shy,
But don't let her fool you — she's pretty sly.

Administration Pulls Through

A much needed and greatly appreciated free day was recently bestowed on both the faculty and the students. The purpose was to create "an oasis in the desert" as Father Sullivan aptly stated. The reason, every faithful Miegan remembers, was due to Miege's spectacular win over Rockhurst on Oct. 8. The date for this vacation was scheduled immediately after football season on Friday, Nov. 17. The reason for it being scheduled then was so that the students would remember the cause for their vacation.

Girls' Soccer Finals

Last month, the girls' Physical Education Classes, who have been playing soccer during class time, held a play-off tournament to find the best soccer team.

The final play-off between the champion second hour team, with Gail Rittenhouse as captain, and the champs of third hour team, Frances Hirt, captain, was held on November 15th.

The girls' soccer champions, winning by a score of 4-0, are Frances Hirt's third hour team. Members on the team are: Kathy Wudeman, Katie Furnish, Kathy Yeado, Patti Le Pri, Linda Minor, Sandy Van le berg, Ramona Wright, Sandy Torres, Marietta Cleer and Nancy McVey.

Soccer and other sports are not the only objects of interest in the classes, however. On November 22nd, Belinda Haroldson, a freshman at Western Illinois University, gave a demonstration of modern dance techniques to all the girls. Belinda is the sister of sophomore Karen Haroldson.

Feature Teacher

A familiar face to many of us is that of Sr. de Lourdes. She is a graduate of Saint Theresa's College, now known as Avila College. Before she came to Miege, she taught at Holy Trinity in Paola.

This past summer she attended Kansas State Teachers College for 10 weeks on an NDEA grant. She has been working toward her Master's degree in Librarianship.

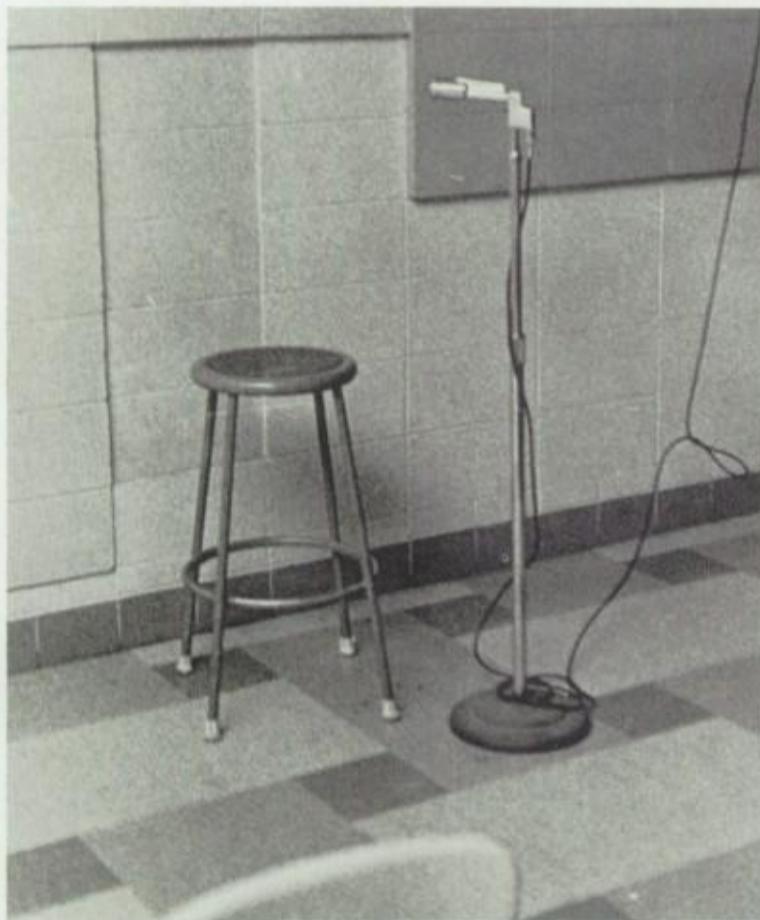

Asked what she thought of the students here at Miege, she replied, "Miege students, as a group, demonstrate potential for excellent achievement in many fields. There are a few who fail to use the ability and the opportunities they have, but the number of these is small. I think Miege's student body is great. It is a privilege and a joy to work with them."

"Barb, I do Not need a note from my mother if I miss the game!"

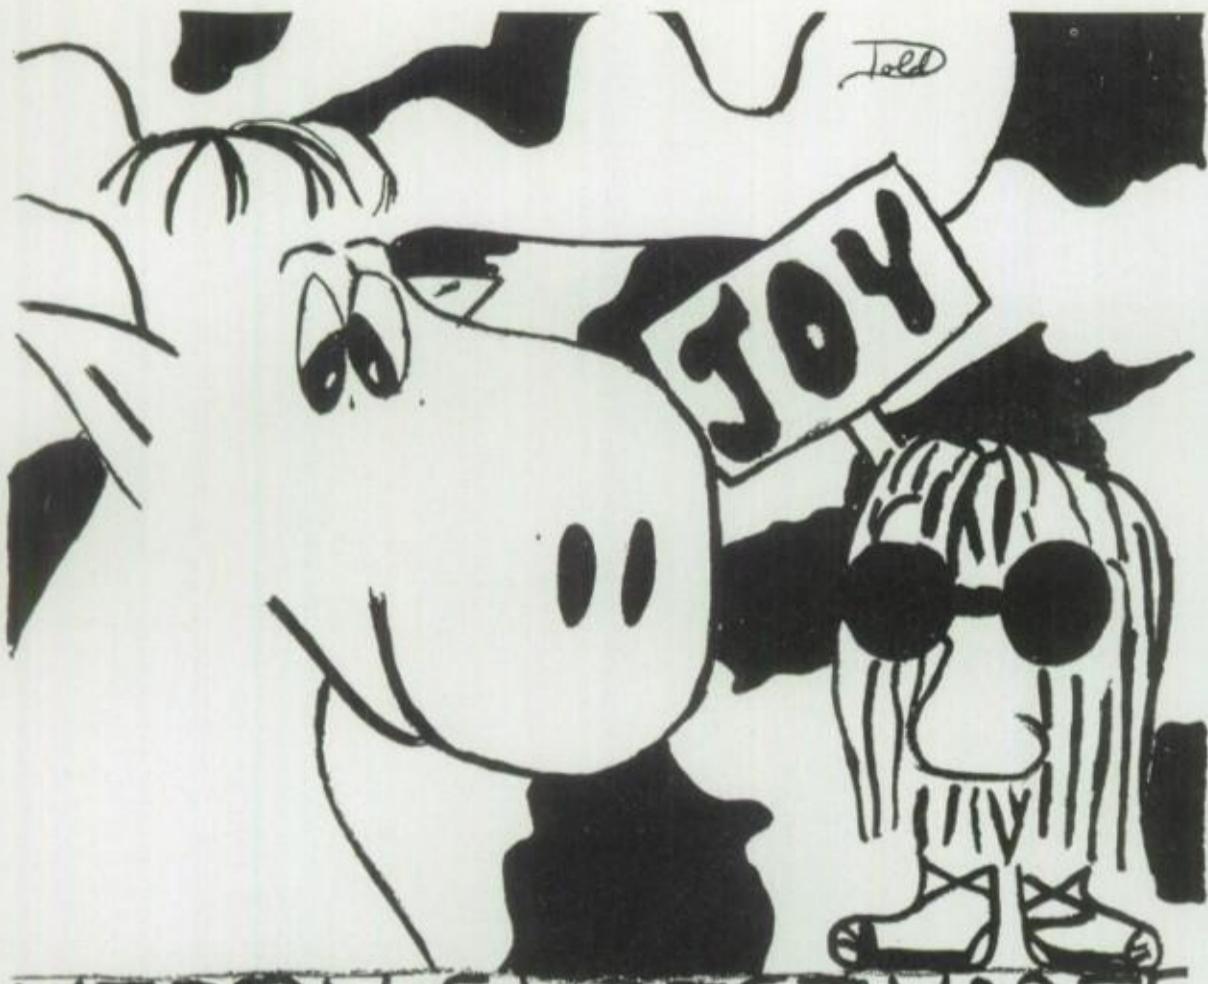

"Come on, Lord -Just one little basket!"

"Hear ye, hear ye: Will whoever stole Mr. Reardon please bring him back."

"Now Barb, it takes fewer muscles to smile than it does to frown."

MERRY CHRIST-MOOSE HIPPY NEW YEAR THE MIEGIAN STAFF

Drama Students
To Compete

The Drama Department has received an invitation to the Speech Festival to be held at the University of Missouri at Kansas City on January 27. Miege will send one entry in each of the following categories: Extemporaneous speaking, Public speaking, Radio speaking, Drama reading, and Duet acting. Auditions for each of the categories will be held after school on January 4 in room 37.

The department also received an invitation to an acting workshop at Avila College on January 13. The workshop entitled "The Method in Action" will be conducted by George Wasko, former assistant director and actor at The Circle Theatre, with students enrolled in his Advanced Acting class at Avila.

During the workshop, participants will see theory in practice, exercise in technique, and scene work. There will be discussion by the director and the performing students. Members of the audience will have an opportunity to ask questions; a few will have the opportunity to perform.

Miegians Vie For Honors

On December 3, 4, and 5, Miege's three National Merit Scholarship Semi-Finalists, Mark Herlach, Mary Pickard, and Mike Weilert, attended scholarship competition finals at the University of Kansas in Lawrence.

The boys competed with about seventy other young men for the Summerfield Scholarship while Mary was tested against about forty girls for the Watkins Scholarship. The scholarships range in allotments from $100 to $1,700 (a full scholarship).

The students were tested in Math and English, and were also given a battery of psychology and personality tests.

Homerooms Adopt Families

Again this year, each homeroom adopted a family for Christmas. Food, clothing, toys, etc., were collected for the families during the week of Dec. 11-15. This year, instead of distributing the food ourselves, everything was given to the Catholic charities to distribute. Miege has sponsored the Christmas families for several years.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT INVADES MIEGE

As part of Student Council's "involvement" theme, homerooms and individual classes competed in the "Trim Miege with Boughs of Holly" contest. The decorations were judged by the faculty through secret ballots cast on December 18. The bases of their judgment were initiative, class co-operation, respect for other classes' property, true Christmas spirit, simplicity of design, and originality.

The outside of school was divided up among the four classes so that the Seniors had the front lawn and front entrance, the Juniors had the chapel area, North side of the building and front of the new wing, the Sophomores had the South side of the building, and the Freshmen took the back area of the school.

NHS Sponsors Films

Next Spring a series of movies will again be shown to Miegians and their parents and friends. The program is this year being sponsored by the National Honor Society.

Many excellent films are being considered. Some of them are Nobody Wave Good-bye, The 400 Blows, and Rebel Without a Cause. In order to insure that the viewers will not be disturbed, no one under high school age will be admitted. The movies will be shown on Sunday evenings.

If any student has suggestions for successfully carrying out this program, the National Honor Society would appreciate your comments.

The War Game

Dateline: Fort Leonard Wood, General William Westmoreland's troops today received a shot in the arm upon the report of Dave Matthews enlistment.

Dateline: Hanoi, Ho Chi Mien now wants to talk peace. Miege wishes Dave a lot of luck in Basic Training.

OUTSTANDING STUDENTS RECOGNIZED

Scholastic effort, service, and athletic awards for the first quarter were presented at the Evaluation Assembly on November 17. Recipients of the awards presented for scholastic effort were: Sheila O'Gorman and Jennifer Shea, Seniors; Jack Acken, Dennis Kellerman, Barb Hutzenbuhler, and Jane Thompson, Juniors; Kathy Matzeder, Bob Floyd, Karen Zeleznak, Janet Kostusik, Terry Riordon, Carl Weilert, and Mary Prue, Sophomores; Laura Gregor, Peggy Dastal, Susan Wolski, and Tim Hannon, Freshmen.

Those who received service awards were: Jim Atkinson, Kathee Condry, and Cathy Svoboda, Seniors; Dennis Kellerman, Andy Nelson, Larry Brewer, and Kathy Jones, Juniors; and Terry Riordan, and Nancy McReynolds, Sophomores.

ALUMNI NEWS

Mary Kay Conry '64 was named Missouri Student Nurse of the year.

Bill Roth '64 was promoted to L/CPL while serving in Vietnam this year.

Dan Watkins '65 is Junior Class President at Saint Mary of the Plains and was the first junior ever elected to the Board of Admissions.

Rob Gleissner '66 is on the K-State Varsity Golf Team.

Cheryl Mehan '67 was qualified for finalist for K.U.'s Carnival Queen.

New Arrival

Mrs. Adrienne Baltuch, the newest member of the faculty, is teaching the English II and Journalism classes that were previously taught by Sister Baptista, who is taking a leave of absence.

Mrs. Baltuch is originally from Brooklyn, New York. After her graduation from U.M.K.C., she taught at Central High School where her 17 year old daughter is now a member of the Senior class. She also has a 19 year old son, who is attending college at M.U., and a 12 year old daughter who is in the 7th grade.

The students welcome her as a member of the faculty.

A NEW IDEA

On November 17, Miegians experienced another first in the history of our school: an evaluation assembly. The purpose of the assembly was to sum up the successes and the failures experienced during the first quarter.

Steve McGill, Student Council Vice-Pres., first told of the orientation assemblies and mixers which were held during the first quarter. Next, Ric North, Student Council Pres., spoke of the successful club system initiated, the Homecoming activities, and the disrespect on the part of the students which has been evident at Miege this year. Barb Shannon, Sec., presented the scholarship and service awards for the first quarter, and Dennis Viene, Evaluation Committee Chairman, told the purpose and activities of the Evaluation Committee.

After Dennis spoke, Robbie Golub, Pep Club President, announced the recipients of the Football Pepster Awards, and Bob Latz, Student Council Treas., evaluated the money-making projects which were held during the first quarter.

To end the assembly, Father Sullivan announced the semi-finalists and the winners of the letters of commendation in the National Merit Scholarship Test.

Father and Rick consult before assembly.

MIEGIANS SING A MERRY CHRISTMAS

The spirit of Christmas was resounded through the halls as the performing groups gave the student body a "Merry Christmas Assembly."

The Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Dennihan, started the assembly with "The Promise of God's Love." This was a medley of religious songs recreating the night when Christ was born. They also performed a live-number entitled "Calypso Noel."

The Chorale then showed their talents by singing "Sleigh Ride" and that old favorite "Twelve Days of Christmas."

Then the Girl's Glee Club took the show over with such songs as "Christmas Music Box" and "Choraling, Choraling."

Ending the musical presentation on a harmonious note, the Choir combined with the Girl's Glee Club, sang a Festival of Carols including "Silent Night," "Joy To The World," "Come All Ye Faithful," and "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear."

Through the talents of the members of the Art Club, the student lounge will be taking on a new look. The club is going to paint the east wall of the lounge with a psychedelic design. Instead of the plain blue wall, there will be psychedelic flowers in the colors of shocking pink, bright orange, dark green, and bright yellow. Peggy Albers, Art Club President, remarked, "The Student Congress's theme is involvement, and this is a way in which the members of the Art Club can become really involved."

Bits'n Pieces

Kevin Lesslie, Sophomore, raises rabbits at his home.

Anna D'Agostino, Junior, sang in the Pem Day production, "Bravos."

Doris Johnston, Freshman, now has over five hundred beer can pop tops in her collection.

Ric North, Senior, spent the Thanksgiving week bear-hunting in Vermont.

Peggy Wilkes, Kathee Condry, and Paula Libel, Seniors, sang at the 1967 National Liturgical Conference.

Phil Larkin, Sophomore, was elected President of the BDA (Better Development of America) for the second consecutive year.

John Watkins, Junior, has been chosen Chief Lizard of the Junior Class.

Different from all the other years at Miege was the evening performance planned by the Music Department for the benefit of the parents and friends of Miegiants. This was presented on December 18, in the school gym at 8:00. All were invited to come and hear all their Christmas favorites and see the singing groups perform.

CHECKMATE

The Chess Club under the able leadership of Mr. Perry is off to a good start in '67. Once a week in Room 16 the 12 members formally meet to discuss the problems of Chess and play a few games. John Redlinger, one of the club's leading members, feels that, although there is a lack of interest now, Miege will be well represented at the December tournament at S. M. North.

The club has no formal officers but its three leading members are John Redlinger, Mike Prior, and Pat Silady. The purpose of the club is to get more people interested in the game, to better the players, and to promote inter-school tournaments.

MIEGIANS SPREAD CHEER

December 15 was the close of a city wide Christmas project sponsored by Miege. The purpose of this project was to collect toys, food, and clothes to be sent to the soldiers in Vietnam.

Joyce Rose was the head of this undertaking and she and other students wrote letters to WHB, KUDL, and WDAF. The purpose of announcing it over the air was so that more people could become involved and interested.

Students Participate in Mock UN

The first annual Kansas State Teachers College Model United Nations Assembly was attended by seven Miegiants who were delegates for the countries of Jordan and Brazil.

The assembly was attended by over a hundred countries represented by over 200 delegates from 42 high schools in Kansas.

The general assembly's agenda included such topics as Vietnam, Middle East, Apartheid, Chinese Representation, and Peacekeeping. Due to a lack of time, only Vietnam and the Middle East were debated.

DJ'S STOMP FACULTY

Miege's faculty relaxed a little too much in the final minutes of the game and fell to the KUDL DJ's, 60-61 on November 21 on the loser's court. The faculty held a steady lead until the last period. The lead exchanged hands several times in the last minutes of the game, but the DJ's were on top when the buzzer sounded. The DJ's comeback was led by Dick Hennier, high scorer for the game with thirty points.

Although the faculty suffered the first loss of the season, they guarantee that they will be in winning shape for their forthcoming match with the Seniors.

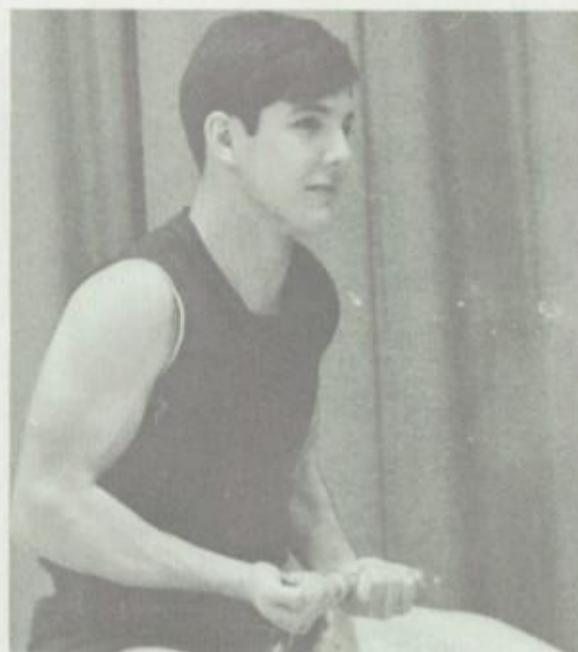

Jim Schumm, Junior; Center, 6'2". Jim is playing B-Ball for the first time. He is a good rebounder and a big hope for the future.

Rick Lander, Junior; Center, 6'2". Rick is a good jumper, and his desire to learn marks him as a fierce competitor.

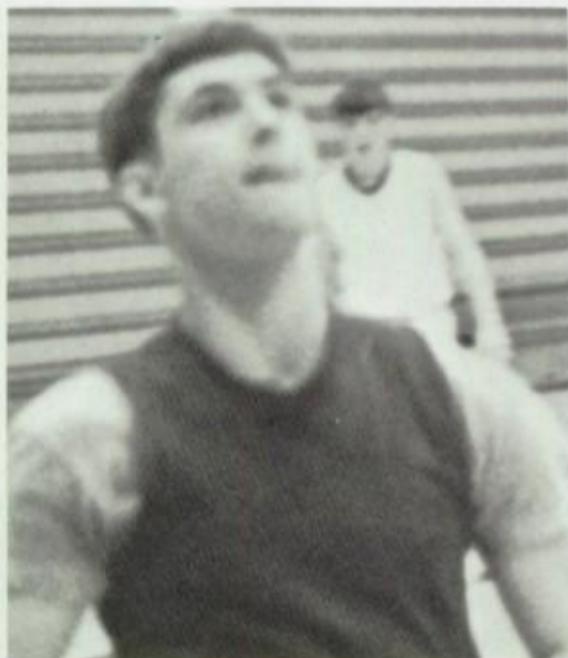

Mark Geraghty, Senior; Guard, 5'10". He is the best shooter on the team and could be a help against zones.

Allan Rues, Senior; Guard, 5'6". Allan is the smallest man on the squad, but he is also one of the quickest.

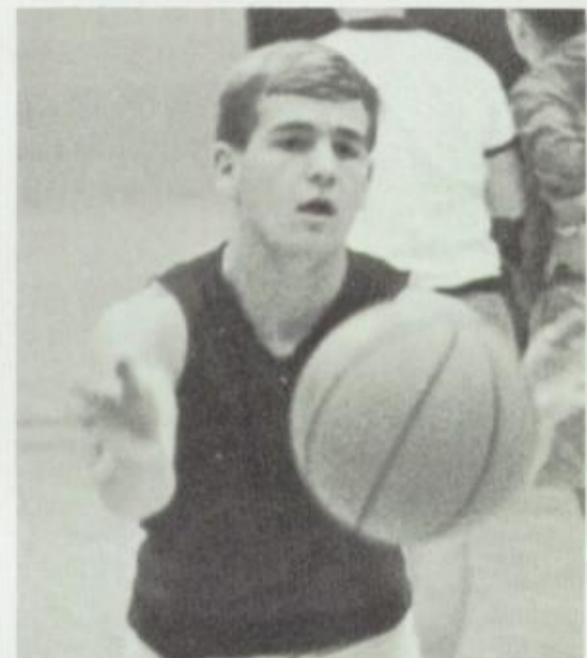

Joe Birch, Senior; Forward, 6'0". He is a good jumper and will provide needed help on the boards.

Terry English, Senior; Guard, 5'11". Terry, co-captain of the team, is one of the best shooters and playmakers.

COACH

Pat North, Senior; Forward, 5'10". Co-captain Pat is a real tough defensive man and is always tough on the boards.

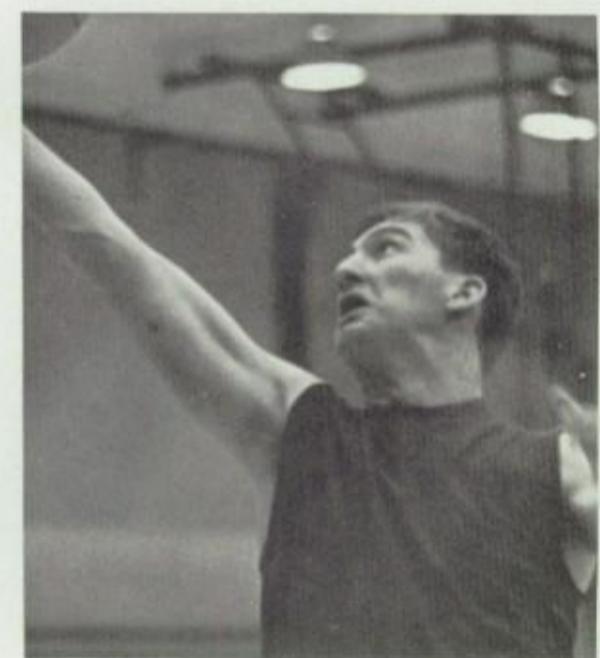

Rich Cain, Senior; Center, 6'1". Rich is the strongest rebounder. He is big, fast, and "always" ready to shoot.

Jerry Sutera, Junior; Forward, 6'1". He has good moves and is a fine ballhandler.

Ken Knutsen, Junior; Guard, 5'10". Ken has a deadly one-handed set shot and will probably see lots of action.

John Dold, Senior; Forward, 6'0". John is the team's utility man. Being very versatile, he plays well at every position.

NET MEN TAKE THE COURT

As December rolls onto the calendar, so does the basketball season. Practice started in November, but our devoted ballplayers don't show their stuff until Dec. 1. Our boys will be in fine form I am sure, as coaches Gannon and O'Connell are back on the job again.

This year's team is led by co-captains Pat North and Terry English, along with the three other senior starters, John Dold, Rick Cain, and Mark Geraghty. All five of these players lettered last year, and seniors Joe Birch and Allen Rues should provide a lot of depth. The Juniors also contributing to "the Cause," are Jerry Sutera, Rick Lander, and Jim Schumm.

Coach Gannon feels that an extreme amount of speed will make up for our lack of height and expects a successful season.

The Junior Varsity is completely unexperienced, but desire and good young ballplayers may prove to be enough to provide a good team.

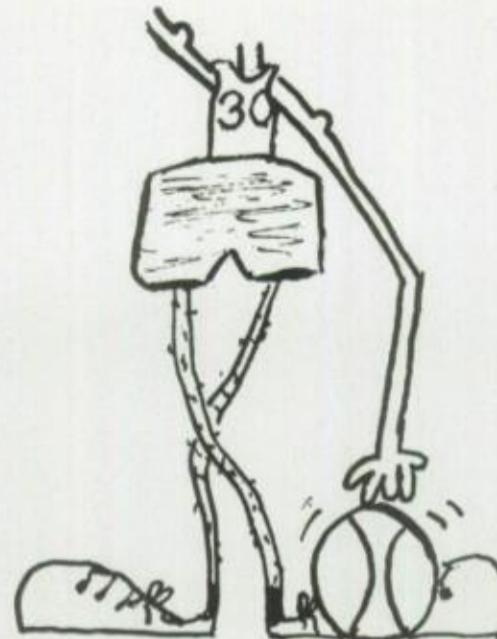

COACH RESIGNS

Mr. Bob Frazier resigned recently as coach of the Mighty Stags. He was assistant coach for four years and head coach for three. During his three years as coach, the Stags compiled a 15-10-1 record.

Mr. Frazier's reason for resigning was to enable him to devote more time to his duties as Vice-Principal.

Pat Larkin shows off Baska's All-State form.

Stags in Route

Led by their slippery quarterback, Mark Geraghty, and a tough defense, the Stags defeated the Co-Centennial League Champion Hayden Wildcats 34-0 on the Wildcats' field.

Geraghty started the scoring off in the first quarter as Pat Larkin's block opened the way to an 85 yard punt return giving the Stags a 7-0 lead.

The Wildcats were able to contain the Stags through the second quarter, but Mark Geraghty again dazzled the crowd in the third quarter with a 78-yard punt return. Cain added the point to make the score 14-0.

In the fourth quarter, the Stags went to the air as Geraghty hit Hank Bauer, Jr. on a 10-yard scoring pass, and O'Rourke on a 20-yard scoring pass. Kent McNeill added the final tally on a 33-yard pass interception.

The victory marked the fifth shutout of the season for the defense, and brought the Stag's record to 7 and 1.

TOE-MEN READY

With Football season over, the Stags will begin soccer season with high hopes. Led by Coach Moleman, again this year, the troops will play a tough seven game schedule. Rockhurst and De La Salle will head this schedule that include Maur Hill and Sedalia, Mo.

Coach Moleman feels the Stags can handle this competition because he returned eight starters off of last year's 2-2 Squad. These eight starters are: Rick Hartis, Pat Mitchell, Kevin Hardy, Tom Novick, Bill Dana, Tom Montgomery, Steve McGill, and Mike O'Rourke.

Captain Mike O'Rourke says "the team has good over-all speed, good spirit, and determination." After hearing this from the athlete of the quarter, we can safely look forward to a winning season.

Miege Falls To Ward

In a hard fought football game, which pitted the number three and four teams in the area, the Ward Cyclones downed the Stags 28-13.

The Stags, who were hampered throughout the game by numerous penalties, fell behind 7-0 as Dennis Baska scored from the 4, but before Ward could catch their breath Mike O'Rourke had scored on a 75 yard kick-off return making the score 7-6.

In the second quarter Ward scored twice on runs of 10 and 1 yards putting the Stags behind 21-6 at the half.

The third stanza was almost entirely consumed in an 87 yard drive by the Stags with Mark Geraghty passing to Hank Bauer for a 12 yard touchdown hanging the score to 21-13.

The Stags again drove in the fourth quarter but a pass interception ended the drive 25 yards short. Ward was again able to score and bring on to win 28-13.

The Stags ended a fine season at 7-2, Ward was 8-1.

The Literary contest this year received widespread support from the entire school. With a total of 113 entries for all four categories, the contest brought in more entries than it has in the past two years.

First, second, and third place winners were chosen from the short story entries. However, due to the lack of quality of the essay entries, no entries were chosen. Instead five of the poems, which accounted for the majority of the entries, were chosen as winners.

In the cartoon section the judge chose five entries, each first in their own category. The categories are as follows: 1. "Most Creative"; 2. "Most Thought Content"; 3. "Best Juk (Brush) Technique"; 4. "Best Humor"; 5. "Best Pen and Juk Technique".

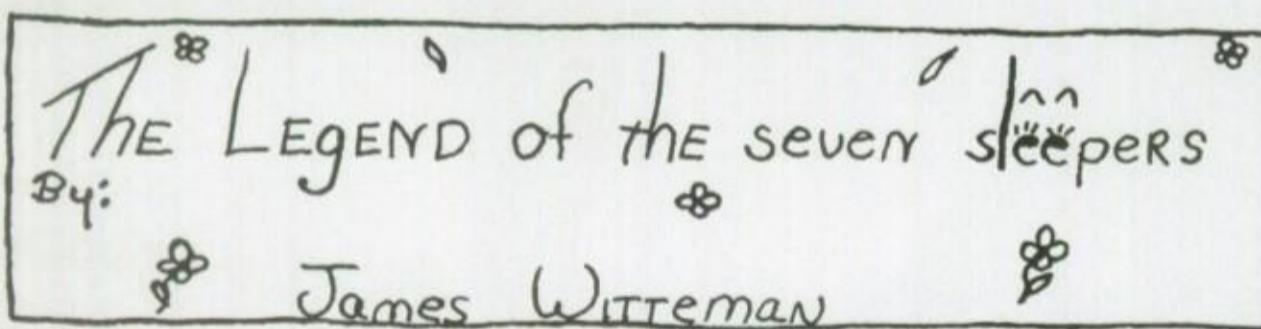

Many thanks goes to the judges who spent their extra time judging the entries. They are as follows:

Short Stories — Mr. John Larocco, teacher at Hocker Grove Junior High School.

Poems — Mrs Adrienne Baltuch, the new English teacher here at Miege.

Cartoons — Mr. Don Carlton, Circulation Manager of the National Catholic Reporter.

Essays — Even though none of these entries were chosen Mr. Vincent Wise, teacher at Queen of the Holy Rosary Grade School, should also be thanked for spending his time looking over them.

In the mount of Prion, yonder, is the cave of the Seven Sleepers. Once upon a time, about fifteen hundred years ago, seven young men lived near each other in Ephesus, who belonged to the despised sect of the Christians. It came to pass that the good King Maximilianus (I am telling this story for nice little boys and girls), it came to pass I say that the good King Maximilianus fell to persecuting the Christians, and as time rolled on he made it very warm for them. So the seven young men said one to the other, Let us get up and travel. And they got up and traveled. They tarried not to bid their fathers and mothers good-by, or any friend they knew. They only took certain moneys which their parents had, and garments that belonged unto their friends, whereby they might remember them when far away; and they took also the dog Ketmehr, which was the property of their neighbor Malchus, the beast did run his head into a noose which one of the young men was carrying carelessly, and they had not time to release him; and they took also certain chickens that seemed lonely in the neighboring coops, and likewise some bottles of curious liquors that stood near the grocer's window; and then they departed from the city, By and by they came to a marvelous cave in the hill of Prion and entered into it and feasted, and presently they hurried on again. But they forgot the bottles of curious liquors, and left them behind. They traveled in many lands, and had many strange adventures. They were virtuous young men, and lost no opportunity that fell in their way to make their livelihood. Their motto was in these words, namely, "Procrastination is the thief of time." And so, whenever they did come upon a man who was alone, they said, Behold, this person hath the where-withal—let us go through him. And they went through him. At the end of five years they had waxed tired of travel and adventure, and longed to revisit their old home again and hear the voices and see the faces that were dear unto their youth. Therefore, they went through such parties as fell in their way where they sojourned at that time, and journeyed back toward Ephesus again. For

Getting close to the blanket of green grass rolling over a countryside.
Feeling the coolness of a fresh mountain stream touching your skin, Noticing flowers and trees innocently

Life is grooving with sounds —
Hearing the sometimes treacherous, always powerful crashing ocean waves.
Echoes of tiny birds calling to each other,
Gentle sways of field plants moved by the wind.

Life is grooving with feeling —
Sitting by yourself in the coldness of night air, savoring the dampness.
Touching the sharpness of rock formations with years of memories suddenly arising.
Or the softness of wet sand washed up on an empty beach.

Life is grooving with people —
Relating a thought to someone and having them understand,
Not having to say a word but knowing by the touch of a hand or a sparkle of the eye,
Many people together and feeling

the good King Maximilianus was become converted unto the new faith, and the Christians rejoiced because they were no longer persecuted. One day as the sun went down, they came to the cave in the mount of Prion, and they said, each to his fellow, Let us sleep here, and go and feast and make merry with our friends when the morning cometh. And each of the seven lifted up his voice and said, "It is a whiz." So they went in, and lo, where they had put them, there lay the bottles of strange liquors, and they judged that age had not impaired their excellence. Wherein the wanderers were right, and the heads of the same were level. So each of the young men drank six bottles, and behold they felt very tired, then, and lay down and slept soundly.

When they awoke, one of them, Johannes — surnamed Smithianus — said, "We are naked." And it was so. Their rainment was all gone, and the money which they had gotten from a stranger whom they had proceeded through as they approached the city, was lying upon the ground, corroded and rusted and defaced. Likewise the dog Ketmehr was gone, and nothing save the brass that was upon his collar remained. They wondered much at these things. But they took the money, and they wrapped about their bodies some leaves, and came up to the top of the hill. Then they were perplexed. The wonderful temple of Dianna was gone; many grand edifices they had never seen before stood in the city; men in strange garbs moved about the streets, and everything was changed.

Johannes said, "It hardly seems like Ephesus. Yet here is the great gymnasium; here is the mighty theater, wherein I have seen seventy thousand men assembled; here is the Agora; there is the font where the sainted John the Baptist immersed the converts; yonder is the prison of the good St. Paul, where we all did use to go to touch the ancient chains that bound him and be cured of our distempers; I see the tomb of the disciple Luke, and afar off is the church wherein repose the ashes of the holy John, where the Christians of Ephesus go twice a year to gather the dust from the tomb, which is able to make bodies whole again that are corrupted by disease, and cleanse the soul from sin; but see how the wharves encroach upon the sea, and what multitudes of ships are anchored in the bay; see, also, how the city hath stretched abroad, far over the valley behind Prion, and even unto the walls of Ayassalook; and lo, all the hills are white with palaces and ribbed with colonnades of marble. How mighty is Ephesus become!"

And wondering at what their eyes had seen, they went down into the city and purchased garments and clothed themselves. And when they would have passed on, the merchant bit the coins which they had given him, with his teeth, and turned him about and looked curiously upon them, and cast them upon his counter, and listened if they rang; and then he said, these be bogus. And they said, Depart thou to Hades, and went their way. When they had come to their houses, they recognized them, although they seemed old and mean; and they rejoiced, and were glad. They ran to the doors, and knocked, and strangers opened, and looked inquiringly upon them. And they said, with great excitement, while their hearts beat high, and the color in their faces came and went, Where is my father? Where is my mother? Where are Dionysius and Serapion, and Perciles, and Decius? And the strangers that opened said, We know not these. The Seven said, How, you know them not? How long have ye dwelt here, and whither are they gone that dwelt here before ye? And the strangers said, Ye play upon us with jest, young man; we and our fathers have sojourned under these roofs these six generations; the names ye utter rot upon the tombs, and they that bore them have run their brief race, have laughed and sung, have borne the sorrows and the weariness that were allotted them, and are at rest; for nine-score years the summers have come and gone, and the autumn leaves have fallen, since the roses faded out of their cheeks and they laid them to sleep with the dead.

Then the seven young men turned away from their homes, and the strangers shut the doors upon them. The wanderers marveled greatly, and looked into the faces of all they met as hoping to find one that they knew; but all were strange, and passed them by and spake no friendly word. They were sore, distressed, and sad. Presently they spake unto a citizen answered and said, Who is king in Ephesus? They looked at one another, greatly perplexed, and presently asked again, Where then is the good King Maximilianus? The citizen moved him apart, as one who is afraid, and said, Verily these men be mad, and dream dreams, else would they not know that the King whereof they speak is dead above two hundred years agone.

Then the scales fell from the eyes of the Seven, and one said, Alas, that we drank of the curious liquors. They have made us weary, and in dreamless sleep these two long centuries have we lain. Our homes are desolate, our friends are dead. Behold, the jig is up — let us die. And that same day went they forth and laid them down and died. And in that selfsame day, likewise, the Seven-up did cease in Ephesus, for that the Seven that were down again, and departed and dead withal. And the names that be on their tombs, even unto this time, are: Johannes Smithianus, Trumps, Gift, High and Low, Jack, and the Game. And with the sleepers lie also the bottles wherein were once the curious liquors; and upon them is writ, in ancient letters, such words as these — names of heathen gods of olden times, perchance: Rumpunch, Jingsling, Eggnog.

Such is the story of the Seven Sleepers (with slight variations).

To Lie Between Orange AND Violet

By SUE HOLDERNESS

She sat, her bare arms drawn around her knees, on the yellowed, paint chipped windowsill, one of many found in the city's tenement crowded East Side. Her curved figure was clothed in a skimpy yellow t-shirt, partially hidden by her long shining mane of auburn hair. Her tight, bleached jeans ended in a pair of small delicate feet, the nails done in a tone of mauve. Her huge green eyes, shaded by ample reddish bangs were expressionless. Her body and soul were lost to a rain drenched night.

She stared dully at the almost empty streets with their abundant glossy rain rivers trickling along the gutters, only to end in the filth of the sewers. She had not quite comprehended all this when she was jolted to reality by the call of a name — her name.

"Toni," spoke a loud Brooklyn accented voice, "what are you doing up there? We thought you'd already left. Aren't you going to come?"

"Yes, I'm coming," nodded Toni, speaking in a tone as if she had been told what to say.

Quickly she jumped from the windowsill, grabbed a blue denim jacket and ran down three flights of rickety stairs. She joined her companions on the street's littered sidewalk and they all began their search for love, peace and contentment which they would find in a deserted warehouse cellar a block away. Each walked in solitude with only his thoughts for company as the rain matted their long hair and soaked through their meager clothing to dampen their skin. Hail, like crushed ice after cold water, began to fall, stinging and blurring their huge childlike eyes. They had no feeling of any pain or discomfort from the reactions of nature, for they were of their own nature and each was in deep meditation for the super, turned on feeling that they were to experience in a matter of time.

As they reached their destination, Toni spun around quickly, her senses diverted by a crashing, screeching noise of contorted metals, its exit a tinkling of glass. Through the concealing gray mist and the quickly falling pellets of ice, her red tearing eyes make out the remains of two cars and their occupants. Her eyes also noticed that the soft wet color of rain reflections in the street had changed in seconds from beads of green to streakings of red.

STOP — when will the shades of green turn red in her life? Will the light always say green — go for her? These thoughts raced through Toni's mind, but somehow seemed to slow down long enough to make a crashing impact on her consciousness. The four, pulled back by their own demanding thoughts, turned away from death on the sparkling road and walked down the stone slabs into the cellar, cold and black in loneliness.

Toni's pupils grew big in their adjustment from the gray outside world to the shadowy blackness with its silhouettes of chairs, a table and overstuffed mattresses. After finding their comfort and warmth in the sheltering storeroom, one girl, with long drooping pigtails, a small green feather firmly held by a rubber band to one clump of hair, sat slouching, legs crossed in a weatherworn rattan chair. Another, her sea blue eyes deepest in a shallow face, lay on the wooden table staring up into the dim glow of the only light bulb. The boy, Dusty, toyed with his strings of blue, red yellow, green beads and propped himself up on a mattress, its moldy stuffings overflowing from his weight.

Their exuberance knew no patience and as quietly as they had come, they quietly left. As if in a daydream, with a musing smile on her face, Toni crouched in a corner, a torn bright plaid blanket draped over all of her. She vaguely watched her friends, but bent down to give attention to caressing the skinny brown blotched kitten nestled on her lap. Her lids were growing heavy with sleep, but abruptly, too abruptly her head, her whole mind and her senses jerked up and stared through a small and splattered window hole at the wild flashing of the tiny but so many multiplying red bulbs of the advertisement on the building across the street. Flashing off and on, off and on. STOP — fury replaced the blankness living in her mind — red, anger, blood, hatred.

STOP — slowly her mind began to focus a creeping green. An emerald green feather magnified in size, resting in stillness on the floor, a mossy, greeness clung to the cellar's cement walls, a hazy green river was all she could see of the outside traffic light. All greens, loving and soft. She looked at the broken glass near her and the image of her huge wet green eyes hauntingly read speed.

Her slender fingers began to paw and play with the razor like edged mirror. Her eyes now reflected wonderment at the object. She sat motionless as its sharp edge slipped from her fingers and pierced through the white transparent skin of her wrist, cutting deeply into her blue veins. A small stream of blood trickled from her arm onto the kitten's thin fur as it cried out an indignant meow, stalking away to seek privacy in a new corner.

In suddenness the wound sent forth gushing, spurting blood, spilling over the jeans, turning them rust colored. The blanket and floor too were saturated in red. RED — Toni drifted into an uneasy sleep, knowing only that she had stepped out of her mind to STOP.

Shadows of Death

By:

Tanice Durkee

Silence . . . There was soon a longing, peaceful silence.

The night rains had ended and the lofty clouds began to disperse.

"The earth is waste and void; the darkness covers the abyss. God said, 'Let there be light,' and there is light."

The welcome sun became visible in the foggy sky, resting upon agonies of dying breaths and upon the challenged living. The sun reflects upon thousands of holes — holes in which millions of human beings have laid in, holes which have and will serve as a home of refuge against rains of death. The sun shined upon rusted bullets, on artillery supplies, jeeps, trucks, and on camp sites. The sun shined on a land of terrors — a hungry, clawing monster with eyes becoming more blood thirsty each second, each minute of the day.

This land is Vietnam — "Valley of the Shadows of Death." Amongst these shadows stands a young man, a young soldier. Just yesterday he was playing a game of football, and today he is fighting a game of War. Just yesterday he was a small boy, with no worries, no pains, and no heartbreaks; today he is a soldier — a soldier fighting a battle for peace, a battle for life. He fights a battle against fear as he lay huddled in his mother's arms — a dirt filled foxhole.

He lay in the foxhole, his eyes sad but alert, and his hands quivering but ready. A trembling, quiet body lay satiated with all emotions of sadness, loneliness, coldness and fear. His young slender arms and raw hands hug a non-living companion next to his cold body — a rifle — a protectorate.

A smothered breath was being heard, a pounding breath which became more nervous, more heavy and deeper as the seconds and minutes go by. He lay there in a hole of mud and water, waiting for the unexpected. Will the long minutes of waiting bring minutes of life or death? Does anyone know? Can anyone help this boy as he lay there waiting, waiting for minutes which will bring about the death of hundreds of soldiers? Can it be his death? He wonders. Holding the rifle closer to his trembling body beginning to plead to his Father Almighty. "God, let me live, give me strength to fight. I can't die God. I need so much help. Please God Almighty, Help me!"

Suddenly his prayers, his dreams and heart burst. Three shells exploded fifteen feet away. He was deafened but alive. Not deaf! He could hear more shells exploding. It was a painful noise, a dreadful noise of death. Amongst all these deafening sounds, he heard a groan, a pitiful agonizing groan, heard above all the shocking sounds of shells and more shells. He turned around searching for the frightful cry for help! He saw his friend — his friend whom he needed during his lonely hours on the field. He crawled to him rapidly. He had to get to his friend, he had to. "God, let him be alright. Please let him be alright."

The soldier finally reached him in two short minutes which seemed like hours.

His friend was hurt bad with two bullet wounds in the chest. Could he live?

The young man knelt down, placing the soldiers head gently on his lap. Tears ran slowly down the victims face, sobbing as a lonely child. "Oh God, I've been hit!" The soldier sat there. What was he to do? What could be done? Then he mumbled the banal words, "You'll be alright. You'll be fine." He grabbed the soldier's hand, squeezing it in hope that he might live, but in a few seconds the sobbing boy with tearful eyes and quivering lips whispered, "I can't breathe!" The soldier had died in his arms, and he could do nothing.

The young soldier, half in a daze, crawled for protection dragging his friend with him to a spiritual safety. Tears of sorrow ran down the young soldiers face. Tears which will scar his heart forever: but within these solemn minutes the soldier's face of sadness transformed into a mask of anger. He looked down slowly at his friend, and he began to remember something — a sorrowful, painful remembrance — back home there are guys burning their draft cards, and protesting about the Vietnam War. "Is it fair?" He screamed. Anger swelled and burned within him. He took his position in the foxhole. He was ready to accept any challenge—life or death, it didn't matter, but brother was he going to fight. His fear was abolished except a small flame in his heart, just a small amount of fear.

He knew he had a cross to bear — he knew he had to help fight for our country — the United States of America. He wasn't going to see his country bowing to any other country. His country was free and it was going to stay free. He was going to fight hard for his country, even if he had to die for it.

He sat in the knee-high mud, teeth gritted, eyes and hands alert and ready.

The words freedom rang through the young soldiers mind. Each bullet screamed out freedom — a freedom which was going to last forever.

He fought incessantly, saving his country until . . . he fell to the seething mud.

He had a shocking realization. "Oh God, I've been shot." Tears fell upon his face. Were they tears of joy or were they tears of sorrow?

The young soldier knew he was going to die. He felt it. He was hurt too bad and he was getting short of breath.

One of his friends saw him and rushed over. The dying soldier asked for his friend's hand. He squeezed hard, for it was his last touch of a living companion. The soldier said quietly and slowly, "Fight man and fight hard. Fight extra hard for me, please." Please, is the last word.

The turbulent, rumbling clouds came in existence. The rains came beating down upon the lonely battlefield of Vietnam.

The rain fell upon him — the young man, the young soldier. He had experienced the sight of dying men, and the smell of blood and decayed bodies. He was a soldier who had experienced the most ugly things in life.

So there he lays silently, in a dirtfilled foxhole with his secret tears of joy.

Silence . . .

The breeze — the breath of God is still
And the mist upon the hill
Shadowy — shadowy — yet unbroken
Is a symbol and a token
How it hangs upon the tree

MIEGIANS ENJOY JAZZ

Wednesday, January 21, brought the Kansas City All Stars Junior Kicks Band to Miege. The group, which is made up of students from area schools including Van Horn, Southwest, Rockhurst, Westport, Raytown, and U.M.K.C., played nine pieces for the assembly.

The first piece was "Jacob Jones," followed by "Miss Fine." The third selection, "Sam the Sugar Bear," was written by the leader of the group, Hal White. The next piece, "Pip," was arranged by Bill Nall, another member of the band. The next two pieces were "Nancy With A Laughing Face" and "When Sonny Gets Blue." The seventh selection, which featured the drummer was "Mister Tubs." The next piece, "Straight Ahead," was what Hal White called the Kicks Band's theme song. The final selection of the program was "Quincey's Groove."

At the beginning of the second semester, the Miegan staff was happy to welcome Miss Lucas as the new advisor. She has previously moderated newspaper staffs at Notre Dame de Sion High School and at a high school in Bethlehem, Illinois. Good luck to Miss Lucas and the staff!

Let Freedom Ring

The newly completed display of the Freedom Shrine is now located in the library. The members of the Industrial Arts Club spent about three months constructing it. The total cost was $175.00, $50 of this going to the club for labor costs. The club will use the money to buy needed equipment for the Industrial Arts Department. "The Freedom Shrine is designed for any student interested in documents signifying our freedom. This should be especially interesting and helpful for social science students," commented Steve White, president of the Club.

WE DID IT!

Again this year, the Ad Campaign was held in order to support our yearbook, the HART. The campaign, which ran from January 22nd to February 9th, was kicked off at an assembly held on the twenty-second. John Dold explained the purpose of the campaign, and the Junior boys dectet sang some old, familiar tunes.

The over-all total goal of the school was $6,000, with class goals broken down according to the number of students in each class. The individual goal was a quota of $6 per student. Each student who sold his quota received an "I DID IT!" button to show his accomplishment.

In addition to the campaign buttons, there were also other prizes — class points were given to the class who was ahead each week; money certificates were given to the high salesman in each class ($15) and to the high salesman of the school ($25); and the class that brought in the most money chose the Yearbook Queen. The class with the most buttons received a free day, which will be taken at a later date.

To close the campaign there was a mixer on February 17th. The Beau Street Runners, a nationwide group from Chicago, furnished the music for that mixer.

The first week of the campaign the Junior class was ahead and received the two class points, with the Sophomores getting the one class point for second place. The second week it was again the Junior class in first place, with the Frosh getting one class point.

Due to the enthusiasm of all four classes, the campaign was extended until Wednesday, February 14. However, the Junior class managed to come through, as always, to win in both categories.

The Frosh brought in the second largest amount of money, while the Seniors scored second in the button category.

The Freedom Shrine provides a greater availability of historical documents.

Editor's note: The following editorials present the two sides taken by students after the seven steps assembly. We felt that everyone was entitled to be informed about this situation; therefore, these opinions are printed below.

PRO

On January 17 many Mieghians returned home a little later than usual. These students were far from indifferent about the shocking assembly that they had just left. Some students were just that shocked by the antagonistic style that Mr. Brown had used. Others enjoyed the aggressive style. Mr. Brown was certainly not afraid to bruise our tender teenage sensibilities. He said what we should hear, not what we wanted to hear. When he told us, "You are all a bunch of cheats and thieves," he woke us up. It is easy to think that when someone else rolls a Volkswagen it is vandalism; but that when you and your friends do it, it's just clean-cut fun. Mr. Brown startled us from our complacency by telling us that we can get into serious trouble over that "good clean fun."

All agreed that Claude Smith, the other speaker on the program, was very good. He impressed us all because, being a convict at Lansing State Prison, he was a speaker who knew what he was talking about.

CON

MIEGHANS — YOU ARE ALL A BUNCH OF CHEATS AND THIEVES. Well, have you ever in your life stolen anything? Have you ever cheated in school? Anyone reading this who has committed neither of these two acts, please stand up and step forward so I can shake your hand. The rest of you are all a bunch of cheats and thieves.

Most of you will agree that the generalization just made was rather unfair and also pretty insulting. But such was the technique used at a recent assembly by Mr. Hank Brown, spokesman for the Seventh Step Foundation. He undoubtedly used it for shock value — to get our attention — and he got that attention. In the process, however, Mr. Brown stepped on the toes of quite a few Mieghians.

Mr. Brown's attitude throughout the assembly seemed to us to be something like "down with teenagers." He began his talk by informing us that, according to statistics, some of us will inevitably end up in prison. Then he dedicated the rest of his time to convincing the rest of us that crime doesn't pay. While we appreciate the fact that Mr. Brown cared enough to come to Miege, at the same time we resent the fact that he seemed to consider all of us uncontrollable juvenile delinquents. He immediately charged us with stealing cars, disturbing the peace, and constantly misbehaving, but not once did he cite an example of any trouble caused by a Mieghian. Mr. Brown assumed that we are all "typical teenagers": stupid punks with no other objective than to raise "hell." He called us idiots and repeatedly told us that he just could not understand our confused thinking. Mr. Brown's rude and insulting remarks to Mieghians certainly defeated any purpose he may have had in coming to Miege.

Some people felt that the students enjoyed the assembly since many of them remained in their seats when they were permitted to leave. Perhaps it could be, however, that we were just too polite to walk out on the man unless it was necessary to catch a bus. If politeness was the reason for the attentive after-school audience, and we feel fairly certain that it was, then Mieghians have proven that Mr. Brown was unjustified in his assumptions that we're a "bunch of punks."

The assembly was prepared with the best of intentions, and our administration should be congratulated for their efforts to give Miege students a clear, frank look at the causes and the possible results of crime. Most of us enjoyed and benefited from the talk given by Mr. Claude Smith, a prisoner from Lansing. We also realize that Mr. Brown was trying to help us. But the method he chose to influence us was so insulting that he succeeded only in building our resentment. Perhaps Mr. Brown meant well, but we feel that his words of wisdom were swallowed up by his insults.

Seven Steps Assembly

FELONY

Although many Miegiens might not know it, there is a great deal of difference between a misdemeanor and a felony.

A misdemeanor is any violation of the statutory laws, such as traffic violations, or any act of vandalism where property damage is less than $50.

A felony, although similar to a misdemeanor, is much more serious. It is a capital offense against life, such as murder or manslaughter, or an offense against property, for example, vandalism in the sum of $50 or more.

When a person is convicted of a felony he loses all his rights of citizenship — in other words, he can't vote, he can't run for public office, he can't serve in the armed forces.

The statement "he can't serve in the armed forces" may be misleading. He can still be drafted in time of national emergency.

When a person has served his time and his parole is up, he can return to his civilian status, and is given back his rights to vote, hold office, etc. But a record is kept, and the stigma of "convict" is forever attached to his name.

Lisa Wilson presents new books to Sr. Juliana.

Great Books Added

Many of you may have noticed a new addition to our library — a fifty-four volume set of The Great Books of the Western World.

These books were donated by Lisa Wilson, sophomore, who won them in a contest sponsored by the Pepsi-Cola Company. In addition to the books which were given to the school, Lisa also won a set of Encyclopedia Britannica's for her home.

SEVEN STEPS

At an all-school assembly on Wednesday, January 17, Miegiens had the good fortune to hear, first-hand, the personal experiences of Mr. Claude Smith, a convict in Lansing Prison. Mr. Smith talked to the students about his childhood and the influences which turned him to crime.

Another speaker at the assembly was Mr. Hank Brown, an administrator in the "Seven Steps" program, a program for the rehabilitation of prisoners.

Mr. Rost remarked after the assembly: "I think it gave people a look at crime and the results of crime. I really enjoyed the assembly and I'm sure the students did, because they sat there listening to the man even after school was over."

John Dold and Nancy Tipton practice their song for the Talent Show, "What Do Ordinary People Do?"

Talent Trys

The 4th Annual Talent Show preparations are well under way with the tryouts held on January 20, 21, and February 1. The groups, which included musical skits, folksinging, solos, bands, and specialty acts, were judged by Pat Fitzgerald, Barb Shannon, Ric North, Bob Latz, Laura Hendricks, and Kim Kirkland. Rehearsals started February 18. The show is scheduled for March 23 and 24.

The show is sponsored entirely by the Service Committee, headed by Kim Kirkland. Sister Angelica and Mr. Rost will supervise and assist Kim in the production.

Among the acts accepted are a dance by the exchange students Pita Mendoza and Socorro Renteria and a song and dance routine by Senior girls.

Chorale and Choir Sings

On Sunday, January 21, the Miege Choir and Chorale gave their third program of the year. The program was given for the Parent Teacher Organization of Holy Name grade school. The Choir sang five selections consisting of "Your Land and My Land," "These are the Times," "The Water is Wide," "Minsk Dinskol," and "People." The Chorale sang "Sleigh Ride" and "Empty Pockets." The program was informal and enjoyed by everyone who was there.

Enthusiasm and determination have been the major factors which have influenced the success of this year's Drama Club. Under the direction of Miss Bichelmeyer the club has blossomed and turned into one of the most active clubs here at Miege.

Drama exercises called improvisations are engaged in by the members at their meetings which are held every other Monday. These exercises provide the student with an opportunity not only for personal expression but also development of their own creative and natural talents. The goal of the Drama Club now is to put these exercises into practice. This is to be achieved through the selection of four cuttings from famous plays which will be directed and starred in by the club members. Both the actors and directors seem very enthusiastic even though an operation such as this requires a lot of work.

Math Club Travels

On January 11, the Math Club visited the engineering firm of Howard, Needles, Tammen, and Bergendoff, which is mainly concerned with the design of highways and bridges. Mr. Dan Watkins, after explaining how a highway is designed, showed the math club some of the work they have done in the past. He also showed how some of the different equipment in the office worked. The main attraction, however, was the new computer. This computer greatly helped to ease the work of drawing the highways and bridges, since the computer fed the information into a hook-up which drew in minutes, what it used to take a man four to six weeks to do. The math club members all agree that it was a very profitable and enjoyable trip.

This issue's "BABY FACE" picture is the staff's moderator, Miss Lucas.

Already this year the Drama Club has tried to establish a deeper appreciation of the arts. This had been accomplished by sponsoring special film showings of such fine pictures as "Gone With the Wind" and "Camelot."

Organizations such as the Drama Club are certainly assets to Miege. They provide a means of personal development, satisfaction and also involvement in school life and activities.

NO ITNETED

By Patty Lohmeyer

Detention is a funny place,
You always see a friendly face.
Where Mr. Frazier's mask of gloom
Promptly fills the entire room.
We're willing though to call a truce,
If Mr. F. would let us loose.
We know that he must really care,
'Cause every night we see him there.
Although we enjoy this happy convention,
We wonder who keeps HIM on Detention?

BABY FACE

When you gaze upon this shining face,
Think of one with military grace.
She knows the charm of Chaucer's rhyme,
And the racy people of Zeus' time.
Red pens she loves and SRA
And California jackets, bright and gay.
Sly as a fox, sharp as a hawk,
All she does is talk, talk, talk.

Feature Teacher

Mr. Robert Murphy is now in his second year at Miege. A graduate of De La Salle High School, and St. Mary College of Winnona, Minnesota, Mr. Murphy teaches a full English schedule.

He is also very active in Miege's athletic program. Last year Mr. Murphy coached the Junior Varsity football team. This year, he teamed with Mr. Reardon to lead the Freshman football team to an impressive 5-1 record.

In addition to football, Mr. Murphy coaches track. Last year under Mr. Murphy's watchful eye, Mark Anwander soared over the 12 foot mark in the pole vault. Truly these achievements show Mr. Murphy's all-around ability.

Outside of school Mr. Murphy is an active member of Holy Name Parish.

SPIRITUAL RENEWAL

On February 15, Miege blacked out and tuned in on a two day experience commonly known as a retreat.

Following the theme of "The Teen in His World," Father Krishe aided by three other priests, Father Burger, Father Albertson, and Father Melchior led the way "Up the Down Escalator" during the first day of experience. Music, pavillions, movies, group dynamics, and speakers combined for a brain-storming happening.

After a night of explanation to the older generation, Father Krishe and team kicked off the second day of experience with the theme, "You Don't Have to Have a Hole in Your Head to be a Lifesaver."

As lights all over the school were turned on, the pavillions turned from a theme of darkness to lightness as did the music, the movies, and the speakers.

Next stop for the turned-on retreat is Colorado.

"Let me think, it's Bishop something."

"What time's detention out?"

"Yeck, peanut butter and Bugles!"

"The logical thing to do at this point is...."

First you swing to the left, then you swing to the right!

Mythology Makes Believe

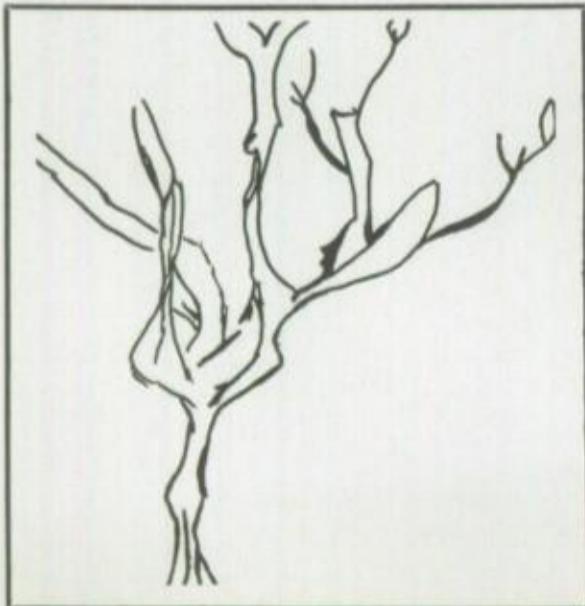

Try to imagine Aphrodite, goddess of love and beauty, as a hippie; and a lovely young girl, Io, suddenly changed into a cow. If you've been able to accomplish that then you've an idea of the type of antics Miss Lucas' mythology class has been engaged in recently.

In order to learn the names of the gods and goddess the mythology class divided into groups and put on a series of skits. In each skit the students played the part of a god. Meanwhile the audience attempted to guess the gods identity by either the costume or through references from other actors. In one scene Demeter, goddess of corn, advertised new country corn flakes while Bacchus, god of the vine, plugged his product, Mogan David Wine. And surprisingly enough everybody had fun even though they did learn something.

Book Notes

A TREE GROWS IN BROOKLYN by Betty Smith

There is a type of tree that can be found in the tenement districts of Brooklyn. It is not a very pretty tree by normal standards. With its pointed leaves and hard, coarse lines, it looks much like a lot of opened umbrellas. Even so, some people called it the Tree of Heaven for no matter where its seed fell, it made a tree which struggled to meet the sky. It was a tree which could grow out of rubbish heaps and boarded-up lots, and it was the only tree that could grow right out of cement. Where there were tenements, the Tree of Heaven flourished. It was that kind of tree. It liked poor people. That was the type of tree that grew into the mossy yard belonging to Francie Nolan's house.

Miege Scores High In "Categories"

"Her real name is Doris Kappelhoff. What name do we know her by?"

Could you answer this question? It's only one of several that were asked a team of students from Miege on a local quiz show.

"Categories" is the name of the show; and it was shown on WDAF-TV, channel 4, on Saturday, January 20. Contestants for the show were chosen by the National Honor Society on the basis of general knowledge of all high school subjects.

The team this year was composed of Mark Herlach (captain), Mary Pickard, Mike Weilert, Tom Bugler, and Dennis Kellerman. Renee Ring, Diane Sayers, and Bob Latz were chosen as subs.

Opposing Miege was a team from Van Horn High School. The Stags defeated Van Horn by the score of 24-13. It was the fourth victory for the Stags in nine appearances on the show.

The "Battle of Wits" contest between Miege and Ward High School in the spring of 1961 was the beginning for the plan for the program. The contest was sponsored by the Miege Albertus Magnus Chapter of the National Honor Society.

In A TREE GROWS IN BROOKLYN, Betty Smith draws the reader into this Brooklyn tenement of 1912. A masterful use of flashbacks, Betty Smith lets the reader actually know, and not just know about, the Nolans. No one just reads A TREE GROWS IN BROOKLYN; one experiences it; one lives it; and as Francie grows out of the rubbish, out of the cracked cement and towards the sky, the reader grows right along with her. This is exactly what makes A TREE GROWS IN BROOKLYN a masterpiece; for it is a novel which actually says something valuable and allows the reader to experience that value. Perhaps it is not the kind of story that may appeal to every kind of person, but it is the kind of book that says something important enough about life, about the value and meaning of life, that everyone ought to experience it.

The following year the moderator for the NHS, Sister Stephen, contacted WDAF-TV with the suggestion that the station could sponsor a program for area high schools that was similar to the national "College Bowl" program.

Approximately 60 schools now participate in the program, with contest questions obtained from Kansas City public high school teachers. The questions range from art and current events through math and science, and include queries on drama, literature, music, vocabulary and sports.

U.S. President Coming Here...

... in the second drama production of the year, "Take Me to Your President," that is. Although a comedy, like the first play, "The Little Dog Laughed," this deals with the critical situation the world is in now. The author, Leonard Wibberly, allows his audience to see the lighter side of these problems by presenting them in a humorous and satirical manner.

The story involves a young Yorkshire sheep-herder, A-1, who "... didn't like the way things were going — so I thought I'd do something — like arrange worldwide disarmament." However, naive as he was, he didn't expect to launch his plan for world peace via an automatic rocket. A-1 and his trusty but mischievous dog Rover (played by a stuffed animal) find their rocket in the middle of a small fishing lake surrounded by a sun-blasted desert, much resembling the moon. Eventually, A-1 finds his landing site much more suited to his purpose of inter-national peace. For, through the assistance of the Paiute Indian tribe, A-1 and Rover are soon seen heading a disarmament conference involving the major powers of the world. To be certain, "Take Me to Your President" is a hilariously effective and timely presentation.

This production differs from the first in many areas, for example, the general directing will again be done by Miss Judy Bichelmeier; but the stage directing, designing, and lights will be done by Ric North. Also, different from the first production, very little scenery or props will be used. Therefore, the success of the play will depend on the imagination of the audience, as well as the ability of the cast.

Be sure to show up on March 1 or 2 at 8:00 in the Miege Gym for this worthwhile performance.

There are several oratorical contests open to any student at Miege. If you are interested please contact Miss Bichelmeier.

Carnival Comes to Miege

The traditional Mardi Gras will take place here at Miege next Sunday evening, January 25. Many clubs and organizations are planning to sponsor booths this year. Some of the old money-makers, such as the Marriage Booth and the Jail, will be returning, and in addition there will be lots of new and exciting ideas.

REFLECTIONS IN A WITHERED EYE

by Debbie Johnston

We want to change those uniforms, or so the students say.

What pattern will we substitute for forest-green and gray?

Perhaps an apple-green vinyl with rhinestones on the nape,

Or maybe navy miniforms with red and yellow capes (optional, of course).

"Oh, No," says Father Sullivan, "What will Archbishop say?"

"If he sees these new uniforms we'll scare the man away."

THE SPIANS PERFORM

On Saturday, January 27, six Miegians participated in the UMKC Speech and Drama Festival. The categories and participants were as follows: Chris Hayward, Original Oratory; Charles Andreopoulos, Extemporaneous Speaking; Kathee Condry and Debbie Johnston, Duet Acting; Cheryl Quick, Dramatic Reading; Rick North, Radio Announcing.

Each category, with the exception of Radio Announcing, required two performances, and certificates were awarded to those performers who achieved an "Excellent" or "Superior" rating both times. Cheryl Quick was one of the few participants in the festival who received a rating of "Excellent" for both performances. Charles Andreopoulos and Rick North also received certificates for their "Superior" ratings.

M-O-H-L-M-A-N

Due to a threatened law suit, the Miegan Staff offers its sincerest apologies to Coach Lenny Mohlman for misspelling his name in the December issue of the Miegan. For the record his name is spelled: L-E-N-N-I-E.

SENIORS SWING

The Banquet Room at the Top of the Tower was the setting for the Sweetheart Dance that was held February 2. The dance, sponsored by the Senior girls for the last four years, was headed by Judy Gampper. Tickets for the dance were on sale during January for $6.50 a couple.

The WPA (women pay all) was a semi-formal dance with music provided by The 19th Century Sound Affair.

Many boys who attended were heard saying this dance was the most enjoyable ever! (No wonder. The girls paid for the whole dance!!)

Religion Classes See Film

The senior religion classes of Fr. Burger and Fr. Albertson saw the movie The Grapes of Wrath during the free periods on January 11.

The film, shown in connection with the study of poverty, concerned the American people during the depression. In later religion classes, the poverty areas in the world today were compared to those in the film.

TOES GO

Soccer season is well under way, and thus far the Stags have compiled a 3-1-1 record. Hampered by a muddy field, the stags opened with a 1-1 tie against the De La Salle Cadets, the Stags goal coming off the foot of Kevin Hardy.

The Stags came back with decisive victories over Savior of the World and De La Salle by identical scores of 4-0. In these games, Captain Mike O'Rourke contributed three goals, as Bill Dana and Hardy hit two. Pat Mitchell was responsible for the other score. In a losing effort against Rockhurst, Rick Hartis scored early, as the Stags fell 2-1. However, the fighting Miege toe-men came back against Savior of the World, downing the future priests 4-0.

STAGS START NEW YEAR

Starting the New Year off right, the Stags upset the previously undefeated Turner Bears 69-65. The Stags used a balanced attack, led by Terry English and Mark Geraghty with 24 and 14 points respectively, to win their fifth game of the year.

De La Salle was the next victim of the Stags as Terry English's 30 points paced them to a 63-61 victory.

At Hogan English was again the gunner with 36 points, but Hogan's Eric Gredell's 37 points was superior as the Stags fell to the Rams 78-76 in two overtimes.

Victory number seven came easy for the Stags as the Eagles of Olathe fell 69-53. Coach Gannon was able to clear the bench for the entire fourth quarter. This was to be the Stags last taste of victory for awhile.

The drought began with Ward downing the Stags 80-67. Next it was Argentine dropping the Stags 62-54, despite a fine effort by Mark Geraghty. St. Joe proved to be too much for the Stags as Dan Sallier's free-throw, with seventeen seconds left in the second overtime, foiled fine efforts by Pat North and John Dold with 24 and 14 points.

STAGS SUPPRESSED

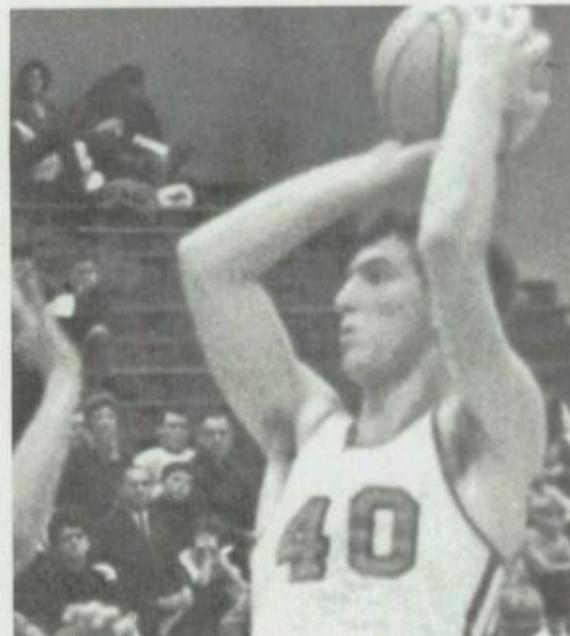

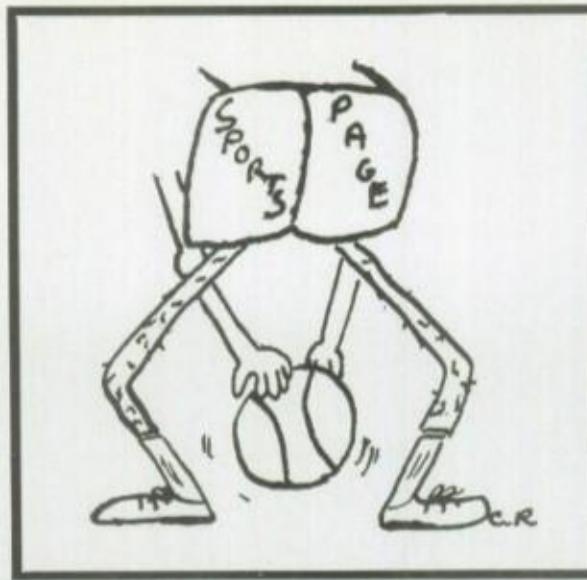

Although the Heart of America Tournament proved disastrous for the Stags, there were many fine individual performances turned in.

In the opener, the combination of cold shooting and the loss of two starters early in the third quarter, saw Southeast defeat Miege 80-55.

Lopsided as the score may seem the Stags were still very much in the game when Mark Geraghty, who had 13 first quarter points, and Rick Cain were ejected from the game.

In the next game, the Stags would not be denied a victory. Terry English had 22 points, Mark Geraghty 19, and the Stags controlled the game the whole way. The final score was Miege 65 and Pem Day 41.

The final game of the tournament was another heartbreaker as a fourth quarter comeback was stifled in the final seconds. Terry English turned in another fine game with 30 points and fine defense, but he was not enough as Raytown won 65-63.

Cyclones Blow Stags

Sparked by play of Nick Kanatzar, the Ward Cyclones came from behind to down the Miege Stags 80-67.

Although playing away from home, the Stags managed to lead by as much as six points midway through the third period, 46-40. At this point the Cyclones came to life and poured it on the Stags down the stretch, with Kanatzar leading the way. This was the Stags 6th loss in 13 tries.

Mark Geraghty led the scoring with 22 points, followed by Jerry Sutera with 15 and Terry English with 11.

J.V. EVEN

The Stags Junior Varsity basketball team has seemed to work in spurts this year. After winning their first two ball games against Argentine and Rosedale, they hit a slump. The J.V. went down in defeat in their next five ball games. The next game for the Stags seemed to do something for them as it started a four game winning streak. The streak didn't seem to impress O'Hara though as they defeated the Stags to bring the J.V.'s record to 7-7. The J.V. has been led this year by Kenny Knutson, Chris Mercer, and Jim Schumm.

Stags Start Strong

The month of December was crucial for the Stags as they opened the B-Ball season against five strong opponents. However, the Stags fared well and went on vacation with a 3-2 record.

Off to a great start, the Miegeans won the first two; slipping past Argentine 69-65, and trouncing Rosedale 56-43.

The third game was disappointing as Truman stomped our cold-shooting Stags 87-65, for our first loss of the season. It was quickly followed by a heart-breaker, as the Stags traveled to Sumner for the next game. The Stags were definitely the underdogs to the much taller Spartans, but through a fantastic team effort, we were ahead all the way until the final minutes of the last quarter. Disheartening as it was, the Spartans won 64-60, but the Stags showed what a team can do when it works together.

Overall the first five games certainly showed that the fine attendance was well deserved. Guards Terry English and Mark Geraghty had combined averages of 36 points per game. Pat North and John Dold had shown great rebounding ability, and Rick Cain had played a fantastic game against Sumner.

FROSH TOUGH

The Miege Freshmen basketball team, even though their record is not very striking, have been very impressive. Under the leadership of Mr. Reardon and Coach Ron Sosna the frosh have brought their record to 7-7.

The freshmen are led by the offensive power of Bruce Adams and Joe Bartosek. Other standouts are Jeff Sutera, Mike Dana, Lou Obermeier, Jim McGill, and Dave Mirostaw.

The Stags lost their first three games of the season; but won their next two over Pem Day and Southwest, and in doing so won the consolation bracket of the Rockhurst tournament. The frosh again hit a cold spot and lost their next two games but again came back strong with victories over O'Hara and Raytown South. The worst frosh loss of the season came at the hands of Palmer Junior High by a 33 point difference. A loss to Rockhurst and three more victories round out the rest of the frosh games.

Second Drama Production Presented

On March 1 and 2 the Drama department presented its second production of the year, "Take Me to Your President." The comedy was directed by Miss Judy Bichelmeyer.

"Take Me to Your President" centers around A-1, an Englishman from the little village of Mars. A-1 accidentally fires off a rocket, sending himself and his dog, Rover, to Nevada. Since the damage has already been done, A-1 decides to take advantage of his predicament. He tells the Americans that he is from Mars and that he has come to promote world peace and total disarmament. Naturally this causes much confusion and sets the stage for an evening of merriment.

TALENT SHOW SCHEDULED

The curtain goes up tomorrow night at 8 o'clock p.m. on the 4th Annual Talent Show. The show will play again on Sunday at 8 p.m. Dave Perkins and Tom Montgomery will emcee the show this year. Refreshments will be served after the production by a committee headed by Michaela Mullane.

As in the years before, the Service

Committee is in charge of the show. The cast is composed entirely of students and includes twenty acts.

"The show will run two nights this year instead of the traditional one night showing because of its great success in preceding years," says Kim Kirkland, head of the Service Committee and director of the show.

Miege U.N. To Meet

A model United Nations assembly will be held, here at Miege, on April 4 and 9.

The assembly will be held in the gym with participating delegates from the government classes representing nearly forty member nations from around the world.

Delegates will begin the assembly on Thursday, April 4, during the free periods and continue debate until the end of school. The assembly will reconvene on Tuesday, April 9, for continued debate until the adjournment of the assembly at the close of the school day.

In preparation for the assembly each delegation researched its country, studied the United Nations, and submitted a draft resolution to the assembly. A draft resolution is merely a country's idea for solving some problem in the world. Most decisions of the United Nations bodies are expressed in the form of resolutions.

In an effort to make the assembly a learning experience for all students, classes will observe the assembly as delegates debate the topics of Vietnam and the Middle East Crisis.

The assembly is directed by a steering committee of eight seniors from the Social Science IV class. Seven members of the committee were delegates to the first annual Kansas State Teachers College Model UN Assembly held in Emporia last November.

Film Festival Opens

The National Honor Society will open its annual Festival of Films on April 3, at 8:00 P.M. The films, which will be shown on Wednesday evenings, will be limited to those of high school age or older. Admission is fifty cents.

Much time has been spent in the selection of the films, and this year's festival promises to be an interesting one.

The films to be presented are:

- April 3—Loneliness of a Long Distance Runner
- April 10—A Thousand Clowns
- April 17—Nobody Waved Goodbye
- April 24—Lord of the Flies
- May 1—Mr. Hulet's Holiday
- May 8—Rebel Without a Cause

To Students:

What can the older generation teach us? What can our parents or grandparents give us besides injustice, poverty, and war? Lessons they have to teach us about running the world we can do without; they have little relevance to our problems.

We must decide not whether our society is imperfect, but how we are going to cope with it. After all, it is the only world we have. Our decision as to how we are going to handle it will be our most important decision in our lifetime.

Not all of us will take the same course of action. We are all different.

Some of us will find the world too difficult, too demanding, and will reject it to find their own world. Some will find drugs or alcohol or seclusion the only means of survival. We are all different; some of us will hinder the rest.

Others will seek the frontier as did Daniel Boone. They will be willing to work and to support themselves. They are to be admired for their great courage and stamina. They are to be pitied, for the world has few frontiers to which to run. We are all different; some of us will try.

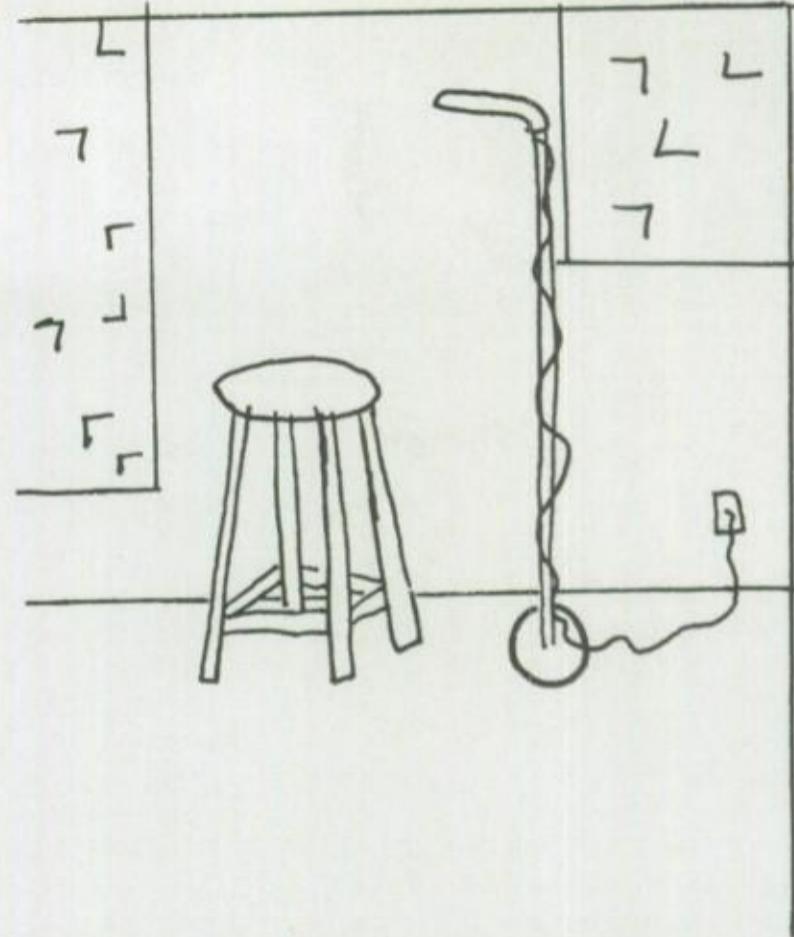

Impatience will move some of us to violent rebellion. Destroy the decaying mess and build on a fresh foundation. Marx had similar ideas. We are all different; some of us will try and fail.

Man cannot create. Man can build. Man builds things piece-by-piece. We must build the world slowly, gradually, piece-by-piece. We are all different, but we must work together. We must try and succeed.

Must we perfect our society? What would we have to motivate our children? The older generation has always motivated the younger generation. The inadequacies of our grandparents moved our parents to build history's most affluent society out of a depression, to save the world from fascist dictatorship, and to keep us from a world war for over twenty years.

As we take on the problems of the world, we can be sure of one thing; it won't be long before someone asks us,

WHAT CAN THE OLDER GENERATION TEACH US?

On November 17, a folksinger from the "Twelve Plus One Club" sang at the Service Committee mixer.

Student Soundings

He came

We saw

We laughed

We should be proud—

we won

Why did we laugh?

Because he was different

Because when he sang his notes and chords and words didn't fit into those grooves

in our minds, fixed, established, that are labeled music

Because those grooves were made of Concrete

Granite

Steel

as they should be

Yes, we won,

We conquered—

But concrete will break while elastic encompasses all.

BABY FACE

This little hombre is someone to beware,
With hair that flames and eyes that glare.
With toes that curl and hair that twists,
He's very prompt with detention lists.
Corraling students is his game,
And "great pumpkin" is his name.

Have You Heard?

"Hey, Mary Jane, guess what!!! We have to have a feature story on Prom by Friday, and today's Wednesday!"

"Hey, that reminds me — did you hear where Prom's gonna be this year?"

"Yea, Bonner Springs. The Juniors said we could pick up our road maps any time after April 1st."

"And, hey, Con, did you hear what the theme's gonna be?"

"Huh-huh, what did you hear?"

"I heard they were gonna call it 'Beach Party by Moonlight.' And not only that, but instead of wearing formals this year everyone is supposed to wear their swimsuits."

"Are you kidding? That sounds a little too risque for me. I heard another idea I liked better."

"Well, some Junior told me it would be at Kirk Nelson's chicken farm, and the theme would be 'Field Day 1968'."

"Hey, whatever happened to field day anyway?"

"Only Jane Dewees knows for sure, I guess! Getting back to Prom though — did Tom Novick really get King?"

"Well, if he did someone better tell him he has to take a date."

"Guess what? We're off the subject."

"Yeah, we better write some of this down or we'll never get done."

"Well, anything would be better than that 'Supercalifragilistic Seniors' Right, Mary Jane!?"

Industrial Arts club works on latest project.

Industrial Arts Active

Following the Student Council theme, "involvement," the Industrial Arts Club has involved its members in various projects here at school. The club is divided into two departments: drafting and woodworking.

The drafting department plans and draws the projects for the woodworking department to construct. So far the club has completed the freedom shrine, which is on display in the library, and is considering making podiums and bookcases for the teachers.

The club meets the second Monday of each month and works in the shop during their free time on Tuesdays and Thursdays. With the money earned from the various projects, the industrial arts department is planning a field trip at the end of the year.

Mrs. Koch helps Socorro Renteria during a Home Economics lab.

Feature Teacher

Having trouble making your cakes rise? Don't bother to write a letter to Betty Crocker; just drop by Room 210 some day and ask Mrs. Jo Ann Koch, the Home Economics teacher, for advice.

Mrs. Koch not only teaches cooking (Gourmet), but she also has two classes of clothing and one for home living.

A graduate of St. Joseph High School in Shawnee, she continued her education at St. Mary of the Plains College, receiving her Bachelor's degree in Home Economics.

Mrs. Koch joined the staff here at Miege last year teaching Clothing I and II. She was also moderator for the Freshman Pep Club.

The opportunity to experiment with the home economics program was a major factor in her acceptance of her job. As a result of this flexibility, she has added two new courses to the program this year-Gourmet and Home Living.

Mrs. Koch feels that the students are enthusiastic about the courses — new and old — and that they are becoming more acquainted with the field of Home Economics.

AGENT 710?

On March 4, Miegians were greeted with the cry, "Are you WHB's Secret Agent 710?"

To some Miegians this enthusiastic inquiry on what seemed to be the unusual sluggish Monday morning came as a bit of a shock. Those in the dark were quickly informed that a student at Miege had been chosen to be WHB's Secret Agent 710 and that WHB was offering a generous cash reward to the locator of their agent.

Patty Parker was Miege's agent 710 as Karen O'Neil, Patty's locator, was happy to report.

This issue's "BABY FACE" is our vice-principal, Mr. Frazier.

RETREAT CREATES

"I thought the retreat was really meaningful for most of us. It's too bad that some of us were beyond help."

—Kathy Connolly

"Most of the kids were more interested in the decorations than the real meaning of the retreat. I don't think it left a very lasting impression."

Patti Malone

"I think that the retreat did some good for some people, but other people thought it was a big joke."

John Elmore

"I think the retreat was a worthwhile experience for the school. However, such an undertaking and its success depends on the preparation by the participants. I think this preparation was not taken up early enough. The large number involved also was not an asset. But the experience waked some manner of response and thought, if not actual involvement, which made it a worthwhile experience."

Father Albertson

"I think that it gave us a good insight of both sides of life. I liked some things such as the movies. But the games we played in homeroom were sort of far-out. I think, as a whole, the retreat was impressive."

Colleen Geraghty

NEW AWAKENING

"The first day, I hated it, because it was so depressing. But it made the light day a lot more beautiful. I liked it very much. It made you think of a lot of things you don't usually think about."

Nancy Tipton

"I think it was probably too long. Everyone became bored of the whole idea after the first day. For the most part, though, it had a good effect on the student body."

Terry McCarthy

"I think it was many changes and we couldn't really concentrate on one thing. But it was good because we saw many things that we didn't know."

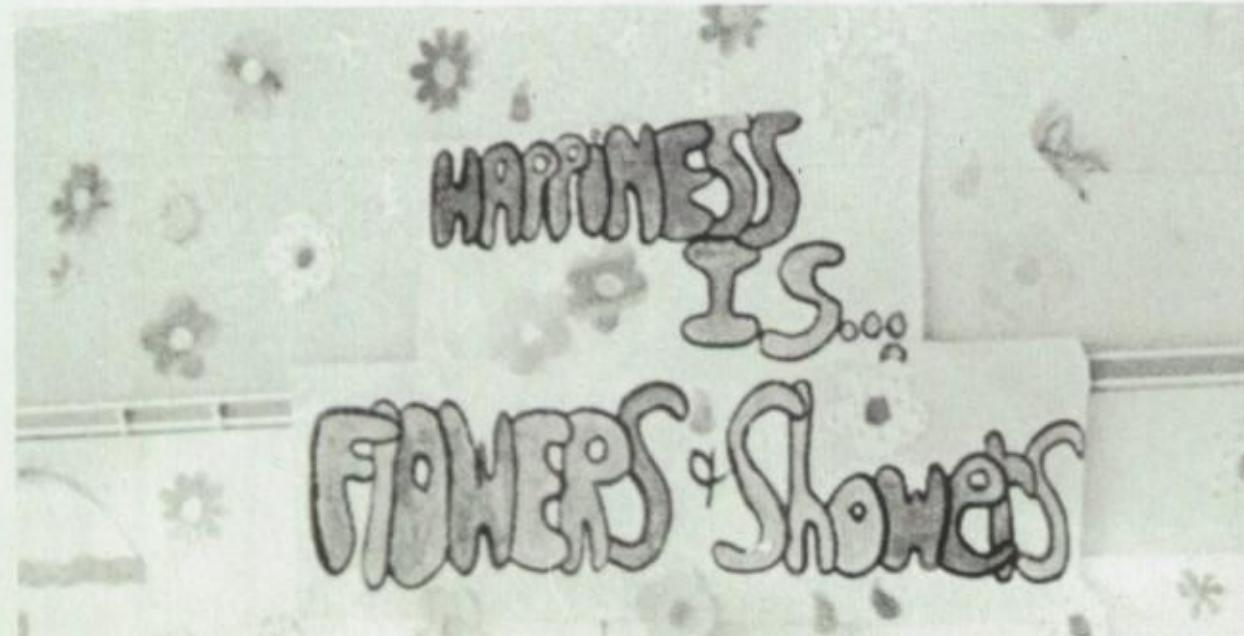

Pita Mendoza

"The retreat was, in my opinion, an experience one will never forget. It made teachers and students alike THINK — not just superficially but deeply — about their religious beliefs, convictions, and ideas.

Miss Murphy

"I thought the retreat was worthwhile. I got a lot out of it. It seemed to me that the retreat was a real success.

Junior Homeroom Applauded

Although the Miegan doesn't regularly feature a homeroom, this month we are paying special tribute to Mr. Wingert's junior homeroom. This homeroom is a special one because it has a moderator who feels that it is. In an interview Mr. Wingert told us that the students are "orderly, hardworking, good-looking, and a pleasure to moni-

BEST HOMEMAKER ANNOUNCED

On December 5, all interested Senior girls took the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow Test. It is a nation-wide test in which one Senior girl from every high school is chosen to compete for the state title. The last week in February Peggy Wilkes was announced the winner here at Miege. With her title of Bishop Miege. Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow, Peggy will now compete for the state title with the hope of winning 1st prize, a $1500 scholarship.

Each girl that wins her state title will, along with the scholarship, win an expense-paid tour of Washington, D.C., Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Minneapolis. On the girls' arrival in Minneapolis, the national winner will be announced and awarded $5000.

Second and third place winners here at Miege are Debra Johnston and Kathee Desmond.

School Spotlight

At Shawnee Mission South on March 5, quarterback star Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts visited and gave a talk to the student body and answered any questions that were brought up.

Two first place trophies were won by Shawnee Mission North students at the Emporia speech contest Friday and Saturday, to bring the total trophies won to eight.

"Winnie the Pooh" will be presented to all possible grade schools in the city by St. Theresa's Academy starting March 1.

Juniors In Front

This year, as in several previous years, the four classes here at Miege are competing for the Class of the Year Award. So far this year the juniors are ahead with a total of 21 points. They are followed by the freshmen with 16, the sophomores with 11, and picking up the rear are the seniors with 8 points. The following chart lists the points awarded for the various projects held so far this year.

Chorale Performs

For Governor

The Bishop Miege Chorale performed at a dinner honoring Governor Docking on Friday, March 8. The dinner, held at Shawnee Mission West, was an endeavor to raise funds for the upcoming election.

Some of the selections presented by the Chorale were "People," "Mame," "Empty Pockets," and "Your Land and My Land."

Since it is so extraordinary for a homeroom to make such a good impression on its moderator, these students certainly deserve our salute. Congratulations to Mr. Wingert's homeroom, and keep up the good work!

Pem Day Entertains

The Pem Day Glee Club presented a varied program for the students here at Miege on February 21.

Marching to the tune of "The Happy Wanderer" the boys made a dramatic entrance through the audience up to the stage.

Mr. Mel Bishop directed the Glee Club in several old familiar songs plus some new ones. Some of the selections included in the program were: "Everything's Up To Date in Kansas City," "Blow High, Blow Low," and "It's Almost Like Being in Love." Negro spirituals and songs from various musicals were featured in the program.

Grade School Visited

On February 19, three students from the newspaper staff, Barbara Diebold, Kathee Condry, and Greg Wetzel, visited the 7th and 8th grade students at Holy Name Grade School.

The reason for their visit was to give the students some ideas on how a newspaper is organized.

These future freshmen are planning to put out a newspaper of their own this year, and they found the comments of the Miegan staff members to be of great interest.

Sister Raymond, a former vice-principal of Miege, is the inspiring force behind these students.

MARDI GRAS SUCCESSFUL

Mardi Gras, marking the last social event on the school calendar before the beginning of the Lenten season, was held on Sunday, February 25.

Each class and club participated by setting up a booth. The Senior class ran the "Marriage Booth" and the Juniors manned the "Dunking Booth." Everyone was well-fed at the Sophomore-sponsored "Sidewalk Cafe" and take-home treats were featured at "Topsy's," run by the Freshman class.

There were games such as the "Cherry Tree," "Cake Walk," "Penny Toss," "Money Roll," "Hamster Race," "Bottle Toss," and bean-bag and dart A MIEGAN....

Welcome, Mrs. Freeburg!

Contrary to popular belief, Miss Lucas has not given up her English classes for greener pastures. She has merely been temporarily replaced by Mrs. Freeburg, a student teacher who is doing her graduate work at U.M.K.C.

When Mrs. Freeburg first came to Miege, she observed many of the English classes; now she is teaching some of them herself. She expects to be here for about two more weeks.

When asked what she thought about Miege, Mrs. Freeburg replied: "I like it very much. I am very impressed with it, especially after seeing some of the problems the public schools have had."

throws. You could also take your chance at the "Puppy Raffle," the Spanish Club's "Bunny Raffle," the "Chug-a-lug," and the computer dating which was sponsored by the National Honor Society.

The two most popular attractions of the evening were the "Slave Auction" held by the Varsity Pep Club, and the "Jail," which was run by the Lettermen's Club.

Wendy Ward Talks

During the free periods on February 20 and 22, Mrs. Rosemary Doeren, Kansas City's Wendy Ward, gave tips on hairstyling, makeup, and wardrobe to interested girls during their Tuesday/Thursday free time.

Mrs. Doeren's talk centered on "The Total You" acquainting the audience with the attitudes of beauty, charm, and graciousness. Thanks to Wendy Ward, the girls who heard the talks know a few more tricks for glamour grooming and becoming the girls who 'set the pace.'

Hart Mixer Held

John Dold crowns 1968 Hart Queen Margie Adams.

On February 17 the Yearbook Staff sponsored their annual mixer and announced the winners of the Ad Campaign and the Hart Queen.

RUN! RUN! RUN!

With the coming of spring, a man's thoughts at Miege drift to moonlight, love, and track. Again this year Coach Zimola will lead the team. When asked what kind of team Miege had this year, Coach Zimola said, "It is too early to predict as the team is only going through conditioning drills." However, with the return of Mike O'Rourke in the hurdles, Tom Novick in the 880, Steve McGill in the 440, Mike Zelenak in the broad jump, and Pat Larkin in the Javelin, the team looks very solid.

Other participants who are probable point makers are: Dave Bertuglia and John Kriesman in the 100 and 220; Allen Floyd and Kevin Harris in the mile; Mark Riscoe in the 880; Mark Anwander in the Pole Vault; and Jim Schumm in the shot and discus.

Hawks Too Much

The Rockhurst Hawks, behind the play of John Kafka, Pete Santora, and Bill O'Connor, rolled over the Stags 89-60 in the Hawk's gym.

The game was much closer than the score may indicate as the Stags, outmanned at least two inches per player, were able to take a 24-23 first quarter lead. During this quarter, Terry English scored 11 of his 19 points.

The second quarter was not so fruitful as Santora and Kafka began to hit and moved the Hawks into a 7-point half-time advantage.

Kafka continued his torrid pace in the second half as the game turned into a bitter defeat.

Although the score didn't show it, the Stags had two fine performances from Mark Geraghty, with 22 points and 8 rebounds, and Pat North, with 7 points and 10 rebounds.

LINKERS READY

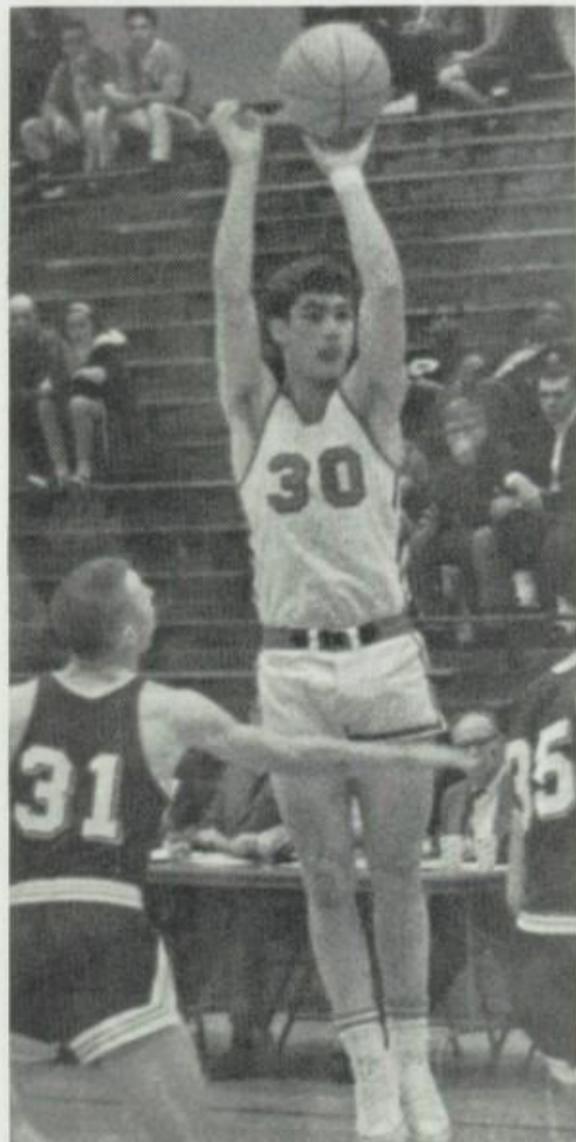

As spring rolls around the corner, the Stag golfers are taking to the links. Mr. Buerman, the new golf coach, is in the final stages of completing the schedule, which includes the regional and state tournaments, Pem Day Invitational, and possible trips to Wichita and St. Louis.

So far, Mr. Buerman has been too busy with paperwork to supervise the practicing, but he has received "valuable" information from co-captains Jim Myers and Tom Gleissner. The other top prospects are Pat North, Steve Davis, and Terry McGill, who leads the juniors.

English Ambushes

Playing without the services of regulars Pat North, Rick Cain, and Jerry Sutera, the Stags managed to down the Pem-Day Raiders 63-53. The game was extremely close for the first three quarters; but in the fourth quarter, with the score tied 46 all, Terry English reeled off 13 straight points to put the game out of reach.

English, who played an outstanding defensive game, finished with 39 points. John Dold, Joe Birch, and Jim Schumm also turned in a fine showing for the Stags.

Stags Tough

In Last Two

The Southeast Knights took advantage of a 3-minute overtime to defeat the Miege Stags 76-65 on Feb. 16 at Southeast. Southeast was ahead all the way until the final quarter when the Stags took a five point lead. But Southeast wasn't to be denied at least a tie, and they came fighting back in the final two minutes to get just that. In the overtime the Knights were just too hot, and Miege just couldn't keep up with them. Terry English was high point man for Miege with 23 pts. and Rick Cain followed with 16.

After their loss to Southeast, the Stags met the Van Horn Falcons at Miege; and found that the Falcons were no match as the visitors fell 66-56. Miege was never behind in this game as they jumped off to a 13-9 first quarter lead.

The lead lengthened to 15 pts. and stayed at that margin until the fourth quarter. In that quarter Miege boosted their lead to 22 pts. with about 4 minutes remaining. Van Horn then came storming back, but they didn't have quite enough time. Mark Geraghty and Pat North led the Stags with 21 and 14 points, respectively.

'68 STATERS SELECTED

Again this year as in the years past, the Miege delegates for Boys' and Girls' State have been chosen. The boys that will represent Miege are: Bob Latz, Dennis Kellerman, and Gary Fischer. Margee Adams and Anna D'Agostino will attend the girls convention.

Both conventions will be held at Kansas University in Lawrence. The boys will attend during the week of June 2-8, and the girls will follow from June

Alternates were also chosen in case someone will not be able to attend. These students are: Judy O'Connell and Bob Svoboda.

The sponsors for this annual event are the American Legion Auxiliary and the Bishop Miege PTO. The Rosedale Post 346 is the sponsor for the boys; and the girls will be backed by the Wyandotte Post.

Vietnam and Middle East Debated

The first Bishop Miege High School Model United Nations Assembly held sessions on Thursday, April 4, and again Tuesday, April 9.

Vietnam and the Middle East Crisis were topics of the debate presided over by Charlie Andreopoulos, president of the Assembly. A resolution on each issue was debated, voted on, and passed by the Assembly. A resolution is the solution to a problem.

The delegates were welcomed to the assembly by Mike Weilert, Secretary General, and introduced to the Assembly's parliamentarian, Jim Mattern, and head of the Secretariat, Anita Evjy.

Juniors and seniors from the government classes comprised the approximately 70 delegates representing nearly 40 countries.

SENIORS TAKE OVER

May 1 many seniors will take the first step toward a career as a teacher. This day is the traditional Senior Teach Day.

In order to qualify for the honor of teaching, the senior must have at least two credits in the department in which he wishes to teach, a "B" average, and a good record.

Seniors interested in participating must fill out applications, and a selection will then be made.

The Students Question

As the value of the dollar goes down, the price of religion goes up. Inflation has already driven the price up to $150 for 80 minutes of religion a week, and we wonder where it will end. It's not the money we're complaining about, but rather the lack of religious training the students here at Miege are receiving. It seems that the importance of religion is dwindling to the extreme that we now have religion at the convenience of the schedule and the teachers. Since the religion teachers themselves seem to assume a "liberal" approach in their presentations and discipline, then students should be allowed the freedom to choose to take or not to take the course.

Since the entire school is being evaluated this year, we felt it essential to bring this to the attention of the administration; for this is one area which has been sadly neglected. We consider our religion valuable, but apparently the faculty does not.

The Principal Responds

If the program of instruction in religion were the only purpose for the catholic school, then the price has truly gone up. In fact, when you include the 2½ million dollars it cost to build the school, then skyrocketed would be a better word.

But the program of instruction in religion is only a part of the over-all purpose. The catholic school system is an integral part of the civic enterprise to educate the young, and it represents the Church's commitment to this essential human task. In structuring the curriculum, the catholic school does not hold itself aloof from the human predicament; it identifies itself with the deepest aspirations of the human race. Further, the Church makes a unique contribution to the process of education through her vision of man's nature and his destiny; and it thereby illuminates man's knowledge of the world, of life, and of mankind.

In scheduling religion classes, the administration has to consider, first, the availability of religion teachers. Most adults are reluctant to accept this responsibility unless they have received sufficient formal training in this subject. In our circumstances, the only ones who have this background are the parish priests. But they are not available for full-time teaching because of their other parish duties. The only solution is the limited program which we have. The fact that religion is taught only twice a week creates a scheduling problem — not a convenience.

THE MIEGAN

Volume 10 No. 6

The day is probably coming when religion classes will be a free elective. But, for the moment, those who are responsible for your education are not yet willing to allow you to choose whether or not you want to study American History, mathematics, the Constitution of the U. S., literature, . . . or religion. I think you know why!

Flight of the Phoenix

A few weeks ago Miegians attended a special assembly which sparked a great deal of interest throughout the school. This assembly is the one at which we met Mrs. Betty Borgman, a member of the Quaker Action Organization of Philadelphia and the only woman in the delegation that took food and medical supplies to the people of North Vietnam. Here at Miege Mrs. Borgman explained what she did on the trip and why she felt she did the right thing. She also showed a film which was a documentary of the trip. During the next class period, some of the teachers allowed their students to return to the gym for a short question-and-answer period. During this time, Miegians could ask questions and express their views on the matter.

Some students were wholeheartedly in favor of what Mrs. Borgman believes in—others violently opposed her. But whether we liked her or not doesn't really matter. What is important is that Mrs. Borgman was invited to Miege so that we could form our own opinions.

The administration evidently realized that we deserve an unbiased presentation of both sides of a controversial topic, and they are obviously giving us a chance to think for ourselves. We appreciate the faith shown in us and hope that there will be many similar assemblies in the future.

Student Soundings

The school policy on assemblies must have reached a new low when the students were denied the right to question Mrs. Borgman for the sake of a meaningless ten minute second hour. The makeshift gathering during third hour of that day served as an obvious apology from the administration for the inflexibility of our "flexible" schedule.

Duchesne Singers Perform

On March 29, the Duchesne College Choir performed here at Miege. The program, with Leota Sneed Strong conducting and Thelma Stenlund accompanying, consisted of eight numbers. The first two numbers, "Prayer," and "The Maident of Sandomir," were from the opera Boris Gudenoff by Moussorgsky. The third number, "A Ceremony of Carols," by Britten, consisted of seven anonymous poems and songs in Middle English. The next number was "I Feel Pretty," from West Side Story. The program continued with "There was a Monkey," another selection from Britten. The seventh number was "Jazz Man," which they sang in honor of the Kansas City Jazz Festival. The final number was "You'll Never Walk Alone" by Rogers and Hammerstein II. The program was enjoyed by all.

Steve McGill, STUCO Vice-President, thanked the Choir for coming and expressed the wish that the choir would return. The College, however, is closing this August; so Miege was lucky to be included in the choir's final tour.

Evaluation by NCA

On April 2 and 3, many students probably noticed some strangers wandering through the halls. But before long, everyone knew that Miege had visitors from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Membership in the North Central Association is voluntary but certain requirements must be met. Some of these are: the submission of an annual report and an evaluation to be conducted every seven years.

The latter of these requirements was fulfilled when the team of thirteen members visited Miege. Their purpose was to observe and evaluate the school in all its aspects.

In order to accomplish this, the team members met with the teachers from each department on the first day and the second day consisted of conferences with students.

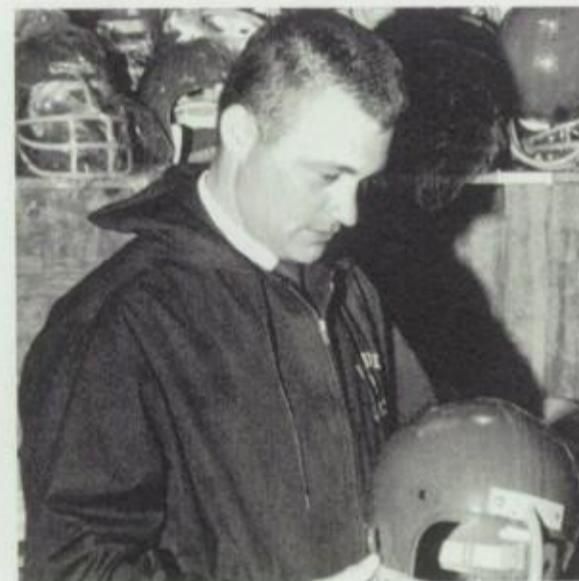

The three groups of students were chosen in this manner. The first group consisted of Student Congress members, the second was made up of club and class officers, while the third group was a random selection, taking eight students from each class.

As part of the "evaluation" of the Home Economics program, the second and third hour Gourmet classes prepared and served dinner for the team members on both days.

When the press is free and every man able to read, all is safe.

Let's Meet The New Coach

the excellent football program established by the past head coaches."

Coach Mohlman backs his beliefs with experience. Coach Mohlman participated in both football and baseball at Washburn. Upon graduation from college, he signed a professional baseball contract with the K. C. Athletics. After three years of professional baseball, Mr. Mohlman returned to Washburn as an assistant baseball coach and football coach. For five years, he remained in this position. Coach Mohlman then moved on to Centralia, a class B powerhouse in Northern Kansas. At Centralia, he compiled an amazing 14-2-1 record over two seasons, and produced two High School All-Americans, Junior Riggins and John Riggins. It was at this time that Bishop Miege acquired his services.

When Mr. Mohlman arrived at Miege, he coached the sophomores; thus, he is acquainted with the personnel that will make up his first varsity squad. This year he moved to assistant varsity coach and helped guide the Stags to a 7-2 record.

With just nine returning lettermen, the '68-'69 Stag gridders will lack experience when the season starts. Coach Mohlman, when asked about this, only said, "We haven't been beaten yet; and until someone superior proves different, we will remain this way."

Mr. Mohlman's philosophy is simple: "I accepted the head coaching responsibility because I believe in the continuation of the excellent football program established by past head coaches. The key and most important point that I want to express to the squad is that they need to work scholastically. Under no condition will my philosophy with regard to this change. As far as coaching goes, you are as good as the squad wants you to be; and they are as good as they make each other."

"I expect teamwork and this will only be accomplished by team discipline. The five ingredients for a successful football team are block, tackle, speed, communication, and belief, both players in coach and coach in players. Success next year will depend on the enthusiasm the boys will express on the field."

These are the qualifications and philosophies of our new head football coach, Lenny Mohlman. Surely with credentials and ideas like these, Miege football will continue to be in good hands.

Have You Heard?

"Hey, Con, have you heard the latest about Prom?"

"Do you mean the rumors about having a big name band?"

"No, I haven't heard anything about that — what's the deal?"

"Well, Jim Schumm said that they are really going to be 'out of sight'. I can't remember the name, but it is big — it has 23 letters in it. Get it?"

"I'm afraid so; that was really poor!"

"Yeah, so are they. The juniors spent practically all of their money getting the band."

"Oh, is that why they're having Prom in Renee Palermo's backyard?"

"Boy, Mary Jane that was original!"

"O.K. — but the juniors have really been working hard. They even elected their committee heads at the beginning of this month."

"Hey, that's really great. Who are they?"

"Let's see, Harry Satariano is head . . ."

"With a head like that who needs a body!"

"Let me finish, sub-committee heads are: Band — John Zigmeyer; Crown — Rita Kelly; Bids — Pat Rhoades. Cheryl Salash, Mark Portell, Kathy Lenihan, Mary Leittem, Mary Ann O'Connell, Jim Schumm, Andy Nelson, Kathy Jones, and Skip Hensler are the other heads, and I might have even forgotten a couple."

"I don't know if the Prom's gonna be any good — but they sure have enough people working on it!"

"I asked some juniors some ways to describe the theme, like compare it to a country — Kathy Lennihan said, 'Ice-land'."

"Hey, M.J., that sounds real cool."

"Hey, Con, that stunk."

"O.K. I'll shut up."

"Then I asked Michelle Moore to think of a teacher at school that Prom would be like and she said Mr. Frazier. And Rita Kelly said the theme reminded her of split pea soup."

"Boy, with this kind of material we should be able to write a real swell article!"

"O.K., O.K., one more thing though, this is a good clue: the theme has six words in it."

"Let's see I bet it's Mr. Frazier's Icelandic Split Pea Soup!"

"Hey, that has great possibilities. Maybe we can sell it to the juniors if they haven't decided one for sure yet!" (I bet you can hardly wait till May's issue and the final episode of our exciting adventures!)

Feature Teacher

Many students know Mr. Harry King as one of the two government teachers here at Miege. Mr. King, who has been teaching here for two years, majored in history and received his degree at U.M.K.C.

Mr. King was motivated to enter the teaching profession by both selfish and altruistic motives. Mr. King enjoys dealing with people and ideas. He also enjoys relating the past course of Human Events to the rapidly changing world of today. Mr. King thinks that todays young people are dynamic and important people to associate with. He hopes that he will be able to make some worthwhile contribution to the present welfare of the students he teaches.

When asked what he thought of Miege, he answered, "To sum it up, I think the administration, the faculty, and most of all you young people who make up the student body of Bishop Miege High School are nice people to spend the day with; and I am both happy and fortunate to share in the efforts of your school life."

Future Teachers Tutor

The Future Teacher's Club, headed by Judi Gamper, has undertaken the project of teaching St. Agnes Grade School for an hour during free activity periods on Tuesday and Thursday. Kathleen Wells, a senior member of the club, had the original idea. She and Judi, together with Sister Maureen, moderator of the club, coordinated the activities with Mrs. Margaret Montgomery, a tutor at St. Agnes. The members of the club decide on private or group tutoring in either spelling, math, or reading to any grade.

Those participating in the teaching are: Barb Glennon, Robbie Golub, Laura Manley, Dorothy Howard, Marjee Adams, Charlie Andreopoulos, Bob Stine, Don Schultz, Jack Acken, Kathleen Wells, and Judi Gamper.

DRAMA STUDENTS COMPETE

Saturday, March 30, several Miege students participated in the Shawnee Mission South Second Annual Speech and Drama Festival. Participating Miegeans and their categories were: Informative Speaking, Mary Stein and Mary Rose; Prose, Cheryl Quick and Chris Hayward; Duet Acting, Pam Bearss-Kathy Connolly and Debbie Johnston-Kathee Condry; Original Oration, Cathy Svoboda and Emily Brown; Dramatic Interpretation, Marilyn Thies; Poetry Interpretation, Sandy Roth and Cindy Meyer; Humorous Interpretation, Wes Hickman and Chris Hayward; Girls' Extemporaneous Speaking, Emily Brown.

Out of a possible forty-two entries in each division, twelve were chosen as semi-finalists. Five of Miege's entries were chosen: Mary Stein—Informative Speaking; Debbie Johnston and Kathee Condry — Duet Acting; Chris Hayward—Humorous Interpretation; Marilyn Thies — Dramatic Interpretation; Chris Hayward—Prose.

Three entries from Miege reached the final rounds of the tournament and were awarded medals for their accomplishments: Chris Hayward, Prose, sixth place; Marilyn Thies, Dramatic Interpretation, fifth place; Kathee Condry and Debbie Johnston, Duet Acting, sixth place.

BABY FACE

A happy baby — oh! so sweet!
He makes Biology complete.
His tests will take your breath away;
Don't stand in his path on report card day.
A ride in his Cadillac is really a fling,
He can dance, dance, dance, but he sure can't sing.
Whenever anyone's in need, he's ready on the scene;
Sophomores don't despair because next year you'll think he's keen.

In Ten Years...

Rich Cain will be receiving his diploma from Arkansas University.

Tom and Nancy Mayse will still be holding hands.

Wes Hickman will have won his third national gross-out championship in a row.

Coach Gannon will still be looking for a winning season.

There will be a gray-haired pumpkin in the office.

Tom Novick will be a man. Maybe!

Mike Riley will be sportcaster in Curtis McClinton's place.

Hank Bauer will be striking out for his dad.

The Junior Boys' Ensemble will be on the Ted Mack Amateur Hour.

Debby Wills will be a hippy.

Judy O'Connell will have learned to control her tongue.

Lois Ruhl will have a walking Cain.

Steve McGill will still be on the phone.

Kenny Knutson will be runner-up in the Golden Gloves Championship.

Greg Farrell will be playing professional football.

Don Carney will blow up the Empire State Building.

SUMMER JOBS OFFERED

Trinity Lutheran Hospital, 31st and Wyandotte, is looking for girls 14 years of age or older who would be interested in Candystriping service at Trinity. Training classes are held on three consecutive Saturdays at the hospital during April and May. Service in the hospital will begin immediately following the closing of school for summer vacation.

The Northeast Johnson County Recreation Association, Inc., is sponsoring a summer playground again this summer. Senior high (16 or over) and college students are needed to act as playground leaders. Instructors in the areas of tennis, baton twirling, cheerleading, arts and crafts, rhythms, music, and nature study are also needed. Playground activities include arts and crafts, music and rhythms, field trips, nature study, quiet and active games, field day, softball, field hockey, and special events.

Application forms for both candystriping and playground jobs are available in the guidance office.

"Twelfth Man" Successful

Here at Miege there is a group of girls who are very much responsible for the spirit and enthusiasm shown towards the sports program. These are the girls who make up the Pep Club. Deservingly named "The Twelfth Man" by former football coach Bob Frazier, the Pep Club consistently displays an interest and pep that is a very big part of Miege.

The Pep Club feels this year has been exceptionally good, and the Pep Club Officers and the cheerleaders would like to take this opportunity to thank each of the girls for making it such a success. The turn-out for football and basketball games was the best yet; a lot of credit for this goes to the pepsters. Pepsters from basketball season are: Seniors—Judy Gamper, Debbie Johnston, Lois Ruhl; Juniors—Marcia Hartzell, Martha Perkins, Cheryl Quick; Sophomores—Rita Charlton, Gwen Mehan, and Marilyn Miller. Also encouraging were the proceeds from the Pep Club's Auction at Mardi Gras which came to a total of $44.40.

Although it may seem that the Pep Club's work is finished—with football and basketball seasons having ended, the girls are still being kept plenty busy with the election of next year's Pep Club Officers and cheerleaders. All girls wishing to run for an office had to submit papers, no later than April 16, explaining their reasons for wanting the office and their qualifications; all girls trying-out for cheerleader attended a clinic from April 8 to the 10, with elimination board try-outs April 17. Both girls trying for cheerleader and girls running for an office must have a 'C' average and be a 'Member in good standing' of the Pep Club. Final elections will be held April 24, and the results of this will be announced at a Mixer on April 26.

Seniors in the Pep Club are busy investigating the choices for the Pep Club's annual gift to the school.

Also in the planning is a Sadie Hawkins Day Dance which will be held on May 17. The dance will be a WPA. All classes may attend, and outside dates may be asked. Music will be provided by the Classmen.

Profit made from this dance will help sponsor a Pep Club Conference which, hopefully, will be held at Miege during next fall. Both this year's and next year's officers and cheerleaders will head this event. Many area schools will be invited to the conference and combine their ideas and means of raising spirit in the school.

With football season, Homecoming, basketball season, and the Mardi Gras turning out so well, and with plans already underway for this summer and next year, it is no wonder that the Pep Club feels optimistic about how successful this year has been.

Film Schedule Changed

The National Honor Society has made one change in the schedule of films which was printed in the last issue of The Miegan. Mr. Hulot's Holiday, which was to be shown on May 1, has been replaced by Ingmar Bergman's The Seventh Seal. The film is a powerful story of a knight who, searching for meaning in life, plays a game of chess with Death.

Math Club Has Mixer

Tonight there will be a mixer sponsored by the Miege Math Club for all the students. This mixer is the first all-school function after the Lenten season, and all students are invited to come. The mixer will feature Melinda and the Misfits, and admission will be only $1.00.

Miegiants Meet Johnny Unitas

Recently Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts spoke to Miegiants during an assembly. This famed quarterback discussed the importance of a good education. He emphasized the many assets of doing well in both high school and college. He pointed out that not only is good academic standing necessary in order to get a good job but without it being accepted by the college of your choice is extremely difficult. He made an example of his own life by stating that he had himself been refused admittance by both Pittsburgh and Notre Dame. Later, though, he graduated from the University of Louisville in Kentucky with a Bachelor of Science degree.

"Spring goes." you say: "suns set." So be it! Why be glum? Enough, the spring has come.
James Cousins

More recently Johnny has been traveling nation wide on the behalf of Sears in order to impress on students the necessity of completing their education. The assembly was brought to a close with a brief and enjoyable preview of men's fashions by Sears fashion co-ordinator. Together with boys from other area schools, Pat Larkin and Mike O'Rourke modeled the fashions for the students.

PERCUSSION ENSEMBLE PERFORMS

On March 25, the students at Miege were given a real treat by the Junior Percussion Ensemble from the Conservatory of Music at U.M.K.C. The group, composed entirely of students of high school age and directed by Dr. J. C. Combs, performed several numbers and were well-received by their audience. Their first number, "Three Brothers," featured the tipani, the bongoes, and the tom-toms as the "three brothers" of the drum world. They next presented the final movement of Clifton Williams "Concertino for Percussion." "Penatonic Clock," a selection which made the listener feel as though he were in a small clock shop was next, followed by a 17th Century Victorian melody with a modern beat accompaniment called "Flat Baroque," by Bobby Christian.

A dance drum quintet called "Caprice for Five" was written by Mrs. Charmain Asher Wiley, the founder of the group. In it five boys, playing dance drums, performed both separately and together to show the many varied sounds that can be obtained from a set of drums. Featured later in the program was a tune familiar to everyone present, "A Taste of Honey." The final number, fittingly enough, was "Encore in Jazz," which they played after the final applause had died down.

The students in the ensemble are all of high school age, and they all take private music lessons at the Conservatory of Music at the University of Missouri in Kansas City. They meet on Saturdays and practice together for four hours each week for their performances.

Seniors Plan To Ditch

In past years, seniors have participated in a festival of fun, otherwise known as Senior Skip Day.

This year's seniors have already met with the administration to set a date for this event. Vice-Principal, Mr. Frazier, recommended a period of about two weeks which would be suitable; and from this, the seniors will choose a day to ditch.

The exact day has not yet been set; but when it is, the seniors guarantee that it will come as a complete surprise to the faculty and to the rest of the student body.

Choir Sings in Atchison

On Monday, March 18, the Miege choir traveled to Atchison for the annual Archdiocesan Music Day. The day began with a Bible Service consisting of Scripture readings by students of the Mount Academy and Maur Hill, and a homily on leadership given by Rev. Blain Schultz.

The rest of the morning and the first half of the afternoon were spent in rehearsals in preparation for the evening program.

The evening program began with four selections by the Archdiocesan Band, conducted by Mr. William Altomari. The next two pieces, "Requiem Aeternam" and "Bonnie Eloise," were performed by the Boys Chorus under the direction of Mr. Darryl Benne, who conducted all of the music sung by the combined choirs. Next came the Girls Chorus, who sang "Three Hungarian Folk Songs" and "Nocturn."

After the Girls' numbers came a performance by the Maur Hill Chorus which sang "Oklahoma" and "Poor Jud." Following the Maur Hill Chorus were the Hayden Madrigal Singers with their versions of "If I Had A Hammer" and "Let There Be Peace On Earth."

The next two pieces were instrumentals by the Bishop Ward Combo, conducted by Mr. Dennis Hord. These instrumentals were followed by "Vexilla Regis," "Ave Maria," "They Call The Wind Maria," and "She Walks In Beauty," which were sung by the Archdiocesan Chorus.

Although the Music Festival was for high school students, it was only fair for the home team to get equal time and that's just what happened in Atchison. The "Continents" from St. Benedict's College sang four selections. These selections were "Man And His World," the theme of "Expo '67," "Ave Maria," "This Old Hammer," and "My Lord What A Mornin."

The final number of the program was a beautiful piece entitled "Sine Nomine," which was performed by the Archdiocesan Chorus and Band.

Juniors Present Fashions

A fashion show, sponsored by the Junior class, was held Sunday, March 31, at 7:30 p.m. in the Miege gym. Emery Bird Thayer provided the latest in spring fashions for both girls and boys. Mickey Barry headed the committee that took care of all the arrangements.

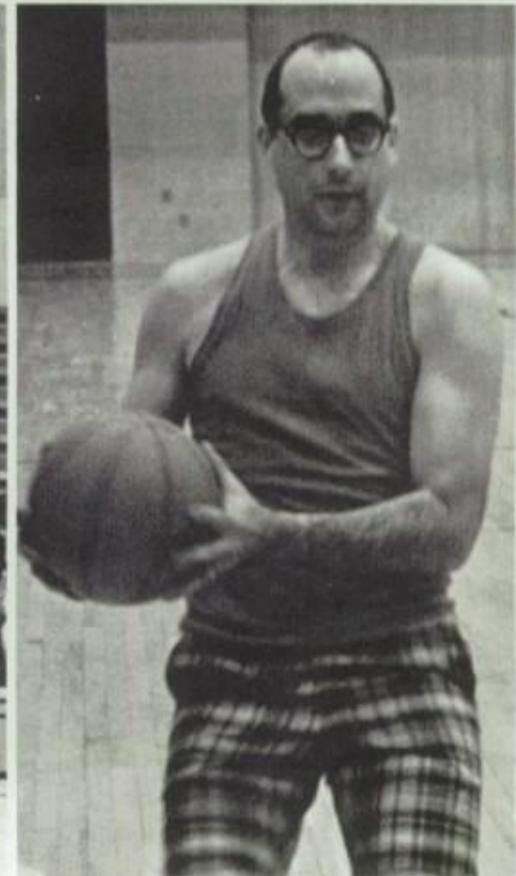

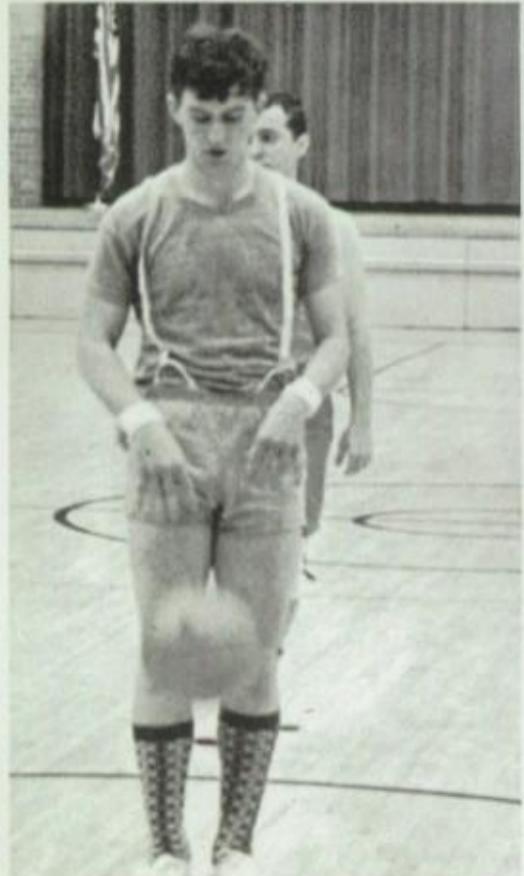

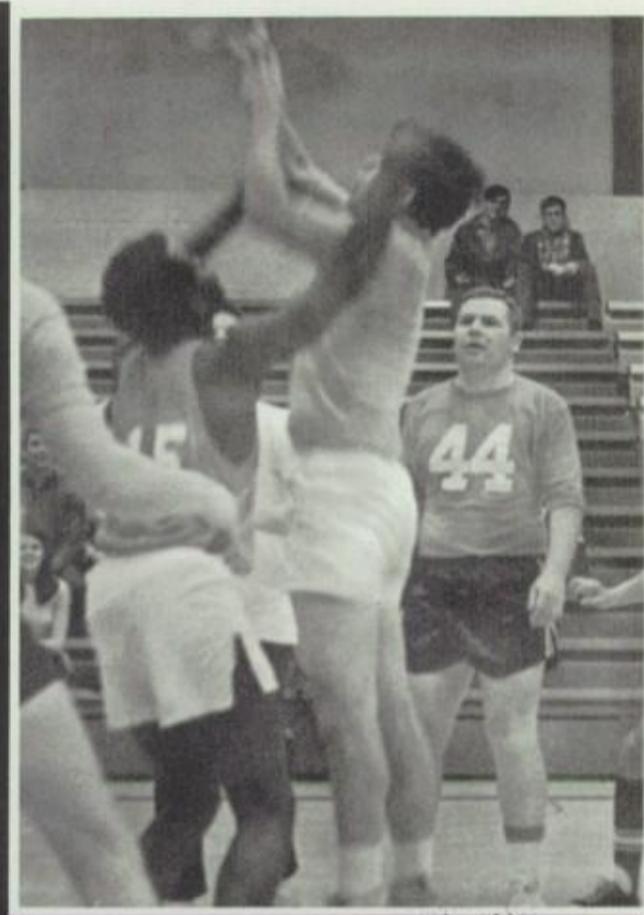

Tickets were a dollar each. The proceeds from the show were added to the Junior's Prom fund.

The Juniors modeling the dresses, suits, and formals were: Margee Adams, Kathy Grauberger, Debbie Sawyer, Nancy Irmel, Judy O'Connell, Karen Klein, Mickey Barry, Laura Hendricks, Barbara Ketter, Karen Mehan, Joanne Driscoll, Betsy Ritter, Ann Boyesen, Riva Coleman, Sabine Von Shack, Mary Lynn Dierks.

Jim Schumm, Bob Latz, Jerry Sutera, John Ziegelmeyer, and Larry Thies.

Golf Plans Completed

After many well-spent hours on the golf course, the Stag golf team is taking definite shape. Out of the more than thirty boys who tried out, the team now consists of eight regulars and four alternates.

The first eight consists of two four-man teams. The first team features Jim Myers, Tom Gleissner, Terry McGill and John Miller. On the second team are Pat North, Steve Davis, Paul Willey, and Tom Arnold.

Coach Buerman is quite confident that the team will do well, and he has even scheduled a meet in Ulysses, Kansas.

Two Lead Cindermen

Rich Cain and Mike O'Rourke, a pair of senior speedsters, have lead the Miege track team through the beginning of the season.

On March 30, at the State Indoor in Manhattan, O'Rourke and Cain combined to accumulate all the Stags' points. O'Rourke took third in the 70 yd. high hurdles with a time of 7.8 and Cain took a fifth in the shot-put with a throw of 51 $\frac{1}{2}$ ft.

In the first triangular against Leavenworth and Washington, the Stags as a team did not fare well; however, O'Rourke and Cain again had outstanding performances. Cain captured first places in the 100 yd. dash with a time of 10.5 and the shot-put with a throw of 47'9". He also took a second in the discus behind Jim Schumm. O'Rourke was not to be overshadowed as he won the 120 yd. high hurdles and took second in the 180 yd. low hurdles.

At the Ottawa Relays it was O'Rourke and Cain again who led the team to a third place finish. O'Rourke broke school records in the high and low hurdles with times of 15.1 and 20.4 respectively. Cain took 4th in the 100 and 3rd in the shot-put.

In the Miege Invitational, O'Rourke took first in the low hurdles and second in the high hurdles. Mike also took second in the open 440. In this meet Rick Cain took first in the discus and the 100 yd. dash and second in the shot-put. Behind the two Miege won the meet easily over six other schools.
